MANY DATES FOR AUDITORIUM

Big Building to Be in Almost Constant Use This Winter.

BIG CONVENTIONS ARE BOOKED

Home Products Show, Automobile Show, Cement Dealers and Hardware Dealers Are to Draw Many Thousands.

One of the busiest seasons the Auditorium company has ever experienced is expected by the directors during the coming winter. Starting next week the big building will be in use nearly every week until the latter part of April.

The number that passed through the Auditorium during the year ending October 31, 1912, will probably be exceeded by over 25,000. It is expected that at least 300,000 persons will pass through the doors of the Auditorium before November 1, 1913.

Activities will start next Monday night, when the first wrestling match of the season will be staged. Jesse Westergaard and Erler Orlande will lock horns in a fight.

Starting November 23 and lasting five days the Auditorium company will give moving picture shows of Sarah Bernhardt in "Queen Elizabeth." This is the first time these pictures have been shown in America and popular prices will prevail.

During December several wrestling matches will be staged and roller skating will hold full sway whenever the Auditorium is not in use.

After January 1 the Auditorium will be in constant use. Beginning January 7 and lasting through to January 19 the Nebraska Implement Dealers will hold their convention. The stage and arena will be used for exhibits. It is estimated that 1,500 implement dealers from all parts of the state will be in attendance at this convention.

Noted Dancer Coming. Mile. Adeline Genee, the famous dancer, will appear at the Auditorium under the direction of Miss Evelyn Hopper, January 30, for two performances. She will have her own orchestra and ballet, numbering more than fifty.

February 3 to 8, inclusive, has been set aside for the Nebraska Cement Users' convention. They will use the entire building, both first and second floor, for exhibits. Over 800 dealers in, and users of, cement will come.

Immediately after the close of this convention the Auditorium will be cleaned and put in readiness for the Nebraska Hardware association convention. This convention will open February 10 and close February 15. Exhibits will be placed on the stage and arena. This is probably the largest convention of the year, over 2,000 men are coming.

On February 23 to 30, inclusive, the annual automobile show will be staged at the Auditorium. This show next year is expected to exceed that of any previous year and the promoters are making arrangements already for a banner exhibit. As heretofore, the basement and first floor will be used for the exhibit of cars and motor trucks, while the stage will hold the exhibit of oils and accessories.

Beginning March 5 and lasting over ten days, L. W. Buckley has engaged the building for the usual convention of the Nebraska Federation of Retail Dealers. A home products' show will be staged.

March 27 and 28 has been engaged for both afternoon and evenings, when the St. Paul Symphony orchestra will give four concerts.

City officials are so wrought up over the dense smoke that pours out of the new court house chimney and mingles with the brick dust raised in the wrecking of the old building that they may be compelled to make application to Finnegan for relief.

Employees in the city hall, choking with anger and soot, called up the police station. "Just look at the nuisance pouring out of the court house," said one, befuddled. A cop hurried out to take a slant. There was not a sign of smoke.

A few seconds later the chimney belched forth a dense cloud of the blackest smoke ever observed in this locality. Commissioner Ryder's office was appealed to. The commissioner ran into his private office to answer the telephone. Finally he got the message, and with a slow, consuming anger rising in his soul, he turned to the window to investigate.

There was not a sign of smoke. Mrs. Calmar, superintendent of the court house, nor P. L. C. E. H. Finnegan himself, can explain the phenomenon, but they put it down to some diabolical quality in the coal consumed.

Plans are being made to conduct an official investigation as soon as the first case of strangulation is reported. City hall habitués maintain that such cases will result unless most stringent remedial measures are resorted to at once.

Virginian Deplores Poor Man's Chances "Those who write political platforms would do well to devise some sort of court reform that would give an accused man without money a better chance to obtain the full benefit of the higher courts without making it necessary for him to be a rich man," said J. J. Halliwell of Richmond, Va., at the Rome.

"This occurs to me simply on account of some things that have come up in connection with the trials of Floyd and Claude Allen, the Hillsville bandits, who have been sentenced to death. I don't care anything about their case in particular, for they are no doubt guilty and deserve what they got. But here is the point. Floyd Allen's wife made an appeal for money to aid in the effort to save the men from death. I am using this case only to illustrate. The same is true in hundreds of other cases. Now if a man must have a lot of money before his case can be carried up to the higher courts, then the man without it is always at a disadvantage when he happens to be accused of a crime, whether he is guilty or innocent."

PERFORMS FOR BUFFALO BILL

Cuba Crutchfield, Cowboy Rope Twirler, Meets Colonel Cody.

THINKS HE'S FINE COWBOY TYPE

Thought Buffalo Bill Ought to Have Been Older—Cuba and Wife Are Wintering Here and May Join Buffalo Bill Show.

Cuba Crutchfield, Cherokee Indian cowboy rope twirler, met Colonel William F. Cody and Colonel "Bill" McCune last night at the Hippodrome, where the champion rope thrower of the world performed for "Buffalo Bill." Although Crutchfield has been in wild west operas and circuses for ten years and for five years has held the title of the world's star manipulator of the tartar he had never seen Colonel Cody.

"I thought Colonel Cody would be a much older man in appearance," said Cuba. "I've been within a few miles of his show several times, but never saw him nor Buffalo Bill's Wild West show. He said he thought the Colonel was a mighty fine type of the 'cowboy' and to this his wife agreed. Colonel Cody, hair and beard snow-white, but eyes bright and cheeks glowing pink with health, occupied a box with his party.

"Buffalo Bill" left shortly after Crutchfield's performance, which was enjoyed especially for him. Cuba may be engaged for the Buffalo Bill show next season.

Crutchfield and his wife are spending the winter at Thirty-sixth and Q streets, South Omaha, with his aunt. "I first began throwing the rope ten years ago," said Cuba, "at my home at Claremore, Okl. My chum and I saw a man whirl a string much as I whirl the rope now. We secured pieces of rope and were soon learning the game. I succeeded more rapidly than my chum.

"I consider the three backward somersaults through the whirling lariat the most difficult thing I do," said Cuba. "It took me a year to learn that. To my knowledge no one else in the world can do it. I did not show all my stunts tonight, for lack of time."

Cuba thinks the funniest thing about him is his name. He says he was named after the island of Cuba and more than that he does not know. His eyes are brown and his face shows no Indian features, but his hair is straight and jet black.

Mrs. Crutchfield watched her husband perform and criticized or praised him in the wings afterward. "She's just kidding me," Cuba said.

Mrs. Crutchfield is a Nebraskaan, having lived until a year ago at Sidney, where her father, Judge James Tucker, was county judge of Cheyenne county. Cuba met Susie over a year ago. They will have been married a year in December.

Omaha Stands Chance to Land Ball Meeting

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—The Omaha boosters are believed to have the best chance of landing the 1913 meeting of the minor leaguers. The promoter for Omaha says he has fifteen of the thirty votes pledged and the promoter for Columbus says he has fifteen pledged. The promoter for Nashville, when interviewed, said he had eight pledges, so that makes thirty-eight votes out of the thirty present.

When the Denver team in the Western league upheld the honor of the league against the American association by defeating the association star Miller team, Jack Hendricks, twice pennant winner for the Denverites, brought himself into such base ball prominence that he is now a possibility as manager of the St. Paul association team.

George L. Lennon today put the proposition to Hendricks and is anxious to have Jack handle the Saints, figuring that this would be a drawing card for his team with the beaten Millers in the other of the Twin Cities. The Western league will hold its meeting tomorrow to discuss the salary limit question, which was adjusted by the general convention this afternoon. The convention will probably be routinely merely to put in effect for the Western league the new ruling.

SHIPPERS HOLDING HOGS TO BE MORE FULLY FED

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 14.—(Special Telegram.)—Price Current says the marketing of hogs the last week has been comparatively small in numbers, probably due to some extent to retention of stock to be more fully fed upon the abundance of available material. Total western slaughtering were approximately 90,000 hogs, compared with 60,000 the preceding week and 40,000 last year. From November 1 the total is approximately 75,000, against 1,000,000 a year ago. The general average of prices of hogs at prominent markets at the close is about $2.50 per 100 pounds, compared with $1.40 a week ago and $1.20 a year ago. Total number of hogs slaughtered since November 1 at places indicated:

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Saloon Men Engage City Council in Free Lunch Controversy.

ORDINANCE MAY NOT BE PASSED

Little Likelihood City Fathers Will Settle Dispute Between Liquor Men—Few Access Under Albert Law.

Will the present city council pass the ordinance against the dispensation of free lunch in saloons? This question is agitating the minds of those who are interested in the measure. As a matter of fact the question of an ordinance against free lunches in saloons is merely a saloon men's fight, into which the city council is urged to interfere on one side or the other. A year ago the same fight was made and Councilman John Walters said at the time that the question did not pertain to the city council and he was opposed to making the councilmen party to the fight.

The free lunch ordinance is sought on the grounds that it is unsanitary. It is urged with particular zest by those among the saloon men who cannot hire the trade of places where the free lunch is dispensed. A few who are sure of their trade are willing to cut out the free lunch and save the difference. On the other hand many places that have built up a trade on their free lunch counter are opposed to any ordinance that will do away with the free lunch feature of the saloons. Other saloons, well established, are opposed to the measure on the general principle that the matter is out of the jurisdiction of the city council.

Said one saloon man yesterday: "If the supporters of the free lunch ordinance are merely moved by the thought of the sanitary welfare of their patrons let them cut out their own free lunches and do away with unsanitary features in their places. The ordinance is directed against the saloons with a big trade by those who think they can lure a part of the patronage away if they can do away with free lunch."

It is not expected that the council will do any more with the ordinance this year than it did a year ago.

Few Arrests Are Made. Chief of Police John Briggs with Detective James Sheahan, acting upon the special order of the mayor to clean up the town, went out yesterday forenoon and arrested two negro women, Elizabeth White and Sarah Mills, at Twenty-fifth and Q streets. One of the women was charged with being the keeper of an illegal resort, while the other was termed an inmate.

It is known that for some time complaints have been made to the mayor about a certain section of the city where citizens aver open solicitation is carried on by white and negro women. The exact localities were given the mayor, who thereupon, with the concurrence of Commissioner John Ryan, drafted a letter to the police notifying them of conditions and instructing them to proceed forthwith against the Albert law breakers.

Besides the infractions of the Albert law, there is also a decided looseness among others of the sporting element of South Omaha. Several small gambling dens are said to have been running for some time. Larger resorts opened their doors some time ago and it was said that things were fixed for the winter. Tuesday night the police raided a small Greek game. Mayor Hector says he has given orders regarding the closing of such places. Generally when the orders are given Chief of Police Briggs takes a hand and a few arrests are made.

Peter Pryor of Wayne Dead. After a short illness Peter Pryor of Omaha yesterday noon following a surgical operation. Mr. Pryor was the father of E. E. Pryor, law clerk in the office of Murphy & Winters, and was a well known farmer of Wayne. He was 64 years of age at the time of his death.

Until a few weeks ago Mr. Pryor enjoyed the hale and hearty life of a Nebraska farmer. What appeared to be a trifling ailment enforced the attention of a physician, who immediately decided that an operation was necessary. Mr. Pryor came to Omaha at once and Tuesday afternoon underwent the operation. For a few hours it was hoped the patient would survive, but shock and complications brought on a condition of coma which resulted in death yesterday noon.

Mr. Pryor was a lifelong resident of Nebraska. He was one of the most successful farmers of his section of the state and was highly regarded by his friends and neighbors. He is survived by 12 children, three of whom are his three daughters. His youngest son, L. E. Pryor of this city, is law clerk for the firm of Murphy & Winters.

The body will be sent to Wayne this morning from the undertaking parlors of Bernard Larkin.

Amphion Club Concert. Under the leadership of E. P. Baker, the Amphion club, a local musical organization, which some years ago met with marked success in concert work, is now being reorganized, and from present indications will begin rehearsals in about two weeks, with a full membership of fifty of the best vocalists in the city. The need of a study club, combining the vocal talent of the city, has been felt for some time, and the plan now outlined has met with the hearty support of the leaders of the various choirs, who have joined with the club as an executive committee to complete the organization. Membership applications are being secured rapidly, but the club will be limited to about fifty of the best voices obtainable. Two concerts are contemplated this season, one of a mixed character and the final one the oratorio, "Light of Asia," by Dudley Buck, with soloists and orchestra.

Moore's City Gossip. Steam heated rooms for rent at 516 1/2 N. 24th St. Mrs. E. H. Baker has an executive committee to complete the organization. Membership applications are being secured rapidly, but the club will be limited to about fifty of the best voices obtainable.
