The company, recently convicted on a similar charge, was fined $2,000. The case was tried on a change of venue. Henry Spencer, convicted murderer of Mrs. Mildred Allison Rexroat, yesterday was denied a new trial by Judge Slosser at Wheaton, Ill., and his attorneys will appeal to Governor Dunne to save him from the gallows. Spencer was sentenced to be hanged on December 19. The bill of exceptions in the trial of F. Drew Caminetti, convicted on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act, was formally filed yesterday in the San Francisco federal court. The chief points of the defense in petitioning for a new trial are that in the case of Caminetti no evidence was produced to show that his violation of the law was for gain and that the Mann law was intended to deal with commercialized vice. Discoveries of a school boy who has been going across lots through a little frequented bit of woods to his home in Hartshorn, a Texas county (Missouri) village, resulted yesterday in a raid and the capture of an illicit still by revenue officers. The owner of the still, surrendered to James Case, a deputy collector of internal revenue, without resistance. Several barrels of whiskey were confiscated and the still demolished.

SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

Valuable Educational Directory Issued by Federal Bureau.

MANY NEW FEATURES APPEAR

Various Activities of Nearby Schools Mark Approach of Holiday Season—Educational Notes.

The "Educational Directory" for the year 1913-14, containing lists of state school officers, city school superintendents in all cities and towns in the United States over 4,000 population, county, township and district superintendents, presidents and principals of colleges and universities, principals of normal schools, summer school directors, educational associations, etc., has just been issued for free distribution by the United States Bureau of Education. The directory, a book of 100 pages, contains all changes reported to the bureau, and represents the latest available information with regard to school officers and school agencies.

The list of city school superintendents gives the name of the officer, his term of office, date of original appointment, date when his present term expires, and the salary he receives. In the case of the county, township and district superintendents, only the name of the official and his county headquarters are given.

Many new features appear in this year's directory. With the various state superintendents are given the state supervisors of rural schools, inspectors of high schools and other state school officers. There is a list of officers of state boards of education, officers of state library commissions, boards of trustees of universities and colleges, presidents and deans of schools of theology, law, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy and veterinary medicine. Whether a college is "co-ed" or not is carefully indicated.

Schools for the blind and schools for the deaf are represented by the name of the superintendent. There is a list of schools for the feeble-minded, directors of schools of art, and directors of museums. The list of summer school directors contains the probable date of the 1914 session.

To the list of educational associations is added that of the boards and foundations and church educational boards and societies. Superintendents of Catholic parochial schools are listed, as are also Jewish educational organizations, meetings of state teachers' associations, national congresses and state federations of women's clubs. A list of educational periodicals is appended.

PERU STATE NORMAL.

President Hayes Will Address National Educational Association.

Prof. F. M. Gregg lectured before the agricultural classes last Wednesday afternoon. He gave his illustrated lecture, "Nebraska's Geological Story."

The large chorus club has begun practicing "The Holy City," by Gaul. This is being done in preparation for the May festival.

Vacation will be from December 30 to January 5, inclusive.

A splendid response was received from the announcement asking students to sign up for the tryouts for the internormal debates.

President Hayes has been invited to give the Peruvian plan of handling model schools in respect to management and organization before the normal committee of the National Education association, which is to meet at Richmond, Va., February 24. The object of the committee is to formulate a report for the National Educational association on standardization of professional requirements of teachers.

The state inspectors of normal schools visited here last week. They are Superintendent Bodwell of Beatrice, Superintendent Graham of South Omaha and Superintendent Fisher of Aurora.

Last Friday night the Philomathean Literary society gave a program at which they had for their guests the Everetts and the faculty and wives. Besides a Shakespearean pantomime, there was singing by the society's octet and quartet, interspersed with selections from their orchestra. At the close an original playlet was given. It was called "At the 'Co-Op'" and depicted the usual scenes of conversations of a loafing crowd of customers. There were some clever take-offs on the faculty, which created a great deal of mirth.

Miss Elva Rulon, librarian, has been called to Table Rock by the sickness of her grandmother.

NEBRASKA WESLEYAN.

Movement is on Foot to Obtain a Carnegie Library.

Weldon Crossland, Wesleyan, '13, Nebraska Rhodes scholar at Oxford, has recently rowed on a winning crew in an annual boating contest.

A movement is on foot to obtain a Carnegie library for Wesleyan. Trustees A. L. Johnson is now in New York City interviewing the proper authorities. The plan is to build a library on the campus under the joint management of the university and the city authorities.

The Young Women's Christian association held a bazaar and carnival Friday evening in the C. C. White building. The attraction was well patronized and over $100 cleared.

Vice Chancellor Schreckensat is making every effort to run the university on an economical basis as possible. Last Wednesday he spoke to the students at the chapel hour, asking their assistance in reducing the amount of heat and light needed for meetings involving student activities.

The freshmen-sophomore debate occurred last Tuesday the freshmen being victorious. The question was that of trust regulation. Hope, Sandall and Crossland represented the freshmen, while Lane, Embree and Malone battled for the sophomores.

A letter has been received from the native missionary in north Africa, whose salary is paid by the Wesleyan Young Men's Christian association, by Secretary Simonds. Because of shortage of crops the missionary's salary has been largely used to buy food for the natives who are starving. Wesleyan's guarantee is all raised and the money has been forwarded to Bishop Hartzell.

Wayne State Normal Notes.

Dean Hahn of the department of education, addressed a teachers' meeting at David City Friday. Dean Hahn and family are now occupying their new home.

On December 19 all departments of the school will be dismissed for a two weeks' vacation.

An address on patriotism at the opera house by F. Dale Wood was the third number of the student lecture course.

Dr. J. T. House will attend a meeting of the American Sociological society at Minneapolis December 29-31. Dr. House will appear on the program, discussing "The Teaching of Sociology in Secondary Schools." Prof. J. G. W. Lewis will attend a meeting of the American Economic society to be held at the same place.

On the afternoon of December 11, Messrs. J. H. Brittel, U. S. Conn., J. M. Cherry and C. H. Bright entertained a group of 150 ladies in a most delightful manner at the home of Mrs. Brittel. The house was decorated in poetical, suggestive of the approaching holiday season. A unique game of "trades-lasts" raining food will and cheer upon all, was indulged in. During the three-course luncheon a musical program consisting of vocal, violin and piano solos by Misses Marjorie Kohl and Ardath Conn and Ensign Young was rendered.

FEWER MEDICAL STUDENTS.

Decrease Also Reported in Number of Students.

There are fourteen fewer medical schools in the United States than there were a year ago; 1,370 fewer persons are taking medicine in 1913 than in 1912; and there was a decrease of 200 in the number of medical graduates, according to figures compiled at the United States bureau of education.

The reduction in the number of medical schools is part of a steady movement for improved medical education that has been going on for the last eight or nine years. The American Medical association, the various state medical societies and other agencies have expressed public opinion to such an extent that seventy-nine medical colleges have either merged with other institutions or ceased to exist, and the standard of medical training has been raised considerably. Of the 161 medical schools now listed at the bureau, fifty-four are requiring one or more years of college work as a prerequisite to entering upon the study of medicine. State examining boards in North Dakota, Iowa, Minnesota, Colorado, Indiana, South Dakota and Kentucky have introduced regulations, in most cases to be made effective within a year or two, providing that every applicant for a license to practice medicine shall have studied two years in college, after a four years' high school course, before even beginning medical study. A similar requirement covering one year of college work will soon be enforced by the state board of Connecticut, Kansas, Utah, Vermont, Pennsylvania and California.

An interesting feature of the statistics is the part played by women. Although the total number of medical students has decreased, the number of women studying medicine has increased. In 1912 there were 18,431 medical students, of whom 712 were women; in 1913 there were 17,228 students, of whom 833 were women. Only seventy women graduated this year, however, as compared with 142 in 1912.

HASTINGS COLLEGE.

Various Activities Mark Approach of Holiday Season.

The College Outlook, which is our quarterly magazine, giving a report of the college to synd and other interesting matters concerning the college, is just off the press. The Outlook contains a picture of fifteen students for the ministry and missionary work now connected with Hastings college.

Vacation will be from December 30 to January 5, inclusive.

The Boston Musical club, the second number of the college lecture course, gave its entertainment at the Presbyterian church at the close of the week. Quite a varied program was given to a large audience in spite of the unpleasant weather.

The women members of the faculty and wives of faculty members have organized a new basket ball team, under the direction of the athletic director, Coach Ferguson, which promises unusual activity.

The freshmen class had the usual yearly feed during the last week. It had an especial interest this year because of the increased size of the freshman class. They met at the home of Mrs. Jones, the Bible teacher, and enjoyed an unusually good time.

Casualty day was observed at the Presbyterian church last Sabbath. Rev. Mr. Bean gave the address on "Christian Education," which was followed by an address on the work and progress of the college during the last year by President R. B. Crone. The church made the usual yearly subscription of $1,000 to the current expense fund of the college. An interesting feature of the showing made.

The Hastings college gospel team has been conducting services in several of our nearby churches the last few weeks.

DOANE COLLEGE.

Recitals and Entertainments Feature Work of the Week.

Dr. Frank Newell White, pastor of one of the Congregational churches of Minneapolis, visited the college Tuesday and Wednesday. He gave an address at chapel Wednesday.

The first number of the college lecture course was given Saturday evening, December 6. The program was a concert by Enrico Palmetto, tenor; Martin Bruhl, pianist, and Barbara Walt, contralto. Miss Jean Lindsay of the Doane conservatory played Miss Walt's accompaniment.

The annual Young Women's Christian association bazaar was held Saturday afternoon in the Gaylord hall parlor.

The Young Men's Christian association and Young Women's Christian association are preparing to give a Christmas musical next Sunday.

Miss Geneva Parker, principal of the school of expression, gave a recital at Western Friday evening.

Prof. N. H. Bennett represented Doane at the annual business meeting of the Big Four Foot Ball league in Lincoln last Saturday. Mr. Bennett is secretary of this organization.

The conservatory of music and the department of expression are giving a series of public recitals, to which a small admission is charged. The proceeds will be used to buy stage furnishings for the chapel, where all public programs and recitals of the college are held. The first of this series was given Saturday night, December 13, by the college orchestra.

Education Notes.

The young men of Grand Island college met Wednesday and organized an anti-fire brigade society.

The literary societies, the Athenian and the Amphitryon, held a joint program in the chapel on Saturday evening.

Having introduced medical inspection in 1912, Elmira, N. Y., claims to have been the first American city to adopt health supervision of school children.

The equivalent of one school year for more than 400 children is lost because of contact with minor contagious diseases, according to figures recently compiled for Pittsburgh.

In order to furnish high-class entertainment to communities in their states, the Universities of Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota have banded together for December service.

The new school at Bryn Mawr, Pa., at the entrance to the college, has been made an open-air school. Only the dress-makers will be indoors.

There will be seven separate, one-story, out-of-door class rooms facing full south. Each class room opens on a large uncovered platform 8x36 feet, which will be used for the gymnastics and astasia that are part of open-air school work.

The college prayer meetings have been one of the interesting features this year. The subjects have been interesting, the leaders awake and the attendance has been unusually large the whole year.

Monday evening the Athenian society will give a play in Dorham, "Why not Jim?" The play was given in Grand Island on Tuesday evening before a very large and appreciative audience. The proceeds will be used to help defray expenses of decorating the society room.

The Junior High school at Grand Rapids, Mich., consisting of pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, has grown in two years from a school of 40 pupils and fifteen teachers to one of 381 pupils and thirty-six teachers. More boys and girls have stayed in school under the new plan.

Night schools of cosmopolitan character are by no means confined to congested centers in the east. At Gallup, N. M., the following nationalities were represented in a recently established evening school: American, Spanish, Slavonian, Italian, Serbian, Austrian, German, French, Danish, Swedish, Irish, Scotch, English, and Cherokee Indian. Twenty-eight in ages the pupils ranged from 15 to 62.

Chadron State Normal Notes.

New books and new plays have been added to the chemistry department.

The Christmas spirit enthralled all pupils and fifteen teachers in decorating their rooms.

The senior class is preparing to put the play "Strongheart" on the boards on January 18, while the Glee club is practicing on "Pinafore" for production some time in February.

Last Friday evening one of the most enjoyable affairs ever given at the normal was held at the rink. It had been advertised as the "Circus," and everyone present united in saying that it had been a most enjoyable and profitable occasion. The program had some stunts to offer to the public, and all were well patronized.

CONTEST ATTRACTING MANY Organizations and Individuals Get Busy in The Bee's Contest. RELIEF IS AFTER ITS SHARE Women's Auxiliary to the G. A. R. Are Working to Get Part of the Cash to Help Monument Fund.

It is now just one week since the first announcement of The Bee's big voting contest. The interest created is wonderful. Organizations and individual contestants are beginning to take hold in earnest and labels and coupons are being voted in increased numbers each day.

The Memory Day association of the Women's Relief corps, Grand Army of the Republic, has entered the contest, and members are out for their share of the $1,000 offered to organizations. At a special meeting called yesterday for the express purpose of considering this important question it was unanimously agreed that the splendid cash prize offered by The Bee would be a handsome addition to the monument fund. The plot on which the soldiers' and sailors' monument is to be erected is located in Forest Lawn cemetery. It was donated to the Memory Day association by the Forest Lawn cemetery association.

The three Relief corps in Omaha are making the aid of members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Sons of Veterans, Spanish War Veterans and all patriotic citizens to assist them in this laudable effort. At the special meeting yesterday afternoon Mrs. George B. Eddy was appointed chairman of a committee to solicit votes and to collect labels. None of the sterner sex is eligible to enter the contest, so the ladies of the Memory Day association have declared that they will insist that all of their male friends buy only such articles as have a voting value. All of their menfolk, under the circumstances, will be expected to smoke Lawrence Barrett cigars and to save every brand. O'Brien's candies are also bound to increase in popularity.

The contestants in Council Bluffs are fortunate in having so many listed merchants in that city from whom to get voting coupons. The Council Bluffs merchants, whose names appear in The Bee from day to day, are doing their share to make the M. and M. contest a big success.

In the outside towns the merchants are no less enthusiastic. They, too, are using every effort to make this the biggest and most successful contest ever conducted in Nebraska or Iowa.

The free trip to Chicago awarded to the most popular young women in the outside towns is creating good natured rivalry among the fair nominees. The trip is worth working for. There will be lots of fun for the fortunate ones in this specially chaperoned party of representative Nebraska and Iowa ladies. The free promises to make the trip so full of interest that it will be long remembered for its pleasure.

Now that The Bee's M. and M. contest is started and well on its way to become the big event of the winter, every boy and girl and every woman present organization that contemplates becoming a nominee should enter at once. If you will call at the contest department, 224 Bee building, the contest manager will be glad to give you every detail in a personal interview. The phone is Douglas 2119.

MANCHESTER GUARDS ARE BANQUETED AT ROME HOTEL

Mrs. Emma B. Manchester, supreme guardian of the Woodmen Circle, banqueted the South Omaha Manchester Guards, eighteen in number, at the Rome hotel last evening. Beautiful floral pieces ornamented the banquet room and tables, while each guest was given a miniature Christmas tree. Each of the party responded to a toast on friendship. The following ladies were present: Mrs. Emma B. Manchester, Anna Fluor, captain; Mrs. Kate Randolph, Adeline Rubin, Diener Hendricks, Pauline McAuley, Anna Johnson, Mary Enklen, Anna Penn, Sarah Patrick, Lola Diever, Mabel Burgess, Laura Patterson, Mary Peterson, Emma Kerst, Amy Leves, Hazel Rubin, Electa Davis and Maud Reed.

PINKIN LANDS SHOOTERS OF DICE, NO MISTAKE

Follenman Pinkin walked his beat along Leavenworth street, near Twenty-second, suddenly heard "A feeble dice—a deuce, tray!" shouted from upstairs of a building at 223 Leavenworth street. He investigated and found a perfectly gorgeous crap game in progress.

Then he called headquarters for help and led a raid on the place. Two prisoners were taken and the dice and "bank-roll" were confiscated.

MARY O'REILLY TO LECTURE ON IRISH ART NEXT FRIDAY

Miss Gertrude O'Reilly of Ireland will deliver a talk on Irish art before the Omaha Fine Arts society at the Young Women's Christian association on Friday evening, December 19 at 8 o'clock.

Dangers of a Cold.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous. It is not the colds themselves that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by all dealers.—Advertisement.

Some Can And Some Cannot Drink Coffee Without Dangerous Results— But if you intend to win out in life you will need a clearer head and steadier nerves than the coffee drinker usually has.

Coffee contains caffeine, a subtle, poisonous drug, and its use as a daily routine beverage causes more or less disturbance of nerves, heart, stomach, liver or some other organ. This may not show for a time, but the coffee drug, caffeine (about 2½ grains to the cup) is a cumulative poison and, for most persons, a day of reckoning will surely come.

But why wait until Nature drives home her arguments against coffee? Try this easy test—quit coffee 10 days and try POSTUM.

After a few days the habit-forming drug, caffeine, will be eliminated from the system, and the gradual return to old-time comfort will be the best evidence that coffee was "getting you."

There's no headache or pains of any kind in Postum. It is a pure food-drink, made only of choice wheat and a little New Orleans molasses, and is absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug.

Postum now comes in two forms.

Regular Postum—must be well boiled to bring out its delicious flavour and food value.

Instant Postum—(the new form) is a soluble powder. A spoonful stirred in a cup of hot water, with sugar and cream added, makes a perfect cup, instantly.
