HILL KEEPS BIG MAIL JOB

Burlington Again Secures Contract for Carrying the Transcontinental.

TWENTY-SEVEN-YEAR GRIP NOT BROKEN

Makes Reduction of Seven Per Cent to the Government in the Cost of Hauling the Mail.

Information has been received from the Rock Island Chicago offices that the contract for hauling the transcontinental mail, for which a contest has been waged since the first of the year, has been let to the Burlington road.

The Rock Island made an effort about the first of the year to get this mail and succeeded in getting the mail from Chicago to Omaha. This was possible because of the saving of time in transporting the mail across Chicago, a connection being made with the eastern roads at Englewood.

When the fight was on the Burlington voluntarily reduced the cost to the government 7 per cent, or about $65,000, which was about the cost of carrying the mail across Chicago.

John E. Utt, local commercial agent of the Rock Island, said his company did not expect to get the transcontinental contract when it went after it, but was simply after the Omaha business and the transcontinental business was an after thought.

The Commercial club of Omaha, as well as all the banks and other large commercial interests, have wired to Washington asking that the railroads be given a hearing before the house committee, which proposes to cut the appropriations for carrying mails about 30 per cent.

Just while the Nebraska legislature is in the throes of an agitation for reduced passenger fare the Omaha Commercial club has taken a stand against a 2-cent fare. The transportation committee of the club held a special meeting Monday to draft resolutions and at the meeting Tuesday of the executive committee submitted the following, which were passed:

Resolved, That in our opinion the people of this state need more and better transportation facilities in the way of additional trains and equipment, double tracks, improved terminals and other general improvements, to the end that the passenger and freight business of the state may be transacted with greater facility.

Resolved, That in our opinion the decrease in the revenues of the railroads would prevent them from double-tracking, increasing their equipment and otherwise improving their transportation facilities.
