WHERE WOMEN BEAT MEN

More Men Outclassed as Hustlers in Heavy Road Work in the Philippines.

You would not think that a woman could ever outwork a man when it comes to heavy road work, but such is, nevertheless, the case in the Philippines.

In the construction of the Paoy-Currimao road it is recalled that at one time there were approximately 500 women and girls employed daily. These feminine workers, receiving from 20 to 35 or 35 centavos per day, according to their strength and ability, are most efficient when materials for subgrade, surfacing or gravel and sand for concrete are to be carried a short distance. They tie up their skirts or "banding" to be less hampered as they work and wield shovels, load, carry and empty their baskets with a zeal that outclasses the men.

In the construction of subgrade, Paoy-Currimao road, it was necessary to haul material about one-half a kilometer at one point. This was accomplished with women workers. Men loaded the baskets at the borrow pits. Baskets hold about 100 cu. m. and are carried on the head. On a short haul a woman will carry from a meter to a meter and a half of material per day.

As may be imagined there is considerable talking done as the work progresses, especially in the afternoon, when the women begin to tire. Ignorance of the dialect may have caused the listener to misinterpret, but it is said that the captives (men) use some very forcible arguments to convince the ladies that they should talk less and work more.

On concrete work women are used to advantage carrying sand, gravel and water. They are not strong enough to mix concrete for any length of time, so men are employed for that purpose.—Engineering News.

Gossip of the Bowlers

The Gate City league opened their season this week with a well balanced organization and a close race is expected. The same old enthusiasm is still evident and there is no doubt but the league will again be considered the best in the city as far as good fellowship and pleasure are concerned.

The Mercantile league seems to have gone to the wall. The president has tried three times to call a meeting, but he received no response. Increasing the size of the team from three to five men seems to be the real difficulty.

The Lithographers have organized a league to roll on the Morrison alleys. Enthusiasm is rampant in their ranks and a successful season is looked forward to.
