

Nebraska CLOUDS DO NOT STOP FAIR

Exhibits Viewed by as Great Crowd as Ever on Lincoln Grounds.

BEACHEY LOOPS LOOP ON TIME

Gives Management Tip It Will Not Rain and the Race Program is Held in Spite of Heavy Track.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—Overhanging clouds and threatened rain did not seem to dampen the ardor of the people who desired to see the Nebraska state fair this morning.

At noon it had been decided by the management to attempt to have the races, but the track was pretty heavy at the time. Lincoln Beachey, who made the first ascent of the day in his aeroplane about noon, assured the management that the air seemed lighter above the low-hanging clouds, and taking courage from the Beachey tip, it was decided to make the attempt to carry out the race program.

As yesterday, Beachey made several good flights during the day, the high wind not seeming to bother him at all. He made the usual up-and-down flights and looped the loop as easily as if there were no breeze stirring. Beachey has caught the crowd, who appreciate the fact that he cares little for conditions and makes his flights strictly on time.

Grounds Large Enough. Many people were surprised at the increased attendance yesterday, it seeming to be the opinion that the crowd was smaller than on previous years. The solution of it all is the agricultural and horticultural hall. In former years these displays have been in the center of the grounds and naturally drew the crowds. With the new hall located on one side, the crowds have been drawn to that locality, leaving the usually congested center uncrowded and spreading out the crowd over a larger territory.

The better baby contest is held again this year in the new agricultural building, and is the center of interest there. This management of that contest has limited the number of entries this year and the result has been more satisfactory, as more time can be given to the number of entries and there will not be disappointed mothers who really believe that "my baby was a better baby than the one who took first prize."

Veterinarians Attend. The hog cholera proposition is looked after in good shape by the live stock sanitary board, headquarters being located in the old honey and bee building, where, under the supervision of State Veterinarian L. C. Kigin, Field Veterinarian C. M. Day and Dr. Bostrum of the stallion registration board the people interested in the matter are given such information as they may desire. The Nebraska serum company also has a booth in the same building and has on display samples of diseased lungs and meat with a display of pharmaceutical and biological products which fit in well with the work of the sanitary board. It is in charge of H. F. Palmer.

The Nebraska College of Agriculture also is affording those interested in animal diseases a chance to learn much by its display in University hall at the fair grounds. Dr. John Lintner is in charge. Wednesday in special hog cholera day and lectures on cholera will be given in the lecture room at the new Agricultural hall, beginning at 9 o'clock. Governor Morehead will be one of the speakers and others familiar with the disease will also talk.

Political headquarters of the different parties, including the suffragists, is being maintained at the old mechanics hall building, where for one price one can receive all kinds of political tips and receive all kinds of political knowledge. All brands of politics are on tap, pictures of candidates look down smilingly upon the voter as he passes by and everything is being done to start things "our" way.

Johnston of Upland was again chosen chairman. W. C. Dorsey of Bloomington was made secretary and James Conkling of Franklin, treasurer. The meeting was full of enthusiasm and it was the consensus of opinion that the republicans were coming into their own this year. Another get-together meeting was called for Franklin on Thursday, September 17, during the county fair.

Burwell Schools Open. BURWELL, Neb., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The Burwell high school opened this morning with a record attendance and two more teachers than have ever been employed before. Fraz; McGill; trades, Ada Elliott, Vera Wolfe, Mabel Green, Pearl Cassidy, Mabel Hemmett, and primary, Ona Lemon.

Acute Indigestion. "I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint, but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing, for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.—Advertisement.

News Notes from Hastings. HASTINGS, Neb., Sept. 8.—(Special.)—The coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict finding that Jacob Helmes, 65 years old, had come to his death accidentally by drowning. He disappeared from his home Thursday night and his lifeless body was found floating in some water in a sandpit Sunday, after it had been fired at by some hunters, who mistook it for a log. He had a son, Oscar Helmes, residing in Omaha.

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. C. L. Jones, member of Hastings college faculty and wife of a wealthy ranchman, who was killed by a Union Pacific train near Sidney last Thursday. The services were held in the Presbyterian church and were largely attended. Rev. J. W. Bean returned from his vacation in Iowa to conduct the rites.

Carl Rosa, a Chicago chef, was dismissed by the head chef at the Clarke hotel yesterday morning. He promptly bought a gun, pointed it at his former boss and pulled the trigger. Only a snap followed and now Rosa is serving a $10 fine in the city jail.

PLACES FILLED BY ABSENTEES

Iowa State Board of Education Takes Up War Situation.

STATE PROFESSORS MAROONED
Number of Them Have Not Been Heard From for Long Time and Will Be Given Leaves of Absence.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 8.—(Special Telegram.)—A meeting of the State Board of Education has been called for next week and one of the questions to be disposed of will be filling the places of several of the professors at the state colleges, who are in Europe and cannot get back.

Some of the faculty have not been heard from for some time and it is greatly feared that they have met with trouble. Leaves of absence will be extended whenever possible and all possible efforts be made to secure return of all.

Center Over New Rate Case. The State Railroad commission will this week hold another conference on the rate question. This will be on Wednesday when the representatives of various cities in the interior of the state meet here to plan for the new interior low rate case before the Interstate Commerce commission. They have asked the commission to reopen the case which was disposed of early in the year when the commission ordered that new schedules be filed that would remove the discrimination that had long existed. The business interests claim that the discrimination was made greater than before. They will meet here to plan for the exhibits to be presented to the commission and to confer as to the method of revising the rate schedules. These relate to all interstate business from the far east and west to the Pacific.

Holds Conference. Chairman Rawson of the state republican committee went to Burlington today to hold the first of a series of district conferences to be held in the interest of the republican party. He will continue holding the conferences throughout the next few weeks. The republican campaign will be started this week by Senator Cummins and others who will become active in the state, after which there will be much speechmaking all along the line. Thus far the republicans have kept still.

Road Controversy. The government engineers have made concessions to the State Highway commission in the matter of the plans for road work being done in the state partly with federal aid. It was found that the plans for road work as made by the federal engineers lacked a great deal of conformity to the high standard set by the State Highway commission for all roads in the state. The highway commission insisted on having their plans adopted and the federal authorities threatened to withdraw state aid if it became necessary to make the roads as good as demanded by the state authorities. The matter promised to effect the state and federal work being done jointly in Dubuque county, but after a series of conferences the federal engineers have yielded to the state authority and made concessions which will satisfy the state engineers. The standards adopted for Iowa are very high.

Large Enrollment. Reports already coming to the department of public instruction are to the effect that the enrollment in the high schools of the state will, at the opening of the school year, exceed the enrollment last year. These reports especially refer to the students enrolled in the normal training course of the schools, as a complete record of all these must be kept by the state. It is now believed that the increase of enrollment in these state aided high schools will be more than the increase of last year. The normal work has become decidedly popular and is adding to the number of teachers in the state very materially.

Enter State Politics. Rev. O. L. Spurgeon of Nashua, a young Baptist minister, who has been employed the last year as an organizer for the Knights of Luther in Iowa and elsewhere, has decided upon entering state politics. He was nominated as organizer for the order, but secured an endorsement of his political ambitions and a pledge on the part of the Knights of Luther at their state meeting to back him as a candidate for United States senator. He will especially oppose Senator Cummins. The opponent of Cummins is Connolly, a Catholic, whom it is expected will get all the Catholic vote. But Senator Cummins has refused to align himself definitely with the anti-Catholic propaganda, hence he will be defeated if possible by the entrance of Spurgeon in the race. Rev. Spurgeon made a hard fight to secure endorsement and his candidacy threatens a split in the organization, which now claims 30,000 members in the state.

Christian Convention. President Hill M. Bell of Drake university, and a delegation of Iowa people, will go to Atlanta, Ga., next month to attend the national meeting of the Church of Christ. Dr. Bell is president of the national association and will deliver the address at Atlanta. The Des Moines delegation will carry an urgent invitation to the convention to meet in Des Moines two years hence. The expectation is that the meeting next year will be in Los Angeles, but Des Moines will ask for it the following year.

Prominent Among Pharmacists. George H. Schafer of Fort Madison, originator of the state pharmacy commission of Des Moines, was elected honorary president of the American Pharmaceutical association at its recent meeting in Detroit. This is the oldest organization of the kind in the world, starting in 1852. Mr. Schafer became a member of this association in 1913, was elected first vice president in Saratoga, N. Y., and the acting president in Kansas

Strickland, president of Simpson college, today delivered a lecture on "Modern Defenses of the Supernatural."

Growth of Religion is Only Remedy for Evils, Pope Asserts

ROME, Sept. 8.—(Via Paris.)—The first consistory of Pope Benedict was held here today. It was marked by gorgeous display in the apparel of those present, and decorations of the papal court. September 8, the day of the nativity of the virgin, was chosen for this occasion by the pontiff himself. The participation was limited almost entirely to ecclesiastics and officials of the Vatican. Many relatives of the pope occupied seats in a special tribune. Surrounded by almost all the cardinals at present in Rome, the pope was carried into the consistory on the Gestatoria chair and greeted with loud applause. He imposed the red hat on Cardinal Anthony Mendes Bello, patriarch of Lisbon; Cardinal Guiseppe Menendez, archbishop of Toledo; Cardinal Piffi, archbishop of Vienna; and Johann Csernoch, primate of Hungary. The last is the only new appointment. Following this ceremony, the pontiff delivered his allocution. In this address he urged the necessity of strengthening and elevating religious feeling throughout the world, as the only remedy to society for the evils today so strikingly shown in the deplorable conflict now rending Europe. The faithful must pray fervently for the cessation of this warfare, the pontiff declared, asking especially the intercession of the virgin.

Important Announcement The Bankers Realty Investment Company

Hereby announces that its capital has been fixed at $750,000---It is deemed that this amount of capital in conjunction with other facilities will be amply sufficient for this company's large and growing business.

To Our Stockholders:

The above signifies that this company is arriving at the stage in its steady and successful growth when no more stock is to be issued or sold, for the reason that the present amount of capital, when in use, in conjunction with other facilities, will, it is deemed, be amply sufficient for the conduct and further extension of this company's large and steady growing business.

After the limiting of this company's capital the management will follow out the plan of operation of the largest, best managed and most successful companies of their kind in the world; that is, in place of selling stock indefinitely for the purpose of financing our continually increasing business, we have adopted the very simple plan of selling bonds.

One such company in the first twenty-four years of operation, by the use of this plan, was enabled to accumulate more than nineteen times its capital in the form of surplus, and its total assets in this time grew to more than twenty-four million dollars.

Another such company in sixteen years accumulated over nine hundred thousand dollars by this same plan, while its assets grew to over three and one-half million dollars.

It will, therefore, be readily understood that by discontinuing the sale of stock, and instead, to issue its bonds, that this company's stock will steadily increase in value because of increased earning power—for the bonds will be issued for long time periods, bearing a fixed rate of interest which, while much better than the rate paid by Savings Banks, will be low enough to permit this company to make a considerable profit over and above the fixed interest rate; and these profits will naturally accrue to the company's stockholders.

The man who will make a thorough investigation of this company will find that we have built up one of the most efficient organizations in the middle west for the handling of Real Estate and the business of improving Real Estate in a safe and profitable manner. The opportunity to own stock in this company is limited to those who will join us in the very near future.
