

MEANS THOUSANDS TO CITY

Ruling of Judge Dickinson in Tax Case of Jane S. Rogers.

ELATES ASSISTANT CITY ATTORNEYS

Effect Will Be to Estop Questioning Validity of Special Assessments Against Properties Sold Under Foreclosure.

In the case of Jane S. Rogers and The Union Trust company against the City Judge Dickinson made a ruling which greatly delights Assistant City Attorneys Adams and Morgan, who have been fighting for estoppel in the multitudinous tax cases which have been on for more than a year. They say that the ruling undoubtedly means thousands of dollars for the city.

The ruling is in substance that a party who purchases property at a foreclosure sale wherein special assessments have been shown by the appraisers as prior liens would be estopped to question the validity of such assessments, even though the party did not take advantage of the assessments shown and bid not only the two-thirds of the gross appraised value, but actually bid the full value as fixed by the appraisers.

The feature which distinguishes this from a ruling already obtained and which makes it so broad as to expeditious matters for the city's attorneys is the clause applying the estoppel to those who bid to the full appraised value instead of two-thirds. The court based its ruling on the decision of the supreme court in the case of Battelle against McIntosh, which was a tax foreclosure suit brought by Charles Battelle against J. H. McIntosh. McIntosh tried to defeat the assessments on the ground of their being invalid, but the court held that he having purchased at a foreclosure sale wherein the said assessments were shown by the appraisers, even though he bid more than the two-thirds of gross appraised value, still would be estopped to question the validity of the assessment shown.

Amount Saved to City. The assistant attorneys say that during the year 1901 there was turned into the city treasury more than $14,000 as a result of estoppel proceedings and that in addition they succeeded in establishing more than $20,000 of claims. For the first two and one-half months of this year they report also a combined total of $25,000 and expect it to easily reach $100,000 for the year.

"This ruling of Judge Dickinson," they said yesterday, "will assist us greatly. People were already getting into line and now they will fairly scramble to do so. Already one attorney has given up a fight against us that involved not less than $7,000 in taxes."

"In origin some of these cases trace back as far as 1885, but the most of them are incidental to the improvement epidemic of 1887-1893. In some instances there has seemed to be hardship worked upon some property owners of good intent, but there can only be applied the general rule that when improvements have been made in a certain locality these improvements should be paid for by that locality and the property owners not allowed to so evade the payment of the special tax that eventually the improvement will have to be paid for by the city to beat the city out of the amount deducted, making the amount of the city's clean profit on the deal. That this has been worked successfully is shown by the fact there are in Omaha today a considerable number of cases who are regularly and openly speculating in this way."

BOOK COMPANY MAN IS HERE

Interviews Principals and Teachers in Regard to United States History.

S. B. Todd, general agent of the American Book company, with headquarters in Minneapolis, is in the city investigating the report of the objection raised to the history in use in the public schools of the city. Mr. Todd's regular territory includes the states of Minnesota and the Dakotas, but he was selected to look after the Omaha situation on account of his familiarity with the book in question. He arrived in the city two days ago and since that time has been interviewing teachers and principals in the schools, later turning his attention to the members of the school board.

To the members he said that the teachers and the principals had generally expressed themselves as pleased with the book, but that many of them had said that under the existing division of time it was impossible to bring out its best features. The question of retaining the history in the schools will be one of the important ones before the committee on course of study during the coming vacation and an effort will undoubtedly be made to have it retained.

Mr. Todd will in future have charge of the business of the company in Omaha, succeeding Mr. Wedgwood, who for some time has had charge of the Omaha business in common with that of the state of Nebraska.

How to Prevent Pneumonia. You have good reason to fear an attack of pneumonia when you have a severe cold, accompanied by pain in the chest or in the back between the shoulders. Get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it as directed and it will prevent the threatened attack. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for colds and influenza, we have yet to learn of a single case that has resulted in pneumonia, which shows that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease.

OMAHA SCHOOLS AND ECONOMY

Organization is Foot-Heavy as Well as Top-Heavy Just at Present.

OMAHA, March 12.—To the Editor of The Bee: I am very much interested in what The Bee says about the Omaha schools. Too much money is spent for naught. Our schools were accused of being "top-heavy." I agree with The Bee in regarding them also "foot-heavy." The kindergarten business is vastly overdone. I have yet to see any proof, beyond mere assertion, that a child at the age of 10 years is any the worse for having missed the kindergarten. Take two children of the same capacity and circumstances; let one have kindergarten from 5 to 6, let the other run freely until 6 years old. Let them both have the same advantages from 6 to 10. The former will show no superiority at that age. Yet I think the kindergarten ought to be in some places. The poorer children, who have little home training or comforts, ought to be accommodated. That the city should be taxed for nurseries on so large a scale as to desire such luxuries for their children is sought to pay for them privately. The Bee is no doubt right in saying that somebody is subsidized by the book concern. At the time when much was said about the "retainer" of $35 to recommend certain books, I incidentally heard quite another story. It came to me via a mature and quite efficient teacher. She said: "My cousin was in the school board. It was a few years ago. One evening he said to me: 'Today I could have made $2,500 easily.' 'Why didn't you?' 'I don't want to make it that way.' A book man promised him as royalty if I would get his books into the Omaha schools. I emphatically declined.' The books went in, however. They were highly recommended by another. Someone no doubt was willing to take the $2,500. Who received the money I know not. But who would be the money that while there must be big fish to be caught somewhere ($2,500 one) it is a pity to waste much time over the small fry ($5 follows). The Bee's work, united to the late efforts of the board, will bear fruit. I am always deeply interested in the proper education of the young. Yours, L. GROH, Pastor St. Mark's, Twenty-First and Burdette Streets.

NEW STUDY FOR PROSECUTOR

Mr. Thomas Will Look Up Text Books on "Chickens" for a Few Days.

"Can an egg be identified when it looks like other eggs, and is there any difference between eggs laid by hens of the same breed?" This compound question has arisen in police court over the prosecution of Henry Letchenberg, who was arraigned yesterday morning charged with stealing several dozen eggs. Henry sprang the question on the judge immediately after pleading not guilty and demanded an answer. "All eggs that look alike are alike to me, and I never saw any egg except a bantam's that looked different," said Henry, "and I shall expect the prosecution to prove to whom these eggs belong and have the owner identify them; also that the eggs found in my pocket were not laid there by a hen; also that I was not making an incubator of myself to assist some overworked ambitious hen who desired to spring the first flock of spring chickens. I am not guilty and don't expect to believe I am until all these points are proven."

Prosecutor Thomas asked for a continuance until he could study up on "chickens." Henry sprang the question on the judge immediately after pleading not guilty and demanded an answer. "All eggs that look alike are alike to me, and I never saw any egg except a bantam's that looked different," said Henry, "and I shall expect the prosecution to prove to whom these eggs belong and have the owner identify them; also that the eggs found in my pocket were not laid there by a hen; also that I was not making an incubator of myself to assist some overworked ambitious hen who desired to spring the first flock of spring chickens. TAKE OUT HUNTING PAPERS

Prominent Citizens Secure Licenses to Hunt and Fish in Other Counties.

In the last two months 131 hunting and fishing licenses have been purchased of the county clerk, and more than 100 of these have been taken out during March, though the number is less than two weeks old. Among those who have plunked down their dollar each during the last few days have been Judge W. H. Munger of the United States court, Judge Vinsonhaler of the county court, George Hoagland, Charles Ogden, Frank J. Burdick, E. P. Smead, C. F. Bradford, and the redoubtable "Buck" Keith, whose long suit in the way of game is decoy ducks or sale bills on country fences.

One license for $10 was issued, but this was to Richard H. Kent of Sioux city, who wished to try his luck in this state. The dollar licenses are for Nebraskans who wish to enter other counties than their own to hunt or fish.

Children Like It

"My little boy took the croup one night," says F. D. Reynolds of Mansfield, O., "and grew so bad you could hear him breathe all over the house. I thought he would die, but a few doses of One Minute Cough Cure relieved and sent him to sleep. That's the last we heard of the croup. One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts at once. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, asthma and bronchitis."

Announcements of the Theaters. At the Trocadero, where the Cracker Jack Barbeque are playing a week's engagement, the attendance has been good, in spite of the prevailing warm weather. The program presented is a most diversified one, including such well recognized features as the taro Rocco, the Haydens, John J. Welch and Myrtle Franks. The last we heard of the croup. One Minute Cough Cure is absolutely safe and acts at once. For coughs, colds, croup, grip, asthma and bronchitis."

CHANCE TO SUPPLY INDIANS

Omaha Will Enjoy New Advantages in Bidding for Contracts.

PROPOSALS MAY BE FOR LOCAL DELIVERY

Bidders at Depot Nearest Indian Agencies to Be Given Preference Where All Other Conditions Are Equal.

Superintendent Jordan of the Indian supply depot has received blank proposals for the sale of goods to the Indian bureau and they are ready for delivery to those who desire to bid. Omaha has secured one advantage it did not possess last year, and that is the right of bidders to specify Omaha delivery on all supplies, with the exception of those to be delivered at the various agencies in addition to this the commissioner of Indian affairs has given Omaha an advantage over other cities by stating that, all other things being equal, preference will be given to bids specifying delivery at the depot closest to the agencies having only one, taking all of the agencies together, and therefore it is considered that bidders from this city will have that condition in their favor.

The dealers in the goods required by Indians, which include about every line represented in a wholesale way in Omaha, are to make an extraordinary effort to secure contracts for this city. Steps are now being taken which may result in a combined effort in the way of a display of samples. This city can now bid on matches, of which the Indians require about 500,000 boxes a year. The Omaha match factory will be in the contest, and having only one competitor will stand a good chance of securing a contract.

What the Indians Want

The main items for Omaha delivery this year are 350,000 pounds of bacon, 100,000 pounds of pearl barley, 230,000 pounds of beans, 200,000 pounds of coffee, 730,000 pounds of sugar, 104,000 pounds of rolled oats, 42,000 gallons of syrup, 325,000 pounds of meat, 2,100 gallons of vinegar, 57 barrels of mess pork, 47,000 pounds of rice, 30,000 pounds of hominy, 100,000 pounds of cornmeal, 20,000 pounds of cracked wheat, 1,230 dozen cans of lye, 38,000 pounds of baking powder, 66,000 pairs of shoes of various kinds and sizes, 9,000 pairs of over-shoes.

In addition to this the volume of hardware, builders' supplies, machinery, vehicles and general supplies is very large and on almost every item Omaha bidders will be represented.

An effort was made by the Omaha Commercial club to interest manufacturers as well as wholesale dealers. It will try to secure a bid from the starch and oatmeal factories at Nebraska City, and in other lines the Nebraska factories will be pushed to the front. All bids will be opened at 225 Johnson street, Chicago, the taking of bids in New York having been discontinued. April 15 is the date for opening bids.

GEORGE McPHERSON INSANE

Well Known Colored Musician Accused Policemen of Having Taken His Soul.

Prof. George McPherson, the well known colored musician, became suddenly insane at an early hour yesterday morning and was locked up at the police station. McPherson came to the station unattended and in a state of great excitement, demanding to know the whereabouts of Officer Cullen. "He has my soul," exclaimed the musician, "and I want it. He has it in his body and I am ruined without it. Why should he have two souls and I have none?" McPherson was promptly locked up and at intervals during the morning he demanded the return of his soul.

McPherson came to Omaha ten years ago from Ohio and immediately became prominent as a musician. He organized a large class and has been prosperous. He spent many years in Boston, where he secured his musical education, and it is said by his friends that in that place he was a great favorite. Several years ago he went insane and spent some time in an asylum in Illinois. He has no family and for some time has roomed near Thirteenth and Burt streets, at the long hair run by Mrs. Fairfax. Friends of the man have been notified and until they make some arrangements for keeping him he will be held at the police station.

WILL DECORATE HIGH SCHOOL

Art Department of Women's Club Quits Library Because Plans Were Called For.

The art department of the Women's club has decided to abandon its plans for the decoration of the children's room of the public library and instead for the present to devote its efforts toward beautifying the walls of the new high school building. This decision was reached at yesterday's meeting of the department, and was based upon a letter from the library board thanking the women for their decoration of the room in the past, but requesting that their plans for future decorations be submitted for the endorsement of the board.

A year ago the library board gave the department permission to decorate the children's room, and the women at that time placed a number of fine pictures there. On February 22 they signed Nebraska's full length portrait of Washington, and a few weeks ago had ordered a cast of "Diana and the Stag," of heroic size, to cost $100, to be placed in the center of the room. Rather than submit their judgment to revision of the library board it was decided yesterday to discontinue the plan of decoration of the cast and turn attention to the new high school building.

ROBERT SIGNS THE PLEDGE

Then Judge Baxter Sentences Him to Two Years' Hard Work for Forgery.

Robert Lafferty has signed the pledge. He did so yesterday afternoon to obtain the clemency of Judge Baxter when the latter was about to sentence him for forging the name of Sam Adler, a second-hand dealer on South Tenth street, February 8, the amount of the debt being $12.75. Lafferty pleaded guilty and said he was drunk when he committed the crime. The judge drew up a pledge never to drink spirits, malt or vinous liquors again and Robert signed it. Then the judge gave him two years at hard labor in the county jail. Lafferty is mentioned to go to Lincoln and sit no more. The pledge was filed with the other records of the case. Lafferty came from Madison, Wis. recently.

WALKER WALKS TO TROUBLE

Now the Question is Whose Pants Did Walker Go Walking In.

Harry M. Walker asks the city of Omaha to pay for a pair of pants, but doesn't say whose pants they were. He mailed a claim for $12.50 to the common council and the council has referred it to the city attorney. Judge Cockrell is now spending his days and nights scrutinizing persons whose nether garments are new.

With the claim came an explanation of how it happened. Harry wrote that in the evening of February 13 he was walking along Fifteenth street between Dodge and Capitol avenue "without knowledge" and that he caught his foot on a fourteen-foot timber 6x6, which lay across the sidewalk and which caused him to fall with such force and violence as to tare his pants and hat so as to render them entirely worthless and also giving me a severe shock by said fall.

The problem that confronts the city is a serious and complicated one. By the use of the first person singular pronoun, Walker implies that Walker himself was the walker who walked, who fell and who suffered the shock. But by switching in the middle of the sentence to a use of the third person singular, he establishes that it was some other person's trousers that were torn. Now, if the trousers were not Walker's, how came Walker to walk in them? Or, was it some other walker who was walking in them when Walker walked that way and fell and tore them. And if so, how could one walker, for instance, Walker himself, tear the trousers on another walker walking the same walk at the same time, but not with the same legs?

These are some of the problems which have been raised for the city's legal adviser, in the present case. Walker himself, claim, and which must be disposed of before Walker can receive any compensation.

UNION DEPOT FOR FREMONT

Elkhorn and Union Pacific Decide to Build New and Costly Station.

It was stated at Fremont, Elkhorn & Missouri Valley railroad headquarters yesterday morning that no doubt longer existed regarding the building of a union depot at Fremont by the Elkhorn and Union Pacific roads.

Very little revision of either track or yards will be required for the consolidation, as the site of the two lines is now nearly perfect for such an arrangement. They come into the town and through the depot space east and west, with the Union Pacific only a few rods south of the Elkhorn track. The station will be an effort will be made by the Omaha Commercial club to interest manufacturers as well as wholesale dealers. It will try to secure a bid from the starch and oatmeal factories at Nebraska City, and in other lines the Nebraska factories will be pushed to the front. All bids will be opened at 225 Johnson street, Chicago, the taking of bids in New York having been discontinued. April 15 is the date for opening bids.

President Burt and General Manager Bidwell of the two roads have had several conferences on the matter of late, and now they are located at the corner of the street. Some difficulty is being experienced in securing just the site desired, but if this cannot be obtained the station will be built on Elkhorn ground, the Union Pacific being agreeable to such a proposition in case the emergency arises.

Until he arranged the details of the building will not be gone into, but the general idea of both roads is to build something handsome, roomy and substantial, at an expense of about $50,000.

RALPH MAY SUCCEED COFFMAN

Mayor Moore, However, Remains Mute on the Health Commissioner Question.

Friends of Dr. J. B. Ralph say that they see in him the successor to Dr. Victor Coffman as health commissioner of the city of Omaha and the indications are that their assertion is well grounded. They argue that for this promotion he has equipped himself by his long service in the subordinate position and that he is the logical man for the place.

Mayor Moore still remains mute, except to say that the name of his appointee probably will be well known at his next meeting, but it is thought that if Dr. Ralph is so promoted the plan will be to appoint as his successor some young doctor of the proper qualifications.

As physician at the Emergency hospital Dr. H. G. Strause, a practitioner of nearly middle age, has been appointed.

CARPENTERS MAKE NEW SCALE

Only Change Provides for Double Time Saturday Afternoons, Sundays and Holidays.

A special meeting of the Carpenters' union was held yesterday for the purpose of preparing a scale for the coming season. No change was made in the usual wages, but it was provided that all overtime work and all work done Saturday afternoon, Sunday and legal holidays should be paid for at the rate of double time instead of time and a half as was the rule last year. This is done for the purpose of insuring the Saturday half-holiday, and there is a penalty upon the members of the union, as well as upon the employers, for working that part of the day.

It is not believed that there will be any trouble in securing the approval of the wage scale by the employers, as business prospects are so bright that neither side can afford to have trouble.

HAS BABIES TO GIVE AWAY

New York Society Sends More Tots into Nebraska for Good Homes.

The New York Children's Aid society continues to send homeless waifs to Nebraska. Yesterday B. W. Tice, western agent for the society, and Miss A. A. Bogardus, nurse and caretaker, passed through Omaha with eleven tots, ranging in age from 6 months to 12 years. This detachment is headed for Lyons, Neb., where the children will be given away to responsible parties.

This is the fourth group of youngsters that has been distributed to Nebraska within the last three months. The children are taken from the gutters of New York City, placed in orphan homes and properly trained, and then brought out to decent western homes. Several agents are kept busy placing them, taking one little colony and then another.

GIVES UP BIG CONVENTION

Auditorium Company Will Do Nothing for Christian Church People.

WILLING TO LET MEETING GO ELSEWHERE

Committee from Church People Makes Requests for Financial Assistance Which Are Turned Down by Auditorium Directors.

By a unanimous vote yesterday the board of directors of the Auditorium company decided that it could do nothing toward providing for the entertainment of the Christian church convention and adopted a resolution expressing the sentiment that the convention should not be brought to Omaha this year.

This action was taken after a subcommittee from the general church committee had appeared with a request for alterations in the Coliseum building involving an expenditure of about $4,000, the alterations to consist of partitions, sounding boards and permanent seats.

The committee further recommended the appointment of a joint committee to raise $10,000 for the entertainment of the delegates. The question was discussed at length, and the unanimous sentiment was that someone connected with the board had made unwarranted assurances to the convention in Minneapolis and that, as one member expressed it, "The Commercial club had made a note and the Auditorium company had intimated it."

The membership of the auditorium board personally promised to endeavor to raise $1,000 to pay the present expenses of the general church committee in case it would be found advisable to take the convention to another city.

President Sanborn was not present at the meeting, having gone to Marshalltown, Ia., Wednesday night.

FRANCIS SCOUTS THE STORY

Burlington Passenger Official Denies that He is to Be Transferred to Chicago.

General Passenger Agent John Francis of the Burlington railroad yesterday scouted the story that he was soon to be transferred to Chicago as general passenger agent of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy line, printed in a local newspaper.

"As far as I know, there is no foundation for the report," said Mr. Francis. "It was published without my knowledge or authority, and I think it is a pipe dream. I have not heard a word from Chicago or anywhere else regarding such a change in my position."
