AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Jealousy Leads to a Fatal Theatrical Affray Friday Evening.

ALL PARTIES TO AFFAIR ARE COLORED

Harvey Williams, the Victim, Had Was the Affections of Woman Who Formerly Smiled on Hugh Gray.

A fatal shooting occurred at Thirty-sixth and Q streets last night at 5:30. Harvey Williams, colored, was shot in the abdomen by Hugh Gray, who is still at the South Omaha hospital. The neighborhood was aroused by the sound of shots and the bystanders were attracted to a woman running from the door of 3615 Q, screaming for aid. Close behind her came Williams, crying wearily, "I'm shot, I'm shot." On reaching the street he sank down and was carried to the Red Cross drug store, near by. Dr. R. Lanney and the police responded to the call and the wounded man was taken to the South Omaha hospital. Two balls from a .38-caliber revolver entered his body. Either one is thought to be sufficient to cause death. He suffered great pain and underwent an operation at 10 p. m. for the extraction of the bullets, which lodged in the muscles of the back. The doctors hold out no hopes of the man's recovery.

The motive for the shooting was, as usual, jealousy. Gray had been living with a woman purporting to be his wife, between this city and Mrs. Fred L. Green of Omaha, died at 5 a. m. yesterday morning. She had been living with Mrs. Pinnell and here she was taken with the final illness. She was 67 years old. She had been an invalid for several months, but her death came rather unexpectedly. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. James Wise and Dr. R. L. Wheeler from the residence to Laurel Hill cemetery. The ceremony will be this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Arrangements for Etter Funeral.

Definite arrangements are announced for the burial of P. J. Etter tomorrow. The private funeral will be at the residence at 1 p. m. After this ceremony the orders and the mail service will accompany the body to the auditorium of the South Omaha High school building. The public service will be conducted there by Dr. R. L. Wheeler. The members of the Grand Army of the Republic, and especially the members of Phil Kearney post, are to meet at 1 p. m. at Twenty-fourth and E streets. From there they will go in a body to the residence. The Odd Fellows also have instructions to meet at their hall for the same purpose at 1 p. m. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the Presbyterian choir. The burial will be in Laurel Hill cemetery.

Sunday Services.

There will be morning services only in most of South Omaha churches, so that the membership may go to Omaha in the evening to swell the crowd at the Terry meeting.

The regular services are announced for the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. J. F. Bannor will sing a special solo.

At the First Methodist church Dr. William Corst, presiding elder, will conduct the morning service, followed by the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

"A Great Opportunity" will be Dr. Benwick's Sunday morning topic. No evening service.

Rev. George Van Winkle will preach from the subject "In God We Trust" at the Baptist church.

There will be the regular services both morning and evening at Leder's Memorial church.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The organization of the boys' branch into a Sunday club was started, under the direction of Assistant Street, with Attorney Huger as advisor. The perfecting of the club will be done next Sunday at 2 o'clock. An interesting program has been prepared by the boys themselves and every boy in South Omaha is invited to be present at that hour. The meeting will be held in the association assembly room.

"Pledges, Promises and Aims" is the subject of the address that Prof. Graham will deliver to the members and their friends next Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in the association rooms. There will be good music and a prayer service. All men urged to come.

The ladies' auxiliary is ready and willing to fit up the basement rooms for a boys' department. Such an arrangement would be pleasant for the boys and more than satisfy the men.

The Blues are now in the lead, but only five points, and the Reds are feeling sure of ultimate success. Somebody has to wash the Blues.

South Omaha Bank Statement.

A comparative statement of the finances of the three national banks of South Omaha shows that there has been an increase in deposits over the same period of last year of $27,570.95. The increase in loans and discounts this year is $17,069.94. The increase in total resources in the banks of the city is $47,576.35. Following is the detailed statement prepared in accordance with the call of the comptroller of the currency:

Appeals From Police Court.

Appeals were taken in two cases from the decisions of Judge P. J. King's police court yesterday. The first was the case of Gus Wardenman, for assault and battery. This assault was alleged to have been committed on the night of November 5 on the person of C. E. Doby, timekeeper for Swift and Company. Wardenman wanted to enter the plant to take a lunch to a party at work at the laundry, but the timekeeper did not like his appearance. The vigilance of the employees had been aroused over the loss of some valuable metal to the value of nearly $50. Wardenman insisted on going into the plant, and when the timekeeper attempted to put him out the gate he struck him. The arrest followed and Judge King imposed a fine of $5 and costs. Wardenman, through his attorney, filed notice of appeal.

The second was the case of Anton Syto, charged with assaulting John Herdman at Lincoln's saloon, Twenty-seventh and J streets, on the night of November 11. The two young men have been rivals for some time, contending for the affections of a pretty Polish maid. On that night a quarrel arose between them over a game of craps, which was being played on the floor of the saloon. In the fight which followed Syto drew a knife and plunged it into the back of Herdman, causing a serious wound. In the evidence it was brought out by the testimony of two young women that Syto had threatened violence to Herdman should the young woman in question refuse his attentions. It appears that he kept his word. Judge King fined him $25 and costs. His attorney, W. C. Lambert, filed notice of appeal.

METHODIST WOMEN CLOSE FAIR

Affair Proves Success Financially and Otherwise Despite Some Drawbacks.

The second day of the bazaar given by the women of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Twentieth and Davenport streets, closed the event Friday night with a favorable showing, financially and otherwise. The bazaar is not usually held until the first part of December each year, but because of the Terry mission to be held in the city, the dates were set earlier. This change in the plans cut off some of the time needed for preparation, but despite this fact the affair was a success.

The booths, which were very prettily decorated, were in charge of the following chairwomen: Doll booth, Mrs. Diane Nelson; Christmas articles, Mrs. W. H. Heath; domestic booth, Mrs. Weston; candy booth, Mrs. Orrenough; old women's booth, Mrs. Birkeland.

Ice cream and other refreshments were served, and a photograph loaned for the occasion by George E. Minkel, furnished music.
