UNION OF ALL THE CHURCHES

Proposed Merger of Protestants is Gaining.

ATTRACTS EARNEST ATTENTION

Unification of Efforts in the Missionary Work is Especially Endorsed by the Active Churchmen.

BY D. V. FRANCIS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(Special to The Bee.)—The question of the organic union of the Protestant churches is receiving a good deal of attention these days, and earnest men in various denominations have been inclined to believe that the tendency towards such union is growing.

The best opinion, however, is that while there is a strong trend toward the unification of effort along lines, particularly in the missionary field, where the churches are as one, there is no reason to believe that there is any hope of organic union. Indeed it is held by a great majority of church men that the divisions so far as they concerned methods of church government are necessary for the best development of Christianity.

Result of Conference.

One result of the World Missionary conference would assuredly seem to be a desire on the part of members of the different churches to understand the point of view of one another. It is in this spirit that twelve well-known bishops and clergymen and a like number of laymen of the Protestant Episcopal church of New York, have formed a Christian unity foundation, among whose objects are "to gather and disseminate accurate information relative to the faith and works of all Christian bodies; to devise and suggest practical methods of co-operation, substituting county for rivalry in the propagation of the common faith." The signatories include Bishop Crowell of Albany, who has presided over his large diocese for more than forty years, and has had the recognition of honorary degrees from the universities of Oxford, Cambridge and Dublin for his learning; Dr. Courne, who left the bishopric of Nova Scotia to take the Church of St. James, New York; and the bishops of Chicago, New York, southern Ohio and Newark. N. J. Of the latter are Rear Admiral Goodrich, who brought the Greely relief ship Alert to New York in 1884, and commanded the St. Louis during the Spanish war; Mr. Robert Fulton Cutting, president of the New York Citizens union for "improving the conditions of the poor;" Colonel Charles William Larned, who took part in the expedition against the Sioux in 1873, and Chief Justice J. H. Stines, a lay sympathizer, gives $10,000 for the initial expenses of the movement.

Americans Dominated.

"J. Campbell White, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, says the American delegates dominated the recent conference at Edinburgh, where almost all of the civilized nations of the world were represented, and it suggests a reason for it which seems plausible, de-## clears the Advance (Congregational).

The speakers were limited to seven minutes, which, of course, is a short space of time in which to unburden one's mind if he is full of the subject. The Americans knew how to make the most of the opportunity, and the rest of the world did not. The other delegates would spend most of the allotted time in making apologies and in clearing the ground for action, and just as they were ready to start on the real subject the gavel would fall and the opportunity would be gone forever. The American delegates, on the other hand, would "cut out" all extraneous matter, omit explanations and apologies, and plunge at once into the heart of the subject. They would say what they had to say briefly, clearly, pointedly, and sit down. This way of doing appealed to the audience and the speeches of the Americans made a marked impression. We do have some tedious and long-winded public speakers in America, but fortunately none of them seems to have been sent as delegates to that conference.

"Reformer" writing in the "Scottish-American" says: "Once again the Scotch general assemblies have met and discussed many subjects, but alas, as usual, broached few themes pertaining to the welfare of the human majority. However, one rather interesting item did crop up—the proposal to regard the tenets of religion as immutable to seven years. Really, this 'seven years' idea is an excellent thing and the change in pastorates to be brought about, if it ever comes into force, will most undoubtedly lead to a quickening in important departments of church life. It is greatly to be feared, however, that the scheme, if adopted, is doomed, never to go much further than the proposal stage, chiefly owing to the resistance of those ministers who have fallen into 'fat living' which they strive their hardest to stick to. In fact, this same insistent determination to stick to their 'fat living' as long as strength remains to mount pulpit stairs and pound the board of a bible undoubtedly explains to the great extent the present day existence of the vast number of non-church goers.

Regulating the Pay.

"I would like to see the 'seven years' idea associated with another novel proposal to regard the clerical remuneration, the paying of ministers at so much per church-attending member. Suppose the number of members' names on the books of a church to be 600, one-sixth of this number would be always deducted as representing those members who, through illness or other unavoidable cause, are possibly absent from church. This leaves 400 members free to attend divine service if inclined.

"A 'living wage' for the minister would be figured out at so many dollars per member for the 500 free to attend. Such a number of the 500 as failed to attend on Sunday at church would mean so many dollars deducted of the preacher's living wage. Thus, when the minister was performing his work well he would be drawing the whole 500 members to church and earning his 'living wage' at the same time.

"When on the other hand he failed to properly fulfil his duty by the 'inability to attract,' then for what I term 'bad work' he would be penalized as indicated. The above scheme, it seems to me, would provide the necessary 'spur in action,' of which so many present day divines undoubtedly stand in need."

A "Bible and Christian workers" confer## ence is being held at Stony Brook, L. I.

for two weeks, beginning August 14. This is the most important conference of the season at Stony Brook. About thirty speakers have been secured among them the leading men of this country. Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., speaks every day during the conference, preaching each morning at 11 o'clock and in the afternoon and conducting conferences for ministers. Other well known speakers are Rev. R. M. Russell, D. D., president of Westminster college; John Willis Baser, L.L.D., president of Occidental college; Andrew Stevenson, Rev. W. H. Roberts, D. D., of Philadelphia; Bishop Lewis of the Methodist church, Rev. George Hooper Jones of Corea, William Phillips Hall, Don O. Shelton, Rev. J. K. McClurkin, D. D., president of Pittsburgh, and Rev. Frank Grant, D. D.

Student Work in England.

"It will be learned with some surprise by the friends of the Young Men's Christian association in this country," says the Record of Christian Work, "that the so-called student movement in England is not upon the same exclusively evangelistic basis with the movement in America. The aim of the leaders in Great Britain seems to be the comprehension of every type of religious life (excepting the Roman Catholic) in one corporate unity, an aim which is obviously impossible of realization except by considerable compromises. While the movement has been successful as far as numbers go along this line, it is not to be expected that its policy secured general approval. The Cambridge Intercollegiate Christian union, for instance, which has been for its last twenty-five years an aggressive, evangelistic and evangelistic student organization in the university, has on this account, surrendered its affiliation with the English student movement body, feeling that it can accomplish its work on an independent basis more effectively than in making concessions to the high Anglican and theologically broad members of the university, with a view to securing their co-operation."

Special Training.

Following the desire of the pope, expressed in a recent message to the clergy of the Catholic church, St. Matthews' church in Washington is making preparations to have a number of men and boys specially trained.

BREEN TALKS OF CONTEST

Says that the Vote of Dahlman in Douglas Contest May Be Reviewed.

Rumors of contest and trouble over the results in the primary are already started. It was said Saturday afternoon that John P. Breen, attorney for Stors Brewing company, had been retained for Governor Shallenberger an attorney to investigate the polling in the Third ward where Dahlman got a big majority. Shallenberger himself has given out and said that he has no desire to try to overthrow the primary nominations, but some of his supporters are planning to take that means to upset Mayor Jim's chance at the gubernatorial chair. Mr. Breen when asked if he had been retained to take care of the post-election scrap said he had not "definitely," but that there were a great many "rumors" abroad and that the whole Douglas county vote might be contested.

SAMSON AWAITS ROOSEVELT

Actors Learning New Lines Especially for the Hunter.

NUMBER OF KNIGHTS GROWS

To the Present Time 1,420 Citizens of Omaha and South Omaha Have Joined the Ranks—Only Members Can Go.

Only Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben will be admitted to the Den on the night when Theodore Roosevelt will be guest of honor. Consequently the knights are hustling to get under the wire. Tomorrow night there will be nothing unusual at the Den. That is, unless something turns up in the meantime. The principal reason for tomorrow being an off night is that the cast wants to practice up a little before the night of September 2. With the Ak-Sar-Ben players practice is usually better than the real performance. When the special Roosevelt performance opens it will bear little resemblance to what the knights have been getting for the last three months. It would never do, thinks Samson, to meet out to the distinguished republican the same line of entertainment which has been shoved off on the knights themselves. Samson has led into the fold, to date, just 1,420 citizens of Omaha, who have paid in their $10 each with the utmost grace. Samson is proud of his 1,420 followers, but is not yet content. He wants a few hundred more just to keep in practice signing his name to the little cards with stars on them.

Clarence Adams, who has composed a symphony in aeronautics, will fly it before the Board of Governors on September 10. He has completed a bi-plane of his own invention, made by himself at his factory near Papillion and is now ready to demonstrate its powers before the Ak-Sar-Ben governors. It is found to come up to the inventor's claims the Board of Governors will contract for flights to be made at Fort Omaha during the fall festival.

Two free acts have been signed for the fall festival. One is the "Fearless Greggs," who leap a gap in an automobile, the machine turning three complete somersaults while in the air. The other attraction is a man sliding down a 40-foot cable hanging by his teeth. He also does it hanging by his toes. "Thrilling," says Samson.

The electric parade, or rather the floats which are to be used in the parade, are being completed one by one and Samson is getting them sorted out. The names of those so far named are: "Treasury," "Naval Department," "Commerce and Labor," "Postoffice Department," "Interior Department," "Law and Justice" and "Nebraska Farmer."

The crowd which attends each week at the Den is one of the big hits and it enters with enthusiasm into the fun of the affair. The larger the crowd and the more enthusiastic the better the actors do their parts.

Council Holds

a Meeting to Pass Estimates

Because Quorum Could Not Be Present Tuesday Body Gets Together Saturday.

The city council held a special meeting Saturday morning to pass estimates on $50,000 worth of street work, since the regular Tuesday meeting will not be held next week, because half of the council members will be out of the city. A delegation of city officials headed by City Clerk Dan Butler and including Councilmen Funkhouser, Schroeder, Bridges, Kugel and Sheldon, will go to St. Paul, leaving Sunday night, to attend the convention of the League of American Municipalities, which holds forth for three days. City License Inspector Schneider will also go on this trip as an emissary backed by the school board.

The delegation expects to make a fight to have Councilman Funkhouser, now third vice president of the league, elected as first vice president. Dan Butler has been chosen as orator for the campaign.

Besides the officials attending the convention several others were planning to be out of town, including Joseph Hummel, who is going on a vacation trip. No quorum could have been present Tuesday night. The estimates called for immediate action and had to be specially acted upon. The council also accepted an invitation from the Rod and Gun club to attend the Venetian carnival.

CAMPAIGN AGAINST POSTCARDS

City Prosecutor Says He Will Instruct the Police to Proceed Against All Violators.

City Prosecutor Judge Dickinson is determined that the display and sale of obscene postcards shall be stopped in Omaha. He has informed the police department that he will allow firms handling suggestive cards ten days in which to get them out of their stores, after which time arrests are to be made.

Thursday a quantity of the goods was confiscated by Mogy Bernstein at the corner of Sixteenth and Farnam streets. Judge Dickinson states that this firm is only one of a large number who have been and are violating the city ordinance and that the law must be observed or the violators will be prosecuted. It is said that the largest part of the postcard concerns carry a vulgar of cards which are indecent and vulgar. This is a direct violation of the law and a strict ban against the sale or display of such things is provided by law.

GIRL BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Jane Williams, the 9-year-old daughter of J. A. Williams, Tenth and Hickory streets, sustained a severe fracture of her left arm last night while riding a bicycle near her home. She was attended by Dr. E. C. Henry.

Venetian Fete

at the Gun Club

Annual Affair to Be Staged with Greater Splendor Than Ever.

What promises to be a gorgeous affair is the annual Venetian carnival which is to be held at the Rod and Gun club Thursday evening. The club directors made complete arrangements for the big affair in a meeting Thursday evening.

According to the announcement the carnival will be radically different and more elaborate than any which have ever been held at the club before. It is planned that the spectacle shall be kept in full view of all the guests at all times. The plan is to have motor boats, sailboats, rowboats and canoes in the form of a moving and illuminated circle round a big boat in the center of the lake.

Women in beautiful Venetian costumes will have their places on the boats and music by a band on the central vessel will afford the entertainment.

G. W. Aulabaugh was originator of the idea to be embodied in the festival. He has made himself highly popular through his efforts. Oscar Lieben has charge of the costuming of the Venetian women and decorative effects on the boats and promises some splendid ensembles.

The mayors and city councilmen of Omaha, South Omaha, Council Bluffs, Benson and Florence have been extended invitations to attend.

Vice President Dundy is to deliver the address of welcome, and the various mayors present will respond. It is announced the cafe will be equipped to do full service.

HILL ROAD CONDEMNNS LOT

Prepares to Straighten Its Line Into Omaha Depot.

APPRAISERS' REPORT IS FILED

Some Lots Are Bought and Others Condemned, for Which Road Must Pay $24,050 to the Owners.

The Burlington is preparing to straighten its track running into the depot on Tenth street from the west and to that end has had considerable property condemned at the depot. Two years ago the Hill interests bought up some lots south of the present track that they might have room to straighten the tracks. The Haarmann property on Thirteenth street was secured by a heavy outlay.

Owners of property at the south end of the Eleventh street viaduct will receive an aggregate of $24,050 for their holdings which have been condemned to the Burlington for the location of the proposed new terminal tracks.

An appraisers' report was filed in the office of the county clerk Saturday morning. The following amounts were placed on the properties of the persons named: James B. Callahan, $9,700; Mary Callahan, $3,500; estate of Charles M. Conover, $7,700; addition for vertical cut, $3,150.

The board of appraisers consisted of W. L. Selby, C. E. McDonald, T. W. Hassel, C. D. Hutchinson, J. E. George and F. C. Best.

Convincing.

"The aviator dipped a little lower. 'What place is this?' he screamed to a man on a rocky ledge below. 'The man howled back a name as long as your arm. 'The aviator flew still lower. 'A little lower, please.' 'The man gave the name a little slower, and it took just forty-six seconds to round it up. 'Get it?' the aviator's partner asked. 'No, I didn't get it.' the aviator replied; 'and this clearly convinces me that we are somewhere over the coast of Wales.' (Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with genuine success. Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.
