DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE

Volume of Business Continues Heavy, but Conditions Are Irregular.

CROP NEWS OF IMPORTANCE

Certain Unfavorable Reports Apparently Have Been Exaggerated—Iron Goods Firmer, as Shown by Advance.

NEW YORK, April 30.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade today says: Conditions of business are still irregular, but the volume of trade continues heavy. Certain unfavorable reports have apparently been exaggerated and their effect on business is out of real importance to their real significance. Much of the pessimism upon crops. No action has been taken to ascertain the production of pig iron, but several more furnaces have blown out from their stacks and others are expected to do likewise. A proposition has been advanced among men of business to purchase the largest Pennsylvania districts to shut down for thirty days between now and July 1. Insurer as demand for pig iron is concerned conditions are, if anything, more quiet than in the preceding weeks, but prices are steadily increasing. It is scarcely quiet in the preceding weeks, but prices are steadily increasing. It is scarcely quiet in the preceding weeks, but prices are steadily increasing.

Democratic Delusion.

KEARNEY, Neb., April 29.—To the Editor of The Bee: At present when real or imaginary dissatisfaction with the administration and republican leaders in congress exists or is supposed to exist, it is somewhat amusing to observe the democratic press eagerly holding out luring nets to capture the dissatisfied ones. "Come into our fold," they cry, "all ye discontented republicans! We are still the same old party of reform and stand for those principles that you advocate."
This is amusing because so utterly barefaced. History as recent as the last congress refutes it. When Aldrich needed votes to carry his tariff measure, which the measure that is supposed to be the chief cause of dissatisfaction in republican ranks, he found no difficulty in securing enough democratic support to carry it. And to think of Roger Sullivan, Tom Yagart of French Lick springs fame, or Tammany Murphy at the head of a reform party, is to smile. Of a certainty it is to smile.
The somewhat vacillating Peirless One, who has sporadically stood for various reforms, is discredited by his own party. And passing back only a few years to the time when the democrats were safely entrenched in the administrative and legislative branches of our government, we see a spectacle of such eager reformers, that even the most faithful democratic newspaper passes by that period in the utmost silence.
There is, however, no doubt in my mind that the party label of any party is less significant today than in any previous time of our history. Appeals to the voters in the name of this grand old party that Lincoln founded or the glorious party of Thomas Jefferson has no longer power to stir the heart throbs of the average voter, and that this is so is a healthy indication of a more intelligent grasp of public questions. It is this growing intelligence that must be reckoned with by those who aspire to public eminence in the future. The most intelligent voter is after all, the independent voter, who weighs all questions of public policy and casts his vote in accordance with his judgment. This class has grown sufficiently large in the last ten years to act as a safety valve on any party in power. May his tribe increase!

IRON WORKER FOUND DEATH IN STRANGE CIRCUMSTANCES

Joseph Belt Found Dead in Aetna Hotel with Head Buried in Blood-Covered Pillow.

John Belt, a structural iron worker, was found kneeling, with his head buried in a blood-covered pillow, dead, in a room at the Aetna hotel, Thirteenth and Douglas streets, yesterday afternoon. There was no wound perceptible on the man's body or evidence in the room to indicate how he had come to his death. Apparently he had suffered a hemorrhage.
Joseph White, day clerk in the rooming house, discovered Belt's body, when the clerk led a patron to the room, thinking it was unoccupied and intending to rent it. A chair was propped securely against the door knob in such a way as to hold it secure against entrance from the outside. White and his patron looked through the transom and upon seeing the prostrate form, forced the door in. Belt had been dead several hours.
Other rooms at the house said they had known Belt for over a year. During which time he lodged off and on at the Aetna. He was 31 years old and unmarried. He seemed always to be cheerful and without worry. The man's relatives are said to live in a town in Missouri.
Belt was robbed of his clothing by a roommate about a week ago. He reported the incident to the police, but said the

Taft Leaves on Seven Days' Trip To Middle West

President Will Visit St. Louis, Buffalo, Pittsburg and Cincinnati—Interest in Speeches.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—President Taft left Washington at 10 o'clock last night for Buffalo, which is to be his first stop on a seven-day trip into the middle west. From Buffalo the president goes to Pittsburg, thence to Cincinnati, St. Louis and back home, reaching here Friday, May 6.
Mr. Taft was accompanied Friday by Secretary of State Knox and Representative Alexander of Buffalo. Mr. Knox goes on to Pittsburg. The German ambassador, Count von Bernstorff, and Charles P. Taft will join the president at Pittsburg and go with him to Cincinnati. The president will spend two days in Pittsburg, where his principal engagement is an address before the American club Monday night. The American members are expecting a good, self-political talk from the president and it is said he may meet their wishes.
There have been many predictions as to the line the president's speeches will take on this trip. He has given no hint himself of what he will say, but it is significant that he is carrying away with him a full set of figures covering to date the operation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The president thinks these figures constitute a showing which justifies the measure, which he has often defended before.
At Buffalo the president will lunch with the Ad club and will dine with the Chamber of Commerce.
The Sunday in Pittsburg will be a quiet one, but Monday will be a busy day for Mr. Taft. In the morning the president will attend the founder's day exercises at Carnegie institute. In the afternoon he will watch the ball game between the Pittsburg and Chicago clubs, away with a full set of figures covering to date the operation of the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. The president thinks these figures constitute a showing which justifies the measure, which he has often defended before.
At St. Louis the president will breakfast with the Commercial club, will lunch with the Business Men's league, will address the Farmers' union in the Coliseum, will try to get a glimpse of both the National and stolen belongings were not of much value and the loss did not disturb him.

Coroner Crosby has charge of the body and will hold an inquest Saturday afternoon.
