

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Pit Dull, Range of Values Being Very Narrow. Favorable Weather in the Northwest Movement of Spring Corn Expected to Show Increase Soon—Corn Firm Early, but Later Eases Off—Supply Decreasing Rapidly.

OMAHA, AUG. 13, 1906.

The wheat market was dead today, trade being light and the range of values small. Cash was a little higher and reports came of too much rain in Russia. Receipts were large. There was a larger increase in the visible supply than had been expected, but this fact seemed to have little effect on the market. Cash prices were steady. Weather in both southwest and northwest was clear and the spring wheat movement is expected to show an increase.

Exporters said they were out of line and there was no prospect of doing business this week. The market was unchanged on September and a fraction lower on December.

The durum wheat yield in the northwest is said to be much in excess of any similar yield in any other section. It is estimated that 75 per cent of the yield will be of the variety. Some counties that last year had an average yield have as much as 90 per cent.

Corn was firm at the opening and prices were early advanced. Small fraction of the market eased off later, closing unchanged on September and lower on October. Small acceptances are responsible for the early bullish tendency. The visible supply showed a decrease and this caused some short covering.

Timothy was unchanged. There were 1,125,000 bushels and shipments 113,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,131,000 bushels and shipments 113,000 bushels. Corn receipts were 31,000 bushels and shipments 43,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 31,000 bushels and shipments 43,000 bushels. Clearances were 31,000 bushels wheat, 10,225 barrels of flour, 4,000 bushels of corn and 5,000 bushels of oats.

Liverpool closed 4 1/4 higher on wheat and unchanged on corn. Local range of options:

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The ideal harvesting weather in the northwest was held today by firm cables. During the first part of the session the market was inclined to favor the bulls, but later the market was inclined to favor the bears.

Trading in the wheat pit today was extremely quiet and prices fluctuated within a narrow range. During the first part of the session the market was inclined to favor the bulls, but later the market was inclined to favor the bears.

The advance at Liverpool was said to be the cause of the demand for wheat. Commission houses were the principal bidders. Offerings, however, were small, the result being a steady market.

The same sort of speculative indifference that was manifested in the wheat market prevailed in the corn market. The market was inclined to favor the bulls, but later the market was inclined to favor the bears.

The oats market was held steady by moderate demand. During the first part of the session the market was inclined to favor the bulls, but later the market was inclined to favor the bears.

Provisions were dull, but firm. Owing to decreased receipts of hogs, the market was inclined to favor the bulls, but later the market was inclined to favor the bears.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Permanent Absorption Has the Effect of Raising Price Level. EARLY MOVEMENT IS IRREGULAR.

St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Lead the Advance—Rate for Call Loans Higher.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—There was irregular absorption of stocks in today's market which had the ultimate effect of lifting prices to a higher average level. The movement was halting and irregular in the early part of the day, but it had to contend with some speculative considerations which had an unfavorable tenor in the current opinion.

The bulk of the day's business was largely concentrated in a few speculative favorites, but those of this class which have been most effective in their sympathetic influence on the market were again brought into prominence with the result that the general price movement came into accord with the movement of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific have demonstrated the capacity of many lines to carry the list with them. The buying today, which proved impressive, was calculated to convey the impression of accumulation by well informed insiders as to coming developments regarding those stocks.

The rumors current which attributed to the Pacific coast extension of the St. Paul to the expected increase in Union Pacific and to the inauguration of dividend Southern Pacific which was expected to be paid at the end of the month, an unsettling influence in the early part of the day. The market was unsettled by the fact that the decision against the company's right to collect double freight was given to the directors which resulted from the determination to collect the double fare.
