By MELLIFLOIA. Tuesday, May 27, 1913.

TWO Omaha girls, both graduates of the Omaha High school, have won honors at college recently. Miss Cearina Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Hall, who attends Lombard college at Galesburg, Ill., stands the highest in scholarship in the senior class. The Grand Chapter of Alpha Pi Delta sorority has offered an honor ring for any member of the sorority who has an average of 90 or more in scholarship for the four years' course. The ring has not been won for a number of years and Lombard college is especially proud to have had one of its students win this great honor. Miss Hall won the ring easily, as she has an average of 91.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and Miss Myrtle Hall will go to Galesburg to attend the commencement exercises June 4.

Miss Marguerite C. Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Walker, 2787 Capitol avenue, who is a senior of Coe college, graduates this June with the honor of "Magna Cum Laude" for excellent scholarship during her four years' college course. She is a member of the Choral union, a selected chorus of 200 voices, and also the contralto soloist for the College Girls' Glee club. Miss Walker will take the leading part in the senior play and has been in several other plays during the college year. She has likewise distinguished herself as a reader and has given numerous programs. She was an honor graduate of the Omaha High school before entering Coe college.

For the coming year Miss Walker has accepted a position as supervisor of English and public speaking at the High school at Waverly, Ia.

Mrs. Walker and daughter, Gladys, leave June 1 for Cedar Rapids, Ia., where they will attend the exercises of Commencement week at the college.

HAS NEW INTERURBAN ROAD

W. J. Dobbs Tells of New Line from St. Joseph to Omaha.

SAYS $40,000 HAS BEEN SPENT

Gives the Commercial Club the Information that Bonds Will Soon Be Sold to Finish the Road.

Surveys, topographical maps, drawings of rights of way and other preparations to the value of $40,000 have been made for an interurban line connecting St. Joseph with Omaha. J. W. Dobbs has informed the executive committee of the Commercial club, and a proposition is about to be made abroad for the sale of bonds to carry out the construction of the line.

The executive committee of the club, following the explanation of Dobbs, voted to take up the matter for further investigation and report at another meeting in the near future. Dobbs said it would take another large sum to establish the rights of way and complete other preliminary arrangements for the construction of the road. He believed, however, it could be built in a short time.

In describing the nature of such an interurban he said the line would not be a street car proposition, but would be equipped with modern electric engines and, besides, large passenger cars would have freight cars suitable for bringing live stock to the Omaha market. It would tap a country not now directly reached by the Omaha market, he said.

All the towns along the proposed line are anxious to help out in building the road. The present plans lay it along the Iowa side through Sidney, Riverton and Hamburg, Ia., and Tarkio, Mo.

The sale of bonds was definitely arranged, Dobbs intimated in Belgium.

Seniors at High School Preparing for the Big Event

The fervor of this year's senior class at the Omaha High school will reach its height Friday, when the biggest event of the year will be given, the class day. All work done by this class in meetings, or by individuals, has been leading ultimately to this crowning event. As far back as the second meeting of the senior class the first resolutions were being made. Then they only knew that they wanted a play, no matter what it might be. So they proceeded to select a play manager and an instructor who would aid them in their choice of a play.

From its choice to the cast was but a step. From then on the play has progressed in leaps and bounds, until now the seniors are able to proudly point to it. Every senior in the class has gotten his large or small circle of friends banded together to witness the play.

The result of this loyal class spirit is best seen in the sale of tickets. All exchangeable tickets were to be exchanged beginning yesterday and lasting all week. By 4 o'clock yesterday $465 had been taken in at the box office, either in exchangeable tickets or in actual money. This means that the seniors have made their class play a success from the day of the box office opening. In comparison with last year this advance sale lacks but $50 of equaling the total receipts of last year's play.

The members of the ticket selling committee have not ceased working, however, because of their success, but are trying manfully to sell the few remaining seats in order that they might set a precedent for future classes. The seniors will have only the rest of this week for enjoying their lessons before the end of the term. Next week will be devoted to answering the final examinations of the year. The week after that is the cadet encampment, when the students recuperate from the tedious year's work. The week after camp they need only attend in order to receive their cards, turn in their books and bid their teachers a lingering farewell. Altogether the seniors only have two more days of actual school work.

The Omaha Bee is read by all classes

It not only appeals to the people who think, but to those who want to be amused as well. Its editorial opinions on issues of importance command national attention. All the thinking is not done in mansions, nor does Mutt and Jeff appeal only to the "low brow."

The Bee is particularly a newspaper for and of the working people. It has been consistently fighting the battles of the wage earner. For example, in preventing an increase in the price of milk, in the fight for lower water rates, in fighting against medical charlatans, who prey chiefly on the credulous poor, and in every effort for better and more economical local government, it has been dealing with the working-man's big problems of life.
