As to Contests in Congress

BARTLEY, Neb., Nov. 7.—To the Editor of The Bee: In regard to a contest in the Fifth district and Ashton elected by a few votes does he take his seat in Congress and hold the office until the contest is proven, or would the one holding the seat at present hold over until his predecessor was settled with the contest? Where and when is the contest made? Please answer in Monday's paper.

Answer—There are no holdovers in Congress. The applicant with the certificate of election is seated as a member and the claimant must make his contest before the house committee on privileges and elections, whose report is later acted on by the whole house, excepting only the member whose seat is in question.

GOMPERS MAKES HIS REPORT

President of Federation Discusses Work of Year.

CAMPAIGN ON ISSUE OF JUSTICE

Aim of Unions to Improve Standard of Life—Last Congress, He Says, Failed to Help Labor.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 9.—Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning the delegates to the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor formed in line and marched to the Auditorium, where the gathering was called to order.

The exercises at this morning's session included addresses of welcome by Governor Henry A. Buchtel of Colorado, Mayor Robert W. Speer of Denver, George Hall for the State Federation of Labor, L. M. French for the Denver Trades and Labor assembly and J. T. Clepp for the Building council.

Response to the addresses was made by Samuel Gompers, president of the federation. At the close of the morning session the report of the committee on credentials was made.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 9.—President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor in his annual report to the convention here today said in part:

"It is impossible to see how we can comply fully with the court's injunctions. Shall we be denied the right of free speech and free press simply because we are workmen? Is it because we are unable to be compelled to suppress, refuse to distribute and kill for all time to come the official transactions of one of the great conventions of our federation? I opine not.

"Now it is the American Federation of Labor and the American Federational which are enjoined from the exercise of the right of free speech and the purposes, and not even against workmen unless they are engaged in a labor dispute. Such injunctions have no warrant in law and are the result of judicial usurpation and judicial legislation, which usurp the place of congressional legislation and are repugnant to constitutional guarantees.

"In all things in which workmen are engaged by the process of an injunction during labor disputes—if those acts are criminal and unlawful—there are already ample law and remedy provided.

"Labor asks for no immunity for any of its men who may be guilty of violence or crime. It has no desire to become a privileged class, much less a privileged class of wrongdoers.

"Labor protests against the discrimination against workmen which denies them equal justice with every other citizen of our country. Any man of labor be guilty of a violation of any law we contend that he should be apprehended, confronted with his accuser and tried by a jury of his peers; that he, like all other citizens, be presumed to be innocent until proven guilty.

"Undaunted by opposition, no matter how keen or malignant, I recommend that we renew our efforts with greater energy and insistence upon the passage of the principles contained in the Wilson and Pearce bills.

"The aim of our unions is to improve the standard of life; to foster education and instill character, manhood and an independent spirit among our people; to bring about a recognition of the interdependence of man upon his fellow-man. We aim to establish a normal workday, to take the children from the factory and workshop; to give them the opportunity of the school, the home and the playground. In a word, our unions strive to lighten toil, educate the workers, make their homes more cheerful, and in every way contribute the earnest effort to make life the better worth living. To achieve these praiseworthy ends, we believe that all honorable and lawful means are both justifiable and commendable, and will receive the sympathetic support of every liberty-loving, right-thinking American.

"The American labor movement is not partisan to a political party; it is partisan to principle, the principle of equal rights and human freedom.

"When this report is being written, October 30, the immediate results of the election of November 3, are, of course, unknown, but on this one fact stands clear, and can never hereafter be disputed; that is, that the presidential and congressional election of 1908 has been contested upon the fundamental principles of which labor and liberty-loving citizens contend that is, equality before the law, human freedom."

BREAD WILL GO TO CHARITY

All Except Prize Winners at Pure Food Show to Be So Disposed Of.

All of the bread excepting the prize-winning loaves, entered in the baking contest which will be held Tuesday as a feature for the fourth annual pure food show at the Auditorium, will be given to charitable institutions. All organizations of charity desiring to share in the offer may do so by leaving word with Manager J. M. Gillan and letting him know the number of loaves wanted.

The contest is expected to be keener than the one last year on account of the large amount of money offered as prizes. At the third annual show about 1,000 loaves were submitted, but this year it is anticipated that the entry list will embrace between 1,500 and 2,000 names. In all $25 is offered in prize; $15 by the Grocers and Butchers' association under whose auspices the food show is given, and the balance $100 sum, given by T. C. Brunner & Son, the Uptake Milling company and the Wells-Abbott-Nieman company. The contest is scheduled for tomorrow, and all contestants must submit their loaves before 5 o'clock in the evening. The bread will be accepted from 10 o'clock in the morning until the hour of closing.

The task of judging will be a tedious one, and two or three days may be consumed by the experts who have been engaged to pass upon the loaves. They will begin their work immediately after the entries are closed at 5 o'clock.

The second and last week of the food show opens this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, continuing every afternoon and evening until Saturday night. During the week several new features which were not seen during the first four days of the exhibition will be introduced. Important among them will be the moving picture exhibition by the Cudahy Packing company. They will show life pictures of every important detail of the killing and packing industry, and the exhibition will be maintaining as well as instructive. The moving pictures will be seen every evening during the week.

when one of the front tires burst, causing the car to tip and throwing Dr. Cotter out. The running board struck Mackey in the neck. Dr. Cotter was prominent here. He owned a drug store and was proprietor of the Corning hospital.

SHOT DOWN IN STREET

Light was an accident. Mackey's employer, the firm of Hunt, Hill & Betts, declared they could account for the tragedy only on the theory that Mackey was insane. Besides a revolver, it was found that Mackey carried a dagger and a stung shot. Mackey was an Englishman, 31 years old, and he formerly was employed in Boston.

The shooting took place in the presence of Miss Dorothy Morgan, the 14-year-old daughter of the postmaster, who was accompanying him to the subway station on her way to school. Mackey had been pacing up and down the sidewalk near the corner of Broadway and One Hundred and Forty-sixth street for two hours before the shooting. When Mr. Morgan and Mackey were talking, Mackey turned toward the sidewalk and met them. Evidently he had never seen the postmaster before, for, as he met Mr. Morgan he asked: "Are you Postmaster Morgan?" At Mr. Morgan's affirmative reply, Mackey drew his revolver and fired one shot into the postmaster's abdomen. The wounded man fell to the sidewalk and, as two witnesses to the shooting came running up, Mackey lay down on the sidewalk, opened his vest and sent one bullet into his head and another into his heart. He was dead when the first man reached him.

Mr. Morgan was carried into his own home; physicians were hastily summoned, and it was found that the bullet had merely passed through the fleshy portion of the abdomen for about eight inches, inflicting a superficial wound.

Mr. Morgan declared that he did not know Mackey and never saw him before the shooting. It was learned that a man answered to Mackey's description had called at Mr. Morgan's home three times during the last ten days in his absence. Mackey, the assailant, had been in the office of Hunt, Hill and Betts, lawyers of 165 Broadway, for about four years. He came from England nine years ago, worked for Mackey in two capacities and came to this city. At the office where he was employed in this city Mackey was held in high esteem, and his employers say they are completely at a loss to explain his motive. The only clue so far found which may have a bearing on the tragedy is contained in a number of letters found in Mackey's desk. These indicate that about a year ago he had complained to the postmaster that some of his mail had not been properly delivered. The correspondence was signed by one of the regular department clerks. Mackey's employer says that so far as they know he never met or had any dealings with Postmaster Morgan.

Among papers found in Mackey's pocket was an envelope addressed to "Miss Anna Mackey, care of Training School for Nurses, Anna Jacques Hospital, Newburyport, Mass." The envelope was empty. A stung-shot and a dagger were found in Mackey's pockets.

BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 9.—Eric H. B. Mackey, who shot Postmaster E. M. Morgan in New York City today and then shot and killed himself, was a son of H. W. B. Mackey of Cambridge, who was engaged in literary work. Mackey formerly lived in Cambridge, where he was employed at the factory of the Boston Woven Hose and Rubber company. He was born near Dublin, Ireland, and was about 15 years old when his parents came to Boston. About six weeks ago Mackey was dismissed because of a fancied grievance and a trial was adjudged insane and committed to the Worcester asylum, from which he escaped in 1904.

He and his wife stopped at the Hotel Belmont until Saturday, when rooms were taken in a boarding house. Tappan was not registered at the Hotel Savoy and it is believed he walked into the place when he determined to kill himself.

"I feared my husband might attempt to take his life, so I watched him as closely as I could," said Mrs. Tappan to the police tonight. "I happened to see this nature might murder."

LITTLE CHOLERA IN MANILA

Statement by Merchants Says City is Practically Free from Plague.

MANILA, Nov. 9.—The Merchants' association of this city has issued the following statement: "The health authorities of Manila are reported by the health authorities to be practically free of cholera. Since November 1 in a population of near one quarter of a million one case daily has occurred. These cases were found in outlying districts unusually visited by whites. The late epidemic, however, was a very light character since its beginning and in the month of July, when twenty-two cases among the white population. Of these but ten proved fatal. There is not a single case among the 12,000 city school children. Since the American occupation in 1898 the number of whites in the islands attacked by cholera is 27. Of these 129 cases were fatal. The majority of deaths occurred in 1902 when there were 20,000 troops in the islands and no precautions existed for protection from epidemic.

Soldiers from Fort McKinley and sailors from the United States navy are now entering the city freely and the citizens are anxious that Rear Admiral Sperry will permit them to carry out the plans for the reception of the Atlantic battleship fleet. The admiral, who has not carried out his plan, feared that a false and harmful impression will be given to the world of the sanitary condition of Manila, which unquestionably is better than that of any other city in the orient and probably unexcelled by any large city of the world.

CORN YIELDS OVER AVERAGE

Department of Agriculture Gives Estimate of Year's Crop.

TWO AND HALF BILLION BUSHELS

Quality is 80.9 Per Cent, as Compared with 82.8 in 1907 and Ten-Year Average of 84.3 Per Cent.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—An average yield of 28.2 bushels of corn per acre and an indicated total production of 2,642,987,000 bushels of corn are preliminary estimates announced in the report of the Department of Agriculture, issued today, summarizing corn and five other crops.

The yield of corn per acre in 1907 was 25.9, as finally estimated, and averaged 25.6 for ten years, while the production is compared with 2,592,250,000 bushels, finally estimated in 1907. Quality of corn is 84.3 per cent, compared with 82.8 in 1907, and 81.3 ten-year average. About 2.7 per cent, or 71,124,000 bushels, is estimated to have been in farmers' hands on November 1, against 4.8 per cent, or 136,990,000 bushels a year ago, and a ten-year average of 4.8 per cent. The preliminary figures for important corn states, giving in bushels the yield per acre and total production, respectively, are as follows:

Illinois, 31.6 and 284,860,000 bushels. Iowa, 31.7 and 287,450,000 bushels. Missouri, 27 and 233,834,000 bushels. Nebraska, 31.7 and 267,767,000 bushels. Indiana, 30.3 and 267,838,000 bushels. Texas, 25.7 and 241,615,000 bushels. Kansas, 22 and 122,900,000 bushels. Ohio, 34.5 and 196,500,000 bushels. Michigan, 34.5 and 122,250,000 bushels. South Dakota, 25.7 and 57,677,000 bushels.

For other crops the preliminary estimates, giving average yields per acre and comparisons with final estimates for 1907, are for period of ten years, as follows: Buckwheat—Yield, 19.8 bushels, against 17.9 in 1907, and ten-year average of 17.8. Production, 15,648,000 bushels, against 14,190,000 bushels in 1907. Quality, 90.7 per cent, against 87.3 last year and 89.9 the ten-year average.

Oat—Yield, 55.9 bushels against 54.4 in 1907, and ten-year average, 55.6. Production, 274,950,000 bushels, against 277,342,000 bushels in 1907. Quality, 87.6 per cent, against 83.8 last year and ten-year average of 87.6.

Tobacco—Yield, 35.2 pounds, against 30.5 pounds in 1907 and ten-year average, 29.5. Production, 629,634,000 pounds, against 638,126,000 pounds in 1907. Quality, 87.9 per cent, against 89.1 a year ago and ten-year average of 85.8.

Rice—Yield, 24.7 bushels, against 23.9 in 1907, and ten-year average of 20.8. Production, 27,718,000 bushels against 18,738,000 in 1907.

TAPPAN KILLS HIMSELF

Man Prominent in Steel Trade Commits Suicide in New York Hotel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Walworth H. Tappan, well known in the iron and steel trade of the south and middle west, who lived in Louisville, Ky., blew his brains out tonight in the wash room of the Hotel Savoy, a fifth avenue hostelry. The report of the shot was heard throughout the lower part of the hotel and created much excitement.

Despondency over a nervous affliction, which was constantly growing worse, is given by his wife as the cause of Tappan's act. Tappan a few years ago was in the iron and steel business in Kentucky. Three years ago he sold his interest there and became attached to the traveling staff of the Chicago firm of Crane & Co. It was quickly established that Tappan's suicide was not caused by financial difficulties, as he had recently made profitable stock investments and his friends told the police that he had always received a large salary.

Tappan told the police that a few weeks ago Tappan secured a long leave of absence from the firm with which he was connected and came here to undergo a course of treatment.

He and his wife stopped at the Hotel Belmont until Saturday, when rooms were taken in a boarding house. Tappan was not registered at the Hotel Savoy and it is believed he walked into the place when he determined to kill himself.

"I feared my husband might attempt to take his life, so I watched him as closely as I could," said Mrs. Tappan to the police tonight. "I happened to see this nature might murder."

CONTRASTS ELIOT AND MORSE

Lives of Educator and Promoter Form Subject of Recitation by College President.

BRUNSWICK, Me., Nov. 9.—The conviction of Charles W. Morse, and the resignation of Charles W. Eliot, formed the subject of President William Dewitt Hyde's chapel talk today to the students of Bowdoin college of which Mr. Morse is a graduate.

He said: "You could not get a greater contrast than the lives of these two men, one built on the sands of selfishness, the other built on the rock of faithful service. The world is the poorer and business is more precarious for the sciences of a man like Morse. In elementary, secondary, collegiate, graduate, legal, medical, theological and practical education, in industry, business government, morals, we are all richer, safer, happier and nobler for the work of President Eliot."

A THIRD ADVANTAGE in favor of investing in our certificates rather than in ordinary loans, is— Third: An investment with us is a protection that no other corporation affords its investors. That is, we loan only on homes as a rule, with all loans repayable by the month, thereby increasing our margin of security from the outset. An individual or trust company loans money on real estate and conditions may cause a depreciation in value in that locality; and the investor is thereby tied to an ever lessening debt, while our association requires monthly reduction in principal.
