DEBATE ON RATE BILL

Measure Has Absolute Right of Way in Senate This Week.

SENATOR M'CREARY WILL SPEAK TODAY

Elkins, Spooner, Lodge, McLaughlin and Foster Are Preparing Speeches.

AMENDMENTS UNDER CONSIDERATION

Republicans Who Oppose Bill Will Work for Review Feature.

DEMOCRATS WILL ASK FOR CHANGES

Senator Tillman is Preparing a Section to Prevent Suspension of New Rates Pending Appeals.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The debate on the railroad rate bill will continue in the senate this week. The prospect is that this bill will more completely monopolize attention this week than it did last, for while under the original arrangement the rate bill could not be taken up until 2 o'clock each day, its consideration can now be deferred upon Senator Tillman's present policy every day as long as the routine business, such as the introduction of bills and presentation of reports, is concluded. Mr. Tillman has announced his purpose of pressing the consideration of this bill to the exclusion of everything else when any one is prepared to speak on it.

"And," he said, "when there is no one ready to speak I shall ask the senate to proceed to vote upon the measure." That, however, he will not be unreasonable in this respect was shown by the fact that he agreed on Thursday to take a recess there until Monday because, notwithstanding the fact that he would be speaking on the bill before the final vote shall be taken, no speeches had been prepared. It is the intention to give every one who really wants to speak an opportunity to do so, but if when all the speeches are made there should seem to be a disposition to adjourn final action this effort will be abandoned.

McCreary Speaks Today.

The speech-making during the present week will be inaugurated on Monday by a speech by Senator McCreary of Kentucky. A number of senators will be heard during the week in formal speeches, but the order of delivery has not yet been determined. Among those who are preparing speeches are Messrs. Elkins, Spooner, Lodge, Foster and McLaughlin. Senator Spooner will discuss the legal aspects of the subject, dealing especially with the question of review of the findings of the Interstate Commerce commission, by the United States court. Senator Lodge will devote himself especially to the presentation of his reasons for desiring the enlargement of the commission, as outlined in his amendment. In all probability most of the speeches will precipitate running debates, as did Mr. Hayden's address of last Wednesday. In fact, the speaker will be invited to discuss the amendments made on the floor of the senate, and from this time forward very few speeches will be permitted to escape without interruption.

Amendments in Preparation.

Though much attention is being given to the presentation of the merits of the question pro and con, a still larger number of senators are devoting themselves even more assiduously to the preparation of amendments to the bill. The republican senators, who do not accept the house bill, are concentrating their efforts upon a review proposition, and they have practically agreed on the fifth section of Senator Knox's substitute for the pending bill as the basis of their amendments. This section authorizes the taking of any matter decided by the Interstate Commerce commission to the United States circuit courts and requires the railroad companies to deposit the difference between their own rates and the rates fixed by the commission, pending the final adjudication of each particular case. Senator Spooner has an amendment along the same lines, but it goes into greater detail and the indications are that much of his phraseology may be accepted.

The Democrats are working in the main along the same lines to secure an amendment which shall prohibit the lower courts from suspending rates fixed by the commission. Senator Tillman is giving his special attention to modifications which will prohibit the railroad companies from owning the commodities which they carry.

Lieutenant General Bill.

The national house of representatives will begin the week by disposing of the bill abolishing the grade of lieutenant general in the army, over which a filibuster was in progress when adjournment was taken Friday night. The balance of Monday will be given to the passage of minor bills under suspension of the rules. Thursday has been set apart for the consideration of war claims. The other four legislative days Mr. Tamm, chairman of the appropriations committee, predicts will be required to complete the consideration of the legislative appropriation bill, which was before the house last week.

Should this bill pass sooner, Chairman Overstreet will at once bring in the post-office appropriation bill which has been completed by his committee and make it the order of business. The general post-office bill will require something like a week as the question of railway mail subsidies will doubtless provoke discussion. Although the program has not been disturbed it is expected the statehood bill will be brought into the house on Wednesday and disposed of.

Agreement Expected at Algieras.

The fact that the international Moroccan conference at Algieras has adjourned until March 29 has given rise to hope among the influential national reports that the scale and Germany will in the meantime reach a basis of accord. At Algieras the symptoms of agreement are considered more favorable where the representatives of neutral nations are energetically endeavoring to influence mutual concessions.

Blatant Coal Situation.

Blatant operators to the number of about 200 are expected to arrive in Indianapolis today to confer with the United Mine Workers of America. The situation in the threatened coal strike appears to be unchanged, the outcome now being entirely in the hands of the miners. The Ryan resolution having been practically rescinded and the reports of the scale committee being favorable there is every indication that conservatism will govern the final deliberations of the miners and operators.

MORAL INSANITY PLEADED

Englishman with American History Ends Life and Starts New Theory of Crime.

NEW YORK, March 18.—(Special Cablegram Bee.)—Revelations of an extraordinary character have been made in connection with the suicide and attempted murder of George Bevan Emmett, son of H. Emmett of Liverpool.

It will be remembered, that his sweetheart, Miss Margaret Hay, daughter of a retired Liverpool architect the sister of Dr. John Hay, a well known medical specialist of Liverpool, afterwards committed suicide.

At the inquest remarkable evidence was given suggesting that the young man was suffering from moral insanity and that the crime was the result of the disease. It is stated that the home office, which has lately taken up the study of crime as a disease, has taken the case for special study by experts, and minute examinations are to be made of Emmett's brain and into his behavior.

The first witness at the inquest was Dr. John Hay, the brother of the injured girl. His sister, he said, became engaged to the young man three years ago, and in consequence of what was told him by Prof. Emmett, he concluded to marry her, and she came to the conclusion that she was suffering from moral insanity.

"I then suggested to Prof. Emmett that his son should be examined by Dr. W. W. W. of Rainhill asylum," continued Dr. Hay. "That eminent specialist recommended that young Emmett should be given work in the open air and agreed with me in my opinion."

Prof. Emmett himself went into the witness box and told a painful story. His dead son, who had been sympathetic and affectionate, he said, had other traits which troubled the professor to such an extent that what he knew of the engagement with Miss Hay he conveyed to the suspicion of a tendency to moral insanity to her brother.

The result was that Emmett went to America and worked for a time on a farm and then in a bank at Portland, Ore.

Soon after he left the engagement was broken off. Miss Hay was almost broken-hearted, and to hide her grief took refuge in a hospital at Edinburgh. There she fell in love with the minister of a Congregational church; they became engaged and she returned home.

Emmett heard of this and a fortnight ago, without warning his parents, arrived at home. He was depressed and the professor lost his son alive a few hours before the suicide and the attempted murder near Upton. On account of the prominence of the persons and the fact that the home secretary is investigating the disease-made crime theory the case attracts great attention.

BRITISH POPULAR IN SPAIN

Coming Wedding of King Meets Approval of All Classes in Kingdom.

MADRID, March 18.—(Special Cablegram to the Bee.)—One striking effect of the approaching royal wedding is the widespread love of everything English. It has been recalled that British popularity in Spain is a recent feeling in Spain. In this connection a popular refrain of the eighteenth century running, "War with all the world and peace with England," is quoted.

The royal stables contain some fine English and Irish horses, bearing such names as Fry, Pretty, Big Ben, and others being the names of the stallions. Foot ball has now become quite popular, not only among some of the aristocracy, but in popular schools. The king offers a cup for the annual championship. Polo has been played for the last three years. Since the visit of Princess Ena to Biarritz golf has become a popular sport, and the game has become comparative universal here.

It is hoped that the rigid court etiquette maintained by Queen Christina will be relaxed by the English queen. Spanish ladies of the court especially wish for more personal freedom.

The principal shops have placed large signs for the occasion, and handkerchiefs in English colors. "Princess Ena's fancy cakes and pastries are also being sold. English literature is also becoming quite a fashion in this country, especially that portion of it which affects the society of the court.

ANCIENT TRAGEDY UNEARTHED

Caverns Containing Skeletons and Armor Are Found by Laborers in Ireland.

DUBLIN, March 18.—(Special Cablegram to the Bee.)—While digging on land owned by Roscommon a laborer discovered a cavern with an arched roof about six feet in depth. From this a narrow winding passage led to an old castle about a quarter of a mile distant. The underground passage is in the rock, and some of the walls bear traces of inscriptions. "Princess Ena's fancy cakes and pastries are also being sold. English literature is also becoming quite a fashion in this country, especially that portion of it which affects the society of the court.

INDIA LIKES MORLEY LETTER

All Concerned Welcome Arrangement to Settle Friction Between Army and Civilians.

CALCUTTA, March 18.—(Special Cablegram to the Bee.)—The dispatch of Mr. Morley to the army administration is regarded here as being of the nature of a compromise. Lord Kitchener and the government of India have accepted this latest dispatch as the final settlement of the question and they are taking immediate steps to introduce the arrangements ordered.

All concerned welcome the new arrangement because it is believed to put an end to the injurious uncertainty and friction which has obtained between the army and the civil governments, and they profess themselves resolved to co-operate loyally to render it a success. Both sides hold that with the goodwill they are prepared to accord it will work, though neither party obtained all that it desired.

Nacionistas En Route Home.

BELGRADE, Servia, March 18.—Six hundred Macedonian emigrants left today for the United States by way of Fiume. All of them possessed sufficient funds to permit their entering the United States.

POLICY HOLDERS PROTEST

Samuel Untermyer Writes Strong Letter to President of New York Life.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the international policyholders committee of the New York Life Insurance company, sent a letter today to Alexander B. Orr, president of the New York Life, protesting in the name of the policyholders against what he terms the extraordinary effort that is being made by the officers of the company to obtain proxies for the annual election which is to be held early in April.

Mr. Untermyer's letter explains the objection of the committee and declares that no election should be held until legislation affecting the insurance business is passed.

Addressing Mr. Orr, Mr. Untermyer says that as the representative of upwards of 50,000 policyholders in the company he has been instructed to protest in their behalf against the extraordinary use that is being made by you and your officers to bring the agency force of the company, which is being pressed into the service of soliciting proxies for the re-election of yourself and associates as directors at enormous expense to the policyholders.

Agents Collecting Proxies. "I am informed," the letter continues, "that within the past few days you sent out from your head office to your entire agency force throughout the country telegrams urging them to collect proxies. I have before me one of a number of printed letters and circulars issued from your head office signed by the cashier of your company with an accompanying form of proxy addressed to policyholders, enclosing a biography of each of the directors and officers whom you seek to elect, including yourself. This proxy is to Messrs. John Claffin, Oscar S. Strauss and Clarence H. Mackay, of whom biographies are also enclosed, printed at the expense of the policyholders.

"If these documents have been sent to policyholders of this company for postage they would be about $20,000 and the cost of printing as much more. How you justify such expenditures, to say nothing of the manifest impropriety of such action at this juncture, I fail to understand.

"These documents are coming to us in great numbers and are being distributed with the request that our committee take some action to prevent you thus wasting the money of the policyholders in the attempt to return yourself to office."

Judge Hamilton Goes to New York.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18.—Judge Andrew Hamilton said tonight that he expected to go to New York tomorrow to remain two or three days. He would not say what were his intentions on this visit of whether he would see any member of the Fowler committee, which has been investigating the internal affairs of the New York Life. Friends of Judge Hamilton here express doubt as to his going before the committee, questioning the propriety of his submitting himself to men whom he has characterized as he did the New York Life trustees in his speech before the legislative committee last week.

Judge Hamilton tonight expressed the opinion that when the bill proposed by the Armstrong committee are reported they should contain a provision that no trustee legislated out of office next November, as recommended by the committee, shall be eligible for re-election until a full year has elapsed.

"The propriety of this is obvious," said Judge Hamilton, "and I believe a demand for it is coming to a head. You know we have adopted from the English common law the precaution that no sheriff can be re-elected until a term of service has elapsed. The Fowler committee, which is a trustee of a life insurance company, that the sheriff exercise, such an immense amount of power that he could at will command his re-election. So with the trustees, they are in a position that they could by favoring one and persecuting another command proxies to secure their re-election if they see fit. This should be prevented by making their re-election illegal.

"I note that some of these gentlemen in New York state that they do not know me. It certainly seems strange that any man should be in a position to spend very large sums of the money of which they are the legal guarantors for a term of years and yet be totally unknown to them."

DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Abigail Williams Clark.

FREMONT, Neb., March 18.—(Special.)—The funeral of Mrs. Abigail Williams Clark was held from her late residence at Eleventh and I streets this afternoon. Rev. H. B. Fisket of the Baptist church conducted the services assisted by Rev. W. H. Buse of the Congregational church. Mrs. Clark was born in Providence, R. I. in 1820 and was a direct descendant of Roger Williams, the founder of that colony. She was married in Ohio in 1843 and in 1860 came to this country with her husband and family. She was the mother of six daughters, all of whom survive. Her body was buried in Ridge cemetery beside that of her husband, who died nearly forty years ago.

William W. Baughman.

DUNLAP, Ia., March 18.—(Special.)—The funeral of William W. Baughman, who died suddenly of heart failure, will occur Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Methodist Episcopal church. He was born March 18, 1827, in Ohio. He married Sarah Ann Hill at Nottle, Ind., and was the father of eight children, of whom six survive, Mary E. Stockton, David, Anna D. Stockton, Mrs. C. J. Lynched for Stealing a Cow.

PLAQUEMINE, La., March 18.—William Carr, a negro, was lynched at Bayou Plaquemine last night for stealing and killing a cow. Constable Walter Martineaux and Y. M. Patureau, a well known citizen of the eighth ward, were on their way to the jail at this place with Carr, when they were stopped by a crowd of about thirty masked men, who overpowered them and taking the prisoner hanged him to a

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS CONFER

Members of Minority About as Badly Divided Over Rate Bill as Republicans.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Senator Newlands of Nevada today entertained seven of his democratic colleagues at luncheon at his suburban home, the purpose being to exchange views on the railroad rate bill before the senate. The talk converged almost entirely around the attitude the democrats should assume toward the questions of a suspension or non-suspension of the rates to be fixed by the Interstate Commerce commission in any case arising before it, pending a review of the issue on an appeal to the courts.

"With the exception of two or three senators," said Senator Tillman, who is in charge of the bill on the floor of the senate, "all those present were favorable to a provision for a non-suspension of the rates, and I think he added, 'that all the democrats will come around to the idea of voting for non-suspension when the issue is presented.'"

Other senators admitted that the discussion showed that the democrats are about as divided in their views on the question of amendments as are their republican colleagues.

Senators who were present tonight that the bill will under no circumstances be made a party issue.

Those present at the luncheon in addition to the host were Senators Bailey, Blackburn, Clay, Culberson, Dubois, Foster, Gurnea, Pettus, Walker, Rumrill, Stone, Tillman, Lathrop, McCready, Martin, Overman and Patterson.

SUICIDE AT FT. LEAVENWORTH

Mother of Second Lieutenant Von Dem Busche Shoots Herself Because of Despondency.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., March 18.—Caroline von Busche, said to be the divorced wife of Baron von Dem Busche-Haddenhausen, a German baron of Berlin, committed suicide by shooting at the quarters of her son, Second Lieutenant Carl Frederick von Dem Busche of the Eighteenth infantry, U. S. A., at Fort Leavenworth today. Lieutenant von Dem Busche is a cousin of Freiherr von Dem Busche-Haddenhausen, first secretary of the German embassy at Washington, D. C.

No cause except that possibly of melancholia is known for the woman having taken her life. The officers at the fort decline to make known any definite facts regarding the affair.

Mrs. von Dem Busche killed herself by shooting, firing a bullet into her head in her room adjoining her son's private room, where she had lived with him for some time past. She is known to have been treated last summer for a nervous disease at Denver, where the family formerly lived.

Baron von Dem Busche and his wife are said to have come to the United States from Europe where they were engaged in large real estate several years ago. He was a mining engineer and for many years lived at Denver, where the son was born. Mrs. von Dem Busche was 46 years old.

LAKE STEAMER ATLANTA BURNS

Goodrich Also Taken Fire On Sheboygan, Wis., and Crew Escapes in Boats.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., March 18.—The Goodrich steamer Atlanta, which left this port for Milwaukee this morning, was burned to the water's edge twelve miles south of Sheboygan. The Atlanta was valued at $100,000. The Atlanta left Sheboygan at 10 o'clock, southbound, with a crew of sixty men and two passengers. The fire was discovered at 11 o'clock. The crew was at once set to work fighting the flames, and the fight was kept up until 1 o'clock, when Captain McCauley decided to abandon the ship. The crew and passengers were put off in the lifeboats and were picked up by the tug Rosier without loss, as there was no sea running. Soon after the steamer Georgia had left port and took aboard the crew and passengers of the burned vessel. The Georgia proceeded to this port, leaving the Atlanta a total wreck, close to the beach, for which it had been run. It is thought the fire may have been started by a carelessly thrown cigar. The Atlanta was a fine vessel, built by Hickey, a deckhand, was drowned in trying to escape from the flames.

SNOWSLIDE IN COLORADO

Mining Plant at Camp Bird Destroyed, Causing Loss of Nearly Half Million.

OURAY, Colo., March 18.—A mammoth snowslide in the Mount Sneffels district, six miles south of Ouray, last night wrecked the Camp Bird mill, tram house, boarding house and reading room. William Cressey is known to have been killed and it is feared other lives were lost. A number of men, it is reported, were seriously injured. The property loss is estimated at from $400,000 to $500,000.

The Camp Bird bank house adjoining the reading room, which was wrecked, narrowly escaped being engulfed and crushed. There were between 300 and 250 miners and employees in this building when the slide came down. The residence of General Manager Cox also escaped destruction by a narrow margin. The slide had largely spent its force before reaching the assay shops and general offices of the Camp Bird mine. This avalanche, which moves annually and is called the United States slide, was larger this year than ever before. It started moving last evening at 7 o'clock, following its usual course. As a rule it spends its force by the time it reaches the gulch, but last night it continued on to the Camp Bird mill, crushing it like an eggshell. This large mill, being in the direct path of the avalanche, checked its terrific force, otherwise it would probably have reached and destroyed the bank house.

Communication Interrupted.

Telephone communication with the Mount Sneffels district has been interrupted for four days and the first news of the disaster was brought to this city this afternoon by County Commissioner Smith, who left the mine at daybreak. A rescue party started out at once, but it will take several hours to reach Mount Sneffels, as the roads and trains are blocked with snow. A telephone message received here from Silverton at 3 o'clock this afternoon stated that a report has been received there that scores of miners were killed by the destruction of the Camp Bird boarding house, but this report is discredited here.

The Camp Bird club house was one of the finest ever built for a similar purpose. Camp Bird is the mine sold by Thomas E. Walsh, the millionaire mine owner, several years ago to an English company.

Road Blocked for Week.

TELLURIDE, Colo., March 18.—A rumor was in circulation here last night that a passenger train on the Rio Grande & Southern had been swept by a snowslide near Ophir loop and thirty-five persons killed. Distant inquiry has failed to disclose any foundation for the report. Railroad officials say there was no train in the vicinity of Ophir loop at the time when the slide occurred.

For this week it has been storming almost continually in this district. There has not been a train run between Telluride and Durango for over a week and the road is still blocked by snowslides near Ophir and Rio. Telegraph and telephone communication is seriously interrupted.

Snowstorm in Southwest.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 18.—An unusually severe snowstorm prevails in the southwest tonight. The storm, accompanied by a stiff north wind, began early today and up to a late hour continued unabated. The wind drifted the snow badly both in city and country. Street car traffic in Kansas City and at other Kansas and Missouri points was totally stopped or badly interrupted. Railway trains in every direction were delayed and it is likely that many schedules will have been annulled before morning.

Although the weather was not especially cold, suffering resulted. Following an unusually open winter, hundreds of families provided themselves with but meager supplies of coal, and fuel companies, expecting a light demand during the remainder of the winter, had permitted their stocks to run low. The longest continued stretch of cold weather in Kansas City and this part of the country.

The purpose of the plant is to enable Swift and Company to enter the Alaskan and oriental markets, besides furthering their interests in the northwest.

JOHN GEHR SHOOTS TWO MEN

Former Mine Workers' Organizer Involved in Fatal Quarrel at Florence, Colo.

FLORENCE, Colo., March 18.—John Gehr, a former organizer of the United Mine Workers of America, tonight shot John Thomas and his brother, Tom Thomas. The latter probably was fatally wounded. The affair occurred in a saloon where the three had been drinking. The cause of the shooting is not known. Gehr escaped.

EXPOSED TO ZERO TEMPERATURE

Farmer Whose Leg Was Broken in Runaway Horses' Freezes to Death.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., March 18.—(Special.)—Suffering a broken leg in a runaway accident and lying upon the prairie for a period of over four hours with the temperature hovering around the zero mark was the experience of G. Haisch, a prominent Hutchinson county farmer.

After having his leg broken, his team escaped from him, and he was alone during the weary hours he lay helpless on the ground the unfortunate farmer called loudly for help. He finally was found by two of his sons and some neighbor boys who chanced to pass along the road.

Had it not been for this fortunate circumstance the farmer probably would have remained on the prairie all night, and his death from exposure would almost certainly have resulted.
