MISS Ottola Nesmith, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Nesmith, formerly of Fort Omaha, is having unusual success in drama. Miss Nesmith is playing the title role in "The Vanishing Bride" at the Apollo theater at Atlantic City.

Weds in Salt Lake City.

A wedding of much local interest took place Thursday in Salt Lake City. The following account was in the Salt Lake Herald-Republican.

A beautiful and picturesque wedding was solemnized in St. Mark's cathedral Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock, when Miss Mary Montieff Luman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Luman, and Charles Louis Siever of Omaha, were married by the Rt. Rev. Franklin S. Spalding, D. D., assisted by the very Rev. Samuel R. Coladay, dean of the cathedral.

The chancel of the historic old church, which has been the scene of so many notable weddings in the past was converted into a bower of palms, ferns and snowy white asters. The front pews were roped off with white satin ribbon streamers and bows for the members of the two families and the girls belonging to the bride's sorority.

The organist struck the first chord of the Lohengrin Bridal chorus the bridal party entered the church in the following order: The ushers by two, Sherman Armstrong, Don Homan, Leland Swanson, Paul Williams, Rudolph Orlok and Brent Ricard.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Charles Edgar Cotton, the sister of the bride, was elegantly gowned in Nile green satin draped with princess lace. She wore a pale green chiffon picture hat with orchid tips and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses. Little Mildred Derr, the flower girl, in a dainty white lace frock with broad pink ribbon sash and hair bows, preceded the bride carrying a basket of rose petals, which she scattered in her pathway up the center aisle.

The bride, who came in with her brother, Kenneth James Luman, was radiant in her exquisite bridal gown of ivory white satin with the bodice and skirt draped in duchesse lace. The long court train was fastened on the shoulders with ropes of pearls—the handsome veil of lace was arranged in cap effect with pearls and sprays of the lilac of the valley. She wore a pendant of diamond and sapphires, the gift of the bridegroom, and carried an exquisite bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

The party was met at the chancel steps by the bridegroom and his best man, Amos Thomas of Omaha, and the officiating clergyman, when the solemn betrothal service was held before advancing to the chancel altar for the closing service. The joyous strains of the Mendelssohn wedding march ushered the party out of the church, which adjourned to the home of the bride's parents in East Second South, where a reception was held for relatives and members of the young society set.

Here the decorations were beautifully carried out in white and green, the bridal party standing in the alcove in the drawing room, which was a bower of white flowers, foliage, palms and ferns, with a wedding bell of the white asters, ferns and smilax suspended over the heads of the bride and bridegroom. Punch was served in the library by Miss Adrienne King, Miss Marian McIntyre, Miss Alice Lynn, Miss Emma Darling and Miss Norma Havercamp.

Assisting the bridal party in receiving were Mrs. Lyman, mother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Meyer of Omaha, parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Lyman wore a handsome evening dress of silver lace with a black hat with paradise feather. Mrs. Meyer was attired in an elegant costume of black and white crepe with trimmings of fillet lace.

The Malone orchestra furnished the music for the reception and the wedding supper was served in the dining room; where the beautifully appointed table held for the central decoration a handsomely ornamented wedding cake. Small baskets of daisies and asters tied with tulle bows and wreaths of smilax and ferns also adorned the table.

The young married couple left that evening to spend their honeymoon in California, going to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Lake Tahoe. They will return here for a few days' stay about October before going to Omaha, where they will be at home at 120 South Forty-fourth street. The bride wore a black velvet hat with steel trimmings and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

At the Country Club. A large number of golfers were at the club Sunday, but were unable to finish the game because of rain.

Dining at the club Sunday evening were J. W. Redick, who had covers placed for four, and D. A. Baum, four.

At Carter Lake Club. Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Hart entertained seven guests and Mr. John Kotyza had six guests at dinner at Carter Lake club Sunday evening.

TYPOS HOLDING CONFERENCE

Delegates from Missouri Valley Cities Meet in Labor Temple.

PLAN FOR CLOSER CO-OPERATION

Delegates Have Luncheon at Commercial Club and Went to the Den Last Evening to Ride the Goat.

The Missouri Valley Typographical conference, called by the local typographical union, went into temporary organization at the Labor temple Monday. Delegates from Typographical unions of Sioux City, Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha and Council Bluffs were present for the first call to order. The conference is to be in session today and Tuesday.

"Similar conferences are in existence in the eastern states and in many parts of the 'United States,'" said President U. G. Graham of the Omaha Typographical union, "but we have never had an organization here in the Missouri valley. The purpose is to have the typographical unions of this particular section represented by delegates in a general conference to meet once a year or more, as there are problems that affect this section—namely, the Missouri valley unions, that do not concern other unions in other sections."

T. W. McCullough called the meeting to order. He introduced President Graham of the Omaha Typographical union, who fired the opening gun. G. A. Millar of Kansas City was made temporary chairman and W. A. Pierce of St. Joseph temporary secretary.

Some twenty-nine organizations in the Missouri Valley replied to the invitation to join the conference. For various reasons certain organizations could not be represented at this first meeting. Oklahoma City has asked to be included. There is talk also of inviting the locals of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The delegates who were first to arrive were George A. Millar and Frank H. Millard of Kansas City, U. G. Pierce of St. Joseph, J. T. Burton and O. M. Hallett of Sioux City, Victor P. Gay of Council Bluffs, F. P. Cox and John Polan of Omaha.

The delegates were the guests of the Commercial club at luncheon Monday evening they were initiated at Ak-Sar-Ben den. This afternoon they are to be given an automobile ride about the city by the Commercial club, and in the evening they are to have a smoker at the Labor Temple.

CROWDS VIEW THE NEW STYLES AT THE NEBRASKA

The Nebraska Clothing company's fall fashion show opened Monday with the women's wearing apparel department and millinery sections thronged with visitors. The opening continues throughout this week. The beautiful garments represented include many reproductions of famous Parisian couturiers. Nebraska's buyers having been particularly fortunate in securing some of the most attractive styles produced. Both New York and Paris creations are shown in profusion.

N. W. C. A. IS LAUNCHED HERE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The Negro Women's Christian association was ushered into existence Sunday afternoon at 3029 Pinkney street, where a large crowd congregated to engage in the initial ceremonies. Speeches were made by Dr. A. A. Van Vleet, Rev. J. N. Williams, Rev. W. S. Botts, Rev. W. T. Osborne and Mrs. W. J. Branch and Mrs. C. W. Hayes of the Woman's club. John Grant Pegg presided and presented bouquets of flowers from well-wishers to Mrs. J. M. Smith, president of the association.

Loomis Marvels at Cheapness of Nebraska Lands

General Solicitor Loomis of the Union Pacific is back from an extended trip up the North Platte valley, having gone as far as Northport. He returns more enthusiastic than ever over Nebraska and its future.

"The North Platte valley is a garden this year," said Mr. Loomis. "The crops have been exceptionally good and the farmers, nearly all of whom are prosperous, are in better shape than ever before. The small grain crop is the best in the history of this section of the state, and while not much corn is raised, that grown this year is good."

DR. W. H. MICK FILES FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION SEAT

Dr. W. H. Mick, 211 South Thirty-sixth street, has made the first filing as a candidate for the Board of Education at the November election. He filed his papers two months ago, but the fact has just been made public. No other aspirants have appeared so far. The filings close October 4.

FARMERS HAVE ENOUGH RAIN

Now Willing to Have it Dry Up, So They May Plow.

HEAVY FALL ALL OVER STATE

Both North and South Sections Are Flooded by Rains of Last Week and the Downpour of Sunday.

Now there is a cry for dry weather going up from practically all portions of Nebraska. According to reports to the railroads, generally throughout the state the ground is so wet that farmers are unable to get into the fields to plow and seed for the crop of next year. There were general rains last week, ranging from one to seven inches and added to this there was a rainfall of from one to eight inches Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night. The heaviest of the Saturday and Sunday night rains was in the southern portion of the state, where it reached the proportions of a flood.

Up the Nemaha river valley for a distance of twenty to thirty miles from its mouth the precipitation was from three to eight inches, the country around Falls City and Salem being hit the hardest, the lowlands being completely flooded and still under water.

Basements Filled.

In Salem and the lower part of Falls City many houses were surrounded by water, the basements filled and the people marooned at home during the afternoon and night.

The heavy precipitation continued over the entire southern portion of the state, to and beyond Hastings, where there was from three to four inches of rain that was added to the one and two inches that fell Saturday and Sunday night.

Along the Union Pacific there was from one to three inches of rain all the way from Omaha to the west line of the state, and from there west there was snow.

The Loup river got on a tear on account of the heavy rains and on the St. Paul branch two of the bridges were badly weakened. They held, however, and after repairs had been made, trains were passed over them this morning. Through the Northwestern territory there were torrential rains all the way up the Elkhorn valley, extending as far west as Chadron and up into the Bone-steel country. In numerous places tracks were under water, but no washouts were reported. Reports indicate that the rain of the last two days ranged from one to three inches over the north half of the state.

THIS COUNTRY TO GO AFTER SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE

Advice to their representatives here are to the effect that a number of the American companies have commenced active preparations to take on the trade of South American countries, a trade that prior to the war was held by Europe. The United Fruit company has notified its agents here that it has put on twenty new steamers that will do a constant business between New York, Boston and New Orleans and all South American, Central American and West Indies ports.

STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR TO MEET AT LINCOLN

The seventh annual convention of the Nebraska State Federation of Labor will convene this morning at Lincoln. A full quota of delegates from over the state is expected and the usual issues of interest to the federation will be up for consideration.

About "Big Business"

More bigness isn't a business sin. Many a large business serves the public much better than a small business could—because it is able to render service in direct proportion to its size. Big business has given the American people the most efficient telephone service at the lowest rates in the world. Big business has popularized the telephone in the United States until today there are more telephones used in this country than in all the other nations of the earth combined. The Bell System is a large organization, but it is made up of real flesh and blood folks who are anxious to serve you in a big, broad-minded, courteous way.
