Carries Ball Seven Times on Long
Sprints and Scores Four Touchdowns—Nebraska Defense is Superb.

LINCOLN, Oct. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Nebraska literally swamped the Kansas Aggies this afternoon, with substitutes in the lineup scoring the major portion of the game, by a score of 59 to 0.

During the first quarter the Aggies played stubbornly, but the Cornhuskers' scoring machine crushed them by the closing half and Nebraska scored nearly at will, unfortunate fumbles serving to keep the score down.

Twice Kansas had a chance to score, when securing the ball on Nebraska's thirty-five-yard line on fumbles, but the Aggies attempted drop kicks; but each time the ball went wide and Nebraska soon rushed it out of danger. Nebraska scored one touchdown in the first quarter on a ten-yard run by Warner, but the player was thrown out and the ball brought back. Time was called before the Cornhuskers could place the ball over the line again.

Score in Five Minutes.
E. Frank scored the first touchdown for Nebraska after five minutes of play on a trick forward pass by Warner to Frank on the ten-yard line. E. Frank kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 6; Kansas Aggies, 0.

The Aggies kicked off and O. Frank immediately punted sixty-five yards. Nebraska got the ball on downs and Letgren made twenty-five yards on an end run. Warner equipped over the line for a touchdown, but the ball was brought back and time called for the first quarter. On the resumption of play in the second quarter, after three minutes, Warner again went around the right end for a touchdown and O. Frank kicked goal. The Aggies could not gain after the kick-off and Howenstein punted to E. Frank, who returned the ball thirty yards. The quarter ended with Nebraska making a steady march for the Aggies' goal.

Substitutes in Line.
Stiehm then substituted several men, placing Raceley at right half, Gibson at left half. On the first play Raceley eluded the Aggies in a broken field and ran seventy-five yards for a touchdown. Gibson kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 13; Aggies, 0.

Scarfier went in for Stahl. Nebraska returned the kickoff twenty yards and Nebraska punted to the Aggies, who could not gain. Potter returned Howenstein's punt thirty yards and then made twenty-five more on a fake quarterback run around right end. Wherein went in for Maurin at left guard. On the first play following the kickoff which was returned twenty-five yards, Russell went around right end for eighteen yards. Raceley sprinted forty yards for a touchdown and Russell kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 23; Aggies, 0.

Gibson returned the kickoff twenty yards and Russell took the ball on the next play and with beautiful interference ran eighty-three yards for a touchdown. Gibson kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 33; Aggies, 0.

Raceley Scores.
Mulligan went in for Potter, who was tackled fiercely on a short return of the kickoff. Pollan of Kansas went in for young Raceley took the ball on the next play and with the aid of excellent interference ran fifty-nine yards for a touchdown. Gibson kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 38; Aggies, 0.

Time was called after Nebraska had returned the kickoff fifteen yards. Ross went in for Hornberger. Raceley broke away again on an end run following a short line buck, running forty-eight yards for a touchdown. Gibson kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 43; Aggies, 0.

Howenstein kicked off to Owen Frank, who dashed through a broken field for fifty-five yards for a touchdown. Howenstein kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 49; Aggies, 0.

Owen Frank then made the sensational play of the day when, taking the ball on the twenty-five-yard line from the kickoff, he sprinted through the entire field and scored a touchdown. Howenstein kicked goal. Score: Nebraska, 54; Aggies, 0.

E. Frank went in for Raceley again. O. Frank made a forward pass immediately following the kickoff to Gibson, the pass netting forty yards. Elliott went in for O. Frank. Pollan went in for Hehr of Kansas and Purdy for Gibson of Nebraska. Elliott made ten yards around the end and placed the ball behind the goal posts. Purdy failed at goal. Score: Nebraska, 59; Aggies, 0.

Purdy took the ball on the kickoff and ran thirty yards. Freitag went in for Elliott. Time was called before the next play was started.

Aggies Good Punters.

Only in one department were the Cornhuskers outplayed. Raceley, outside of O. Frank, played the best game for Nebraska. He carried the ball seven times on long sprints and scored four touchdowns. Nebraska gained nearly ten times as many yards as the Aggies. The Nebraska defense was superb and the Aggies could do nothing in line plunges. The Cornhuskers also failed to use the forward pass with much success. Lineup:

Denied Hates, Continent Forms
Just Same and Will Journey to Minneapolis Looking for Cornhuskers to Win.

LINCOLN, Oct. 14.—(Special.)—The annual battle between the Cornhuskers and the Gophers is the one sole topic of interest at the University of Nebraska, and speculation is rife concerning the outcome of the first crucial game on the Nebraska schedule. There is a sentiment among the undergraduates at Nebraska quite different from that which is usually found before the big Minnesota game, for it is believed that Nebraska will defeat the northerners.

Such a sentiment hardly finds basis in the comparative scores of the games played by Minnesota and Nebraska during the last few years. In fact, the Cornhuskers have but a slender record upon which to hang their hopes of victory. During the last ten seasons the Cornhuskers and Gophers have met annually and in but one game have the Cornhuskers succeeded in halting their northern foe. Beginning in 1900 the results of the games were as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Nebraska, Year, Minnesota. Lists game results from 1900 to 1910.

In the ten games played Minnesota has scored 135 points, while the Cornhuskers have scored but 28. In six of the ten games the Cornhuskers have failed to cross their opponents' goal line. The victory in 1903 was attributed to lack of training on the part of the Gophers by the Minnesota papers, although it seems reasonable that the northerners simply met their match.

Just why the Cornhuskers are so sanguine over the outcome of the game is hard to figure out. It is true that the showing of the Cornhuskers against the Kearney Normal was very promising as compared with the low score of the Minnesota-South Dakota game, but in the Coyotes the Gophers bit off one of the toughest propositions in middle west football. The South Dakota back field is faster than any in the west. In the opinion of many Cornhuskers, and this is accountable to no small extent for the terrific battle on Northrup field a week ago.

It is surprising, too, what remarkably low scores the Gophers pile up in the preliminary games. Foxy Dr. Williams apparently has a method to his madness, for without exception when Nebraska has expected to make an excellent showing it has fallen down miserably, while the years when it was expected that the Cornhuskers would be smothered has always seen Nebraska giving the Gophers a terrific battle.

Only a glimpse at the records is necessary to reveal this condition of affairs. A still stranger situation is revealed when examination is made of the Missouri valley records. When Nebraska has won the undisputed title to the Missouri valley championship it has fallen before the prowess of the mighty Gophers, but on three separate occasions when the season in the Missouri valley resulted disastrously to the Cornhuskers it has had the help of a low Minnesota score.

Many Old Stars Back.
The week will be the busiest for the Cornhusker squad since the inception of the present season. Coach Stiehm has

CHICAGO, Oct. 14.—Extra weight all through the team enabled Chicago university to defeat Purdue at foot ball here today, the score being 11 to 3. It was a clean, grinding fight all the way through. The game finally working over in Chicago's favor, after the swifter Purdue backs had given the opening of the contest the appearance of an easy victory for the visiting team.

Guard Ruffner for Purdue kicked a field goal within five minutes after Purdue, taking the ball on first kickoff, had pushed it down close enough to Chicago's goal to make it possible, the scramble being filled with end runs, tackle plays, a shifting formation plan and forward passes. After Chicago had learned Purdue's game in the first and after two fights clear across the field, scrubby kicked a field goal for Chicago and repeated within four minutes. OMAHA HIGH BEATS YORK

and Frequent Fumbles.

RACHMAN EJECTED FROM FIELD

Omaha Man Forced to Quit Game
for Questioning Decision—
Omaha Outweighed, but Outplays Opponents.

Although outweighed at least twelve pounds to the man, the Omaha high school eleven triumphed over the New York high school lads by a score of 12 to 6 yesterday afternoon at Rourke park.

Twice in the last half Omaha crossed the York goal line with the ball and the Omaha rosters went wild; but McFarland, of York, who officiated as umpire, refused to allow either play to be scored a touchdown, ruling in one case that a photographer on the field had interfered in the play and in the other that there had been off-side playing.

Omaha was penalized time and again, their penalties totalling eighty-five yards against thirty-five for York. Rachman at left tackle for Omaha was ejected from the field in the fourth quarter for disputing a decision of the umpire. Both teams frequently resorted to punting and the game was marred by much fumbling. Rector outpunted Osborne, York's kicker, averaging forty-five yards on his punts.

York Scores First.
The first touchdown came at the beginning of the second quarter when Proid, fullback for York, broke away for a ninety-five-yard run and a touchdown on a fuke play. York failed to kick goal. Neither of Omaha's touchdowns came until the second half and things looked mighty gloomy for Omaha after the first two quarters had been finished.

"Eggs" De Lamatre at left half was the particular star of the game, although he did not get in until the second quarter. He brought the crowd to its feet early in the third quarter, when he received the ball on a fumble on York's ten-yard line and scored Omaha's first touchdown. Bowman at right half and Rector at fullback also played good games, Rector making a gain of four from five to twenty-five yards every time he was called upon to carry the ball. Bowman played hard and made the second touchdown for Omaha in the fourth quarter. The whole team worked all the time.

Froip at fullback, Osborne at quarter, and Wideman at left half were the particular stars for York. Osborne getting the plaudits of the entire crowd with a perfect drop kick between the goal posts from the thirty-yard line in the fourth quarter. Both Osborne and Wideman played on the team last year.

Campbell and Hopkins Hurt.
A Campbell at right guard and Hopkins at left tackle for York were the only players injured during the game, but time was taken out several times while some of the decisions of Umpire McFarland were being disputed.

A large crowd of students and others witnessed the game and kept things lively while it was in progress. Principal McHugh and most of the faculty attended and rooted for the Omaha lads.

The Game.
Omaha won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. York kicked to Omaha. Munneke receiving the ball on the fifteen-yard line. Rachman and Rector made gains of five yards each on line plunges. Munneke made another five yards and Rector four. York held and Rector punted. Omaha recovering the ball, Rachman made three yards through right guard, Munneke fumbling on the next play and the ball going to York. Osborne of York punted thirty yards and PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14.—The scene within the polo grounds as the first game of the world's base ball championship series began was one of intense animation. The vast crowd filled every available seat of the stadium and bleachers and overflowed to the remotest sections of the grounds, while further back, from household galleries, telegraph poles and window ledges a fringe of excited enthusiasts thronged the field. Great crowds were still streaming through the gates as the men took their positions for the play. The police arrangements had been so well matured that there was comparatively little disorder. It was estimated that the crowd numbered upward of 25,000 people, and probably would reach 50,000.

By 7 o'clock 200 persons were in line behind the vanguard which had endured the allnight vigil. Eight patrolmen, a sergeant and a police captain had been on duty all night, and there was no disorder. A college professor and three women were the most conspicuous figures in the long line of "bleacherites." They admitted that they had been on the ground since 5 o'clock this morning.

Giants in Fine Form.
All the Giants reported at the club house in fine condition and Manager McGraw said the team would take the diamond in its best playing form. The players were confident, but they were not making any boasts.

The New York players came early to the grounds in hopes of avoiding the crush about the gates. But they had to edge their way through the waiting throngs, and when recognized were given receptions that would have ended disastrously for their playing arms, had not the police interfered.

Mathewson and Marquard, on whom McGraw depends to bear the weight of pitching labor, told the manager that they were willing to work on alternate days, and felt able to pitch every other game. The manager smiled and remarked that Ames and Wittse were in good form.

The Philadelphia players at their hotel had a good night's rest following their arrival from Philadelphia.

Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, inscrutable as ever, smiled most cordially preliminary to giving a reporter his views of the series and sagely observed: "It will be a fine game."

Until the championship is decided those who believed they were treated unfairly in the distribution of tickets may withhold their complaints, but apparently there is a reckoning in store for the New York club's management. The National commission, the postal authorities and even the state legislature is investigating its methods.

Details of the Play.
First Inning—Athletics: Lord struck out. Mathewson's control was perfect and Oldring fanned. Collins flied out to Devore. No runs.

Giants: Devore got a hit to right. McGraw struck out. Doyle, second, as Thomas' throw was low. Murray struck out. No runs.

Second Inning—Athletics: Baker singled to right. Murphy sacrificed, Mathewson to Merkle. On a passed ball Baker took third. Baker scored on Davis' single to left. Barry out, Mathewson to Merkle, Davis taking second. Thomas out, Herzog to Merkle. One run.

Giants: Merkle out, Collins to Davis, Herzog, who took Fletcher's place in the batting order, went out when Barry threw him out at first. Fletcher struck out. New York, no runs. Total score: Athletics, 1; New York, 0.

Third Inning—Athletics: Bender out, Mathewson to Merkle. Lord flied out to Murray. Oldring doubled to left, Collins walked. Baker struck out. No runs.

Giants: Myers flied out to Oldring, Mathewson fanned. The Indian's pitching was beautiful to see, his curve breaking over the edges of the plate. Devore walked. Doyle flied out to Lord. New York, no runs.

Largely a Pitchers' Duel.
Fourth Inning—Athletics: The game so far involved itself into a pitchers' duel, and while the play was in progress there was long moments of intense silence. Only when a hit was made or there was some brilliant fielding play did the crowd vent its enthusiasm. Murphy fouled out to Meyers. Davis went out, Fletcher to Merkle. Mathewson worked his famous fadeaway and mixed up with a big drop and high fast one. Barry popped up to Fletcher. Athletics no runs. Total score: Athletics, 1; New York, 0.
