To bob or not to bob is the feminine question of the hour! We read about how the fascinating little dancer with a national reputation, and whims the most temperamental, ripped off her locks one fine day and sauntered down Fifth avenue, followed by a line of admiring eyes.

A few of her devotees, of the instant, waited not for second thought, but bobbed right in to the nearest feminine coiffeur and bobbed right out again with silken tresses in hand and in their minds visions of new worlds to conquer.

Are we going to adopt this bobbed coiffure to a noticeable extent? There are faces among us with a true note of witchery that could bob most fetchingly if they might care to. Maybe we all read the lack of the naive insouciance that trails in the personality of the little dancer.

We have one fair starter, however. To know this may give others courage to bound forth.

This little lady has been much admired by those who have seen the effect. That she should be the first to adopt the reigning fad is not a surprise, for she has always been noticed for true chicness of dress. Spending much of her time abroad and imbued with the smartness and independence of the foreign atmosphere, she brings out the most ultra without a second thought.

Smith-Lane Wedding.

Trinity cathedral was the scene of a very pretty and quiet wedding last evening when Miss Ruth Elizabeth Lane, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn A. Lane, became the bride of Mr. Franklin Perry Smith of Fremont.

The ceremony was performed by Dean Hancock of the cathedral at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of the immediate family and a few near friends.

Mr. Ben Stanley presided at the organ and played the Lohengrin wedding march for the entrance of the bride and the Mendelssohn for the recessional. Gounod's Sanctus was played during the ceremony.

The altar was decorated simply in pink roses. The bride was very attractive in a gown of white charmeuse satin made empire with a long court train that was hung from the shoulders. Her tulle veil was drawn far back from the face and was held with a band of tulle finely outlined with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas and lilies of the valley and her only ornament was a pendant pin of diamonds and pearls, the gift of the groom. She was given away by her uncle, Mr. Charles E. Abbott, of Fremont.

Miss Greta Lane, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of very pale taffeta made with a full skirt and Dolly Varden bodice. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. Frank Perkins of Fremont was the best man and the ushers were Messrs. Nye Morhouse of Omaha and Joseph T. Smith of Fremont, brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left last evening for a trip to California and the Hawaiian Islands. They will be at home after November 1 at Fremont.

BALL SHOOTING IS NOT ANY RELIGION

Why the Nebraska State Spiritualist Association Lost Its Charter from the National.

CHICAGO EXPERT MAKES PLEA

"The Nebraska State Spiritualist association lost its charter from the National Spiritualist association because the local organization ordained a man known to be engaged in the business of shooting glass balls in the air. Shooting glass balls is not a part of any religion. We should go to a vaudeville or wild west show to see glass balls shot in the air," was a statement made this morning by Dr. George B. Warne of Chicago, president of the National Spiritualist association, addressing the city council in connection with a license fee ordinance which is pending.

The local and national associations of spiritualists are at variance regarding the merits of an ordinance relative to license fees to be required of persons who deal in the occult, psychical, mystic, futuristics and similar activities.

The city commissioners laid the ordinance over for thirty days.

Dr. Warne declared that the proposed ordinance, if passed, would discriminate against the members of the national association. He told the commissioners that the members of his association believe that communication with the so-called dead is a scientific fact evidenced by certain phenomena.

A coterie of local spiritualists attended the meeting.

Some were asked Mayor Dahlman to ask one of the spiritualists present whether he would receive a federal appointment this week, but the mayor thought better of that suggestion.

Men Sneak Into Art Exhibit When Women Experts Are Absent

A few men folks who had heard their wives discourse at length on the beauties and wonders of the Fine Arts exhibit at the Fontenelle, seized a moment during the noon hour, when no women members of the art society were on guard, to visit the paintings.

"Some picture!" "Nifty little lady, huh?" "Well, who'd a thought of putting a 'load roller' in a $1,000 picture!" "Well, I'll be jiggered!" were among the purely masculine exclamations upon some of the paintings, including William Chas. "Flick" Van Olinsky's "Ada," and Rockwell Kent's "Road Breaking."

Evidently the men had selected this hour to view the pictures so that they might express their own impressions on fine art without fear of offending the tastes or displaying their ignorance to the women members of their families.

The assistants will be: Probation Officer Gus Miller, Chief of Police Dunn, J. B. Carver, H. O. Palmer, Mike Barto of the Bee and Tony Costanzo and Sam Zigman representing the other newspapers.

This will be one of the series of entertainments that is planned for newsboys by Flower and Miller as a part of the regular boys' work of the Young Men's Christian association.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST THREE PACKING FIRMS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 8.—Charges that three packing companies under the supervision of the Chicago Live Stock exchange have not been giving the proper returns to shippers of stock were made today in a statement by Governor Dunne. It also includes recommendations which would place the state live stock commission in control of the situation as a means of remedying the alleged evils.

The statement was based on a report of an investigating committee appointed by the governor. The companies named were the Standard Packing company, the Chicago Packing company and the Bismarck Packing company.

While it is not springlike in western and central Nebraska and the states immediately west, all signs of storms have disappeared and clear and calm is the rule. Temperatures in Nebraska this morning, according to the railroads ranged from zero to 30 degrees above, with Sidney reporting 4 below. This was the coldest spot on the railroad weather map.

The railroads are now all in the clear. The snow blockade has been raised on all branch lines and trains everywhere are back on schedule time.

Railroad Men See Spring in Sight

Railroad men are of the opinion that the backbone of winter has been finally broken and that as soon as the weather immediately following the storm of the last week settles spring will come along with a rush.

MOVE BREAD CASE TO JUSTICE COURT

Trial of Charles W. Ortmann Switched from Police Court to Justice of Peace Britt.

ATTORNEYS AND JUDGE MEET

Charles W. Ortmann of the New England bakery, 212 North Sixteenth street, appeared in police court to be tried for selling short-weight bread, but was informed that the case would be heard in a justice court at some future date.

Attorney DeFrance, who is interested in the case, informed Judge Britt that if the present bread ordinance is enforced it will simply result in the bakers of Omaha closing the doors of their shops.

This speech followed City Prosecutor Anheuser's decision to try the case before a justice of the peace, which decision was brought about by Judge Britt's opinion that Judge Foster's declaring the bread ordinance unconstitutional should stand in police court until ruled upon by a higher court.

"It is my belief that this matter should be passed upon by the district court. Personally it is my opinion that Judge Foster's ruling is correct."

Notwithstanding this fact City Prosecutor Anheuser has changed the complaint filed against Ortmann in police court so that it will be tried before Judge Britt in his capacity of justice of the peace.

Apparently both Anheuser and DeFrance are desirous of setting a date for the hearing of the bread question in district court and to determine on this date

Ask Trial for the Compensation Bill

A thorough trial or test for the workmen's compensation bill is asked by the manufacturers of the state before any amendments to the bill are passed. The Omaha Manufacturers' association particularly is opposed to the passage of Senate File 31, which proposes some amendments to the bill. Since the act was passed in 1913 and has been in effect but a short time the manufacturers, who really had much to do with passing the measure, demand that it be given a chance of a test before it be tampered with.

JOHNNIE JONES PLEADS TO SECOND DEGREE MURDER

Johnnie Jones, the Omaha negro who was once convicted of first degree murder and was the first man in Nebraska to be sentenced to death in the electric chair, and whose conviction was overturned by the supreme court, has pleaded guilty to second degree murder. Judge James P. English, who received the plea in district criminal court, sentenced Jones to serve twenty years in the penitentiary.

Nemo Corsets Meet Every Requirement of the Stout Figure--Corsets Correctly Fitted Here

Here we have experts in every branch of the corset business, for our knowledge of the proper corset for any individual figure is exhaustive. The stout woman shouldn't fail to come here for final advice about the best corset for herself, especially so if she is discouraged about her appearance, for the "corsetless" era has ruined many a figure.

A Nemo corset, if chosen with care, can restore it to its proper shape, for the Nemo has figure molding qualities far beyond those of other corsets. Prove it yourself this spring.

The heavy figure needs to be supported and "held in," and to do this the corset must have sufficient stays. The Nemo makers know to the last line the requirements of the heavy figure, and so Nemo corsets support the figure, reduce it, give it symmetrical lines and without comfort. Every need of the stout figure can be met in some one of the many Nemo models. Be a wise woman, take time to secure the right Nemo for your figure by consulting our expert corsetiers. To choose from they have many long skirt models, giving the straight hip and back effect, models for affording ease through the diaphragm and preventing the bust from being pushed up when the figure is seated. The tops of many models are wider than before, to take care of the figure which has spread from the wearing of the extremely low corset. Fullness in the top of the corset at back is another important feature of some models. The skirts in other models are shorter, affording ease, sitting or walking. Let one of our corsetiers study your figure and she will find the correct Nemo model and fit it to you; no extra charge is made for fittings. We make a specialty of corseting the stout and extra stout figure.

Unusually large attendance last evening, society night at the Orpheum. People were obviously interested in seeing the renowned French actress Madam Yorks, who is making this her first visit to Omaha.

At the Boyd this week "Merely Mary Ann" is being played in a way that is bringing out all the comedy and pathos of this appealing story by Zanowill.

"Filles' Punctured Romance," the six-reel Keystone comedy, will be the attraction for eight days at the Orpheum theater, commencing Sunday, March 14.

Some miscreant has circulated the slanderous report that Billy Watson, who has his big girls show at the popular Gayety this week, says his chorus girls according to their weight.

"A Woman's Triumph," adapted from Scott's novel "The Heart of Midlothian," will be shown at the Hipp Theater for the last time today.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person is troubled with catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh indicates a weakened condition of the body; that the secretion of the mucous membranes are quickly affected, and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs.
