The police are looking for him and the stolen property. Comes Far for Jury Service—Scott Dunn, formerly of South Omaha, is a good citizen. He traveled all the way from West Point to Omaha Sunday to report for jury service, having been drawn on the new panel. Dunn who took up his residence in West Point a few days after registering last fall in South Omaha, is, of course, now ineligible for Douglas county service. He was unaware of this and so came to report. Youths Own the Ring—After holding A. L. Parker and Louis Kasa, two young men from Stockton, Cal., since Saturday because they had a valuable diamond ring and were trying to sell it at a low figure, the police have released them. At first they were thought to have stolen it. Told for Abandoning Children—On the charge of children abandonment, Fred McIntosh, a painter, was bound over to the district court Monday morning from police court. His wife, from whom he is separated and who lives on Woolworth avenue, was the complainant. She testified that McIntosh told her he no longer cared for her last winter and left her and three children without support. One of the children had died since. Leads in Serious Trouble—On the charge of breaking seals on Northwestern box cars, Reigel Lovelady, who lives between Seventeenth and Eighteenth on Dodge street and has been in the clutches of Mogy Bernstein before, was arrested Sunday night. Two other lads who were with him escaped. It is said the trio broke three car seals and stole some empty bottles from one of the cars. Officer Bernstein took charge of the case. Nixon Wins the Certificate—Alfred A. Nixon has won the membership certificate in the South Omaha Live Stock exchange held by his former partner, Cassius Sparger. Judge Troup handed down Monday afternoon a decision sustaining the contention of plaintiff in the case. The certificate was deposited as collateral on a note, when the partnership of Sparger & Nixon was dissolved. It was asserted by defendant that Nixon assumed and failed to pay obligations accruing from the old partnership of Sparger & Linberg, when Nixon displaced the latter. On this the court held otherwise. Lawyer Charges Misconduct—A charge of misconduct made by E. Mahoney against C. J. Smyth evinced the suit of Blair against the Kingman Implement company before Judge Day in district court Monday morning. The brush came over questions put to Calvin Blair, the plaintiff, on cross-examination. Following objection by Mahoney, Smyth proceeded to argue the competency of the testimony. It was in the course of this argument that Mahoney interrupted to declare that the other attorney was wilfully trying to influence the jury rather than argue the question. Following a denial the jury was excused and the question then argued out.

All Who Would Enjoy

good health, with its blessings, must understand, quite clearly, that it involves the question of right living with all the term implies. With proper knowledge of what is best, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment, of contemplation and of effort may be made to contribute to living right. Then the use of medicines may be dispensed with to advantage, but under ordinary conditions in many instances a simple, wholesome remedy may be invaluable if taken at the proper time and the California Fig Syrup Co. holds that it is alike important to prevent the subject truthfully and to supply the one perfect laxative to those desiring it. Consequently, the Company's Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna gives general satisfaction. To get its beneficial effects buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and for sale by all leading druggists.

Woodward Will Go Under Knife

Assistant Postmaster is to Be Operated On for Appendicitis Tuesday. Assistant Postmaster J. I. Woodward is suffering seriously from an attack of appendicitis complicated with kidney troubles. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital Monday morning and will undergo an operation Tuesday morning. Mr. Woodward has been in failing health for several weeks and has been reluctant to give up. Quick Action for Your Money—You get that by using The Bee advertising columns. WATER COMPANY OVERRULED Loses Its Motion to Enforce Alleged Confession of Judgment of Water Board. Judge T. C. Munger has denied the application of the attorneys for the Omaha Water company to enforce the alleged confession of judgment in the United States circuit court, wherein it was claimed by the water company's attorneys that a confession of judgment would follow the decision of the circuit court which was adverse to the city in the two hydrant rental cases. The attorney for the Omaha Water board had filed a motion denying the intention to confess judgment pending the decision of the two hydrant rental cases, which confession would virtually apply to the four cases still in the circuit court of the Nebraska federal district. The cases will now go to trial on their merits. The date of the hearing is yet to be fixed. Man Charged with Heinous Offense Kicked Down Because of His Family. Albert D. Phillips' family of four small children secured him temporary freedom in district court Monday afternoon. Phillips, after being arraigned on a grave statutory charge, pleaded not guilty. His attorney then asked that bail be set at not to exceed $1,000. County Attorney English held that the seriousness of the charge against Phillips would necessitate a larger bond were it not for the fact that the man's family would help to keep him within the jurisdiction of the court. Phillips was arrested by Alfred Millard some weeks ago after Millard had found him in a vacant house owned by Millard.

"MAYOR MUST COME ACROSS"

That is the Def of the "Traitor" Democrats in Council. DAHLMAN STILL STANDS PAT He Expects to Send to the Council About the Same Dummy List that He Submitted Last Week. According to Councilman Berka council affairs as far as the mayor's appointments are concerned are in statu quo. No conferences have been held, he says, the councilmen have not been to see the mayor and the mayor has not been to see the councilmen, and, as far as he knows, there has been no change in the condition since last week. Councilmen Berka and Hummel say they do not know what will be the outcome or when President Burmeister and Councilmen Davis say they have no intention of paying heed to the city attorney's recommendations regarding the appointments. Councilmen Brucker and Sheldon, "traitor" democrats, say the mayor must eventually "come across," and the mayor continues to declare that he will stand by his guns to the last ditch and will never run up a flag of truce. Mayor Dahlman expects to send to the council about the same list as he sent last week. He has been advised by the city legal department that he must stay in the city every day and be on the job constantly if he wants to be sure that the council will not steal a march on him. Assistant City Attorney Rine has told him that the council can pass the first two readings of ordinance abolishing the ordinance offices and pass other ordinances restricting them and then hold them for a year, perhaps, and in an unguarded moment call a special session of the council on an off day when the mayor might be out of town and pass them with the concurrence of the acting mayor. "If this is the case I will stay in Omaha every blessed minute," declares Mayor "Jim." "If I have got to be kept here a prisoner like Napoleon on the Isle of St. Helena I will keep the councilmen prisoners, too, and we will see how long one man can match his wits against mine. Anyway, I will not spend as much money if I stay at home."

HAS TRUST GOT LOUP RIVER?

Transfer of Stock Gives Rise to Answer in Affirmative. GENERAL ELECTRIC REACHES OUT Water Power Monopoly Said to Have Thrown Its Tentacles About the Babcock Project in This State. Directors of the Nebraska Power company, which proposes to harness the Loup river to secure electrical power, have authorized the secretary to exchange shares of common stock for the common stock of the Nebraska Central Irrigation company, which corporation is capitalized at $1,000,000 has out 25,000 shares of stock and invested $300,000 in an irrigation ditch. It is the claim of the officers of the Nebraska Power company that a tentative contract has been signed with one of the great electrical companies and the permanent contract only awaits the return to New York City of some of the heads of the company, as the engineers of the corporation have made a favorable report. In the organization of the Nebraska Power company H. E. Babcock has been more or less associated with the General Electric and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. Mr. Babcock has always said it was at the instance of men high in these great industrial corporations that he started the proposition of furnishing electrical power to eastern Nebraska by harnessing the Loup river. This association and the positive assertion of officers at this time that one of the largest electrical companies in the country has signed a preliminary and agreed to sign a permanent contract upon a favorable report from one engineer, who has reported favorably, leads to the belief that the Loup river has been annexed by "the water power trust."

Roosevelt Pointed It Out.

The monopoly was pointed out by President Roosevelt and since his attack it has been discovered that one or two companies have gathered in many of the best power sites in every part of the country and secured the water rights. It is generally supposed the General Electric has secured the Loup River company, which means the company will make electrical power cheaper than it can with coal, but whether the consumer will get the benefit is a matter of conjecture. Here are some of the enterprises which the General Electric controls according to the government reports: United States Electric Securities, Electric Light and Power, Electric Power and Share company, Schenectady Power company, Carolina Power and Electric Light company, Buckingham (North Carolina) Power company, Anima Power and Water company (Colorado), Central Colorado Power company, Montgomery (Alabama) Light and Power company, Summit County Power company (Colorado), Butte County Power company (Montana), Montana Power Transmission company, Billings and Eastern Montana Power company, Gallatin River Power company, Washington Water Power company (Washington and Idaho), Great Western Power company (California).

Fearful Westinghouse Man.

The engineer who has just completed a report on the Loup river is E. B. Church, and President Babcock of the Nebraska Power company says he was formerly an engineer of the Westinghouse people, but now "has no connection whatever." The following are classed by the government as the Westinghouse group of power companies, and, as is well known, the Westinghouse and General Electric pooled their patents in 1896 and are generally considered "close together" competitors: Atlantic Water and Electric Power company, Ontario Power company, Niagara Lockport and Ontario Power company, Albany Power and Manufacturing company, Savannah River and Power company, Chattanooga River and Tennessee River Power company, North Colorado Power company. Water rights on the Loup river are owned by the Central Nebraska Irrigation company, while an officer of the Omaha Water and Electric power company, near the old town of Niobrara, which is the best point for a plant. Two attempts have been recently made by the general manager of a street railway and electric power company in which J. Ogden Armour is deeply interested, to secure the water rights on the Niobrara river in Nebraska.

CHILDREN ARE WORKING TO WIN CORN SHOW PRIZES

Juveniles Are Raising Grain to Be Exhibited at the National Exposition. While even the solid and conservative New England states are planning a corn exposition that their best samples may be sent to Omaha, the interest has spread from the "grown-up" to the children in the western states, who are working to win some of the prizes. Some idea of the little fellows who are growing corn to exhibit at the coming National Corn exposition may be gleaned from the following report received Monday from western Nebraska: STONK, Neb. June 11, 1909.—Dear Friend: My corn grows good. My corn is about eight inches high and I tilled it good. What is in the front of my corn? Rite soon and tell me, I will try and get the best corn around, and what is the prize of butter, and so on. GUSTAF LIEBRANT. All these letters are answered by A. E. Hildebrand, in charge of the children's department and junior work. From all indications the children and young people will play an important part in the next National Corn exposition. Word has been received from New England that the six states will send individual exhibits this year and in the fall of 1910 will hold a New England corn show. The exhibits from this show will be sent on to the National Corn exposition.

New Seminary for Omaha in Biblical Institute

Erection of Building and Enlargement of Work Plan of Swedish Free Church. The Biblical Institute which the Swedish Free church conference at Rockford, Ill., decided to locate in Omaha amounts to the opening of another theological seminary in the city, the erection of a building and enlargement of an institution already in a prosperous condition. C. Sundell, contractor in the New York Life building and August Swenson, carpenter at Thirty-second and Charles streets, who represented the Free Mission church of Omaha at the Rockford conference, returned to Omaha Monday. They are responsible for securing the institution which has been located in Chicago, but the directors believe its steady growth will be surer in a city such as Omaha and this city was selected. At present there are twenty to thirty students in the seminary training for the ministry of the Free church, and it is headed by Dr. P. J. Prineel, with G. A. Young as assistant to the president. As the conferences of different Swedish churches have reported favorably on uniting the institution in Omaha is likely to become the training school for the Swedish Congregational Mission Covenant, as well as the Swedish Free church. Rev. A. P. Youngberg, pastor of the Free church in Omaha, has been assigned to Kaysberg, Pa., and will leave for that city at once with his family. His successor will be Rev. J. Westlund of Chicago, who is a graduate of the Biblical institute and one of the workers for the seminary. J. C. Olsen and J. F. Hansen of Holdrege, Irving Haleen of Holcomb and Mr. Sundell of Omaha are three newly elected members of the board of trustees of the Biblical institute from Nebraska. All trustees are western men.

Shakes His Teeth on Altar of Court

Colored Man Gives His Hand a Crap Fling and Out Come Two Pearlies. With a flourish and a rolling of his palms, as if he were playing "craps," William Singleton, a negro crowd-bawler, 92 North Twenty-ninth street, scattered two of his shiny front teeth on top of Police Judge Crawford's altar of justice Monday morning as exhibit "A" to show that when he and Charles Murphy, a white man, mixed in a little flistic argument concerning who was the best fighter, Murphy loosened the colored man's teeth by way of emphasizing his pugilistic superiority. The trouble occurred Saturday night and had the negro given Singleton ample time in which to prepare his display in dentistry. After watching the negro juggle the teeth around his bar for a few minutes, Judge Crawford decided to pass the case until Tuesday, when Singleton may perhaps see Murphy sentenced for smashing the former's teeth loose. ### BELL BOY RUNS OUT OF MOST OF HIS CLOTHING

Tears Madly Down Douglas Street, Shedding His Apparel as He Flees. Racing madly down Douglas street, pulling off his clothing and throwing it aside as he went, R. E. Dahlgren, who says he is a bell boy at the Paxton hotel, was intercepted Sunday night by Emergency Officer Labeay. After running a brief but strenuous Marathon with Dahlgren, Labeay managed to get him to jail in part of his clothing. The young man was discharged by the police judge, who directed that he be held for the insanity commission, as he seemed mentally unbalanced. Labeay was waiting in the matron's department of the city jail a short time afterwards, Dahlgren again became violent and had to be removed by five officers to the cell room.
