Germans Establish A School for Spies
PARIS, Nov. 24.—The Temps publishes the following from Geneva:
"A military court here has sentenced Marie Therese Le Philippot, a native of Cahors, France, to serve a month's imprisonment and pay a fine of $50 on the ground that she is a German spy. She told the court she had been arrested at Lille by Germans and taken to Antwerp where she was compelled under threats that her family would be menaced if she refused to practice espionage. The prisoner testified that a school for spies, with numerous pupils, had been established at Antwerp. She was sent, she said, to northern France. At Cherbourg she made the acquaintance of officers. She also visited England and transmitted by mail information concerning movements of the French and Belgian armies and the location of French submarine stations."

Tarkio College Damaged by Blaze
TARKIO, Mo., Nov. 24.—(Special Telegram)—Fire today partially destroyed the tower of the main building of Tarkio college, doing $20,000 damage. It started probably as the result of crossed electric wires.

The tower clock which cost $1,500 is a total loss as well as the entire tower. The damage is covered by insurance.
The main building was built in 1882, having previously been destroyed by fire. The college classes will go on as usual tomorrow.

Why That Lame Back?
Morning I am nervous, sharp twinges when bending over, or a dull, all-day backache; each is cause enough to suspect kidney trouble. Get after the cause. Help the kidneys. We Americans go it too hard. We overdo, overeat and neglect our sleep and exercise, and so we are fast becoming a nation of kidney sufferers. 75% more deaths from kidney diseases than in 1890, is the story told by the 1910 census. If annoyed with a bad back, nervous troubles and irregular kidney or bladder action, modify the bad habits, and use Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands recommend them.
An Omaha Case:
Michael J. Kinney, farmer, 1116 Arbor St., says: "Now and then pain came on in the small of my back. Sometimes my kidneys caused annoyance by being faulty in action. The kidney secretions were sometimes too frequent in passage and I had to arise often at night, breaking my rest. Doan's Kidney Pills strengthened my back, toned up my kidneys and now I can sleep without interruption."

FARRAR TAKES OMAHA BY STORM

Famed Operatic Soprano's Voice Thrills Great Audience at Auditorium.
BRILLIANT ARTIST AT HER BEST
By HENRIETTA M. REES.
The Associated Retailers of Omaha are to be congratulated upon the second concert of their Charity Concert course, which took place Tuesday night at the Auditorium, first upon the musical content of this concert and secondly upon the splendid audience. This filled the Auditorium and showed its enjoyment and appreciation by demanding encores after almost every group, sometimes calling for two. It can not but be inspiring for artists to look out upon and sing or play for such an audience, and it certainly is inspiring for every member of the audience to listen to such excellent musicians as were presented last evening. Miss Farrar, than whom no artist is better known the world over, was of course the bright particular star.

And well she deserves her fame. Few indeed are blessed with such a wonderful organ of tone and fewer have succeeded in reaching such a high plane of achievement even though rarely gifted. Fascinating Voice. Miss Farrar's voice is of most unusual quality. It is rich, full and resonant. It is powerful, yet not so much so through its tremendous volume, as through its unusual timbre, which seems to grip and fascinate one, and to carry the sweetness of tone found in the soft work into the louder passages, in fact through the kaleidoscope of color and tone shading she demands of it. She sings with the greatest ease, and to the uninitiated it was hard to imagine that there were any technical difficulties, so completely were they mastered. It is a wonderful voice, wonderfully developed, and ruled at will by an interpretation and artistry which made every song live before the audience in all its beauty.

Setting is Worthy. Miss Farrar also possesses beauty and a strong personal charm which is keenly felt throughout her work. The assisting artists were given a cordial greeting, and were of a rank worthy to travel with so great a star. Mr. Werrenrath was here not so long ago in company with Alma Gluck. His voice is an excellent baritone which flows along with an ease and richness of tone quality which is a constant delight. His enunciation is exceptionally clear and his conceptions highly artistic and convincing. Miss Sassoli played the harp in such a way as to raise it to a much higher place in the realm of responsive instruments than many had ever known to have been possible before. Such a variety of dynamics as she used at will, such brilliancy of runs and ornaments, and such singing tones in melody were fairly captivating. Her enunciation is exceptionally clear and her conceptions highly artistic and convincing. The program was long, but carefully arranged, and the variety of the numbers and groups by the different artists held the interest to the very last.

Veratility at Start. Mr. Werrenrath opened with the prologue to "I Pagliacci" and presented two other groups in which he proved his versatility and the many possibilities of his voice. For encores he sang the Schumann setting of "Du bist wie Ein Blume" and the "Early Morning," by Graham Peal. "Licht," by Sinding, the closing song of the second group, was a wonderful number. Miss Farrar sang three groups, the first opening with a delightful English song, "I've Been Roaming," by Horn. Every song presented was worthy of its place upon the program. "Habenera," from "Carmen," by Bizet, was especially popular with the audience, and in the Franz song, "Quiet Security," Miss Farrar did some of the finest sustained singing that the writer has ever been privileged to hear. Her sustained work was remarkable in many of the other songs as well. Encores with Encores. For encores Miss Farrar sang "Mighty lak a Rose" by Nevin, to her own accompaniment, and "Serenade" by Bemburg, after the first group. Sinding's beautiful "Sivelin" with its glissado accompaniment, after the second, and after "One Fine Day" from "Madame Butterfly," by MacDowell.

Miss Sassoli presented a quaint Gavotte, by Rameau, a charming Minuet by Massenet and a brilliant Impromptu by Purne in her first group. Of the second "Vieille Chanson" was remarkable for its richness of harmonic effect. Le Rouet, with a melody singing through its running accompaniment, was also unusual. The third group was three numbers by Liszt. There were so many fine things about this concert that if space permitted one could go on and on enumerating more of them. Nor must we leave without a word about Mr. Epstein, the accompanist who furnished accompaniments which were so unobtrusive, so perfectly a part of the songs that one almost forgot he was there. Yet he added support where it was needed and was always there at the right time. Miss Farrar was the recipient of many beautiful bouquets. It is hoped that we may hear each and every one of these artists many times more in Omaha.

Army Fliers Lose Their Way in Texas
AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 24.—The aero squadron of the United States army encountered and solved many new problems in their flight today from Waco to Austin, part of their cross-country trip from Fort Hill, Okla., to San Antonio, Tex. All six of the machines reached Austin safely, but not until four of them had been lost for nearly two hours in a haze which caused several of the machines to drift nearly fifty miles westward of their course. Three of the machines were forced to land in unmarked territory to get their bearings. The aviators accomplished the landing successfully, a feat which was regarded as of special value during a trip planned to test the efficiency of the machines by conditions as near as possible to actual warfare. The squadron expects to resume tomorrow the journey to Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio.

Bishop Moore Dies; A Civil War Soldier
CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 24.—Bishop David H. Moore of the Methodist Episcopal church, who was stricken with paralysis on a train while returning to his home here early today, died tonight. Bishop Moore had been on a visit to his brother in Chicago and was found unconscious in his berth on a sleeping car. Bishop Moore was retired from the Methodist Episcopal church in 1912. Bishop Moore entered the civil war in 1860, as a private in Company A of the Eighty-seventh Infantry, and for distinguished service his promotions were rapid. At the close of the war he was mustered out as colonel of the 125th Ohio infantry. After finishing his education in several Ohio institutions of learning, Dr. Moore was chosen in 1878, president of the Colorado seminary and chancellor of the University of Denver. In 1898, he became editor of the Western Christian Advocate.

Thousands Welcome The Old Liberty Bell
CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 24.—Sixty thousand persons, the majority of whom were school children, viewed the Liberty Bell here today. The relic was displayed on the lawn of the new court house and a guard of honor was formed by members of the Grand Army of the Republic, Scouts, Sons of Veterans and patriotic organizations. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 24.—Amid the booming of cannon, the cheering of vast crowds, and the singing of hundreds of school children, the Liberty Bell arrived here tonight on its trip across the continent.

McVey Beats Langford. NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Sam McVey of Oxnard, Cal., out-fought Sam Langford of Boston here tonight in a ten-round match. McVey was the aggressor in the first two rounds, Langford gaining the fourth and sixth. The weights of the negro heavyweights were: McVey, 212; Langford, 196.

PRESENTS TO POOR BY 30,000 CHILDREN
Clothing, Shoes and Provisions Piled High Ready to Be Distributed for Thanksgiving.
TURNED OVER TO INSTITUTIONS
More than thirty thousand boys and girls of the Omaha schools went to bed last evening, feeling better for having contributed toward the comfort and happiness of those who are in need of cheer when others are expressing thankfulness. The material evidence of this generous spirit might have been seen in a double store room at 1417 Dodge street where trucks delivered the school contributions. Along the east wall were heaps of clothing for boys and girls, men and women. In a corner was a collection of shoes, all tied in pairs for little feet, which need them. There were tons of provisions. Spaces around the walls were marked off with the names of the following institutions which received their portions for distribution to their respective charges: Salvation Army, Workmen's home, Salvation Army Rescue home, Creche, Visiting Nurses, St. Vincent de Paul society, Associated Charities of Omaha and South Omaha, Negro Women's association, Child Savings Institute, Old People's home, City Mission, Deacon orphanage, Associated Jewish charities, House of Hope, Mrs. Alquist's Independent charities, Union Gospel mission. It was a task to assemble the contributions received from seventy-eight public and parochial schools, and then distribute them according to the organizations listed above. A corps of volunteer workers worked with enthusiasm.

"MY brother's face started to break out with a deep red color and it itched so that he would rub it open and then it would bleed. It looked like a rash on his cheek and it kept spreading out closer to the eye. He scratched it and rubbed it open so much that it would form scales. Various Forms Of Headache
It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. J. W. Hay of Brockton, Ala. Continuing he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuritis and particularly the headache of women." "When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than 'Actolis', and when he feels the least sign of an incoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists.

Various Forms Of Headache
It is necessary in order to treat headaches properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. J. W. Hay of Brockton, Ala. Continuing he says: "Physicians cannot even begin the treatment of a disease without knowing what causes give rise to it, and we must remember that headache is to be treated according to the same rule. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to counteract the cause which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to relieve the pain until the cause of the trouble has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives comfort and rest in the most severe cases of headache, neuritis and particularly the headache of women." "When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for which nothing is better than 'Actolis', and when he feels the least sign of an incoming attack, he should take two A-K Tablets. Such patients should always be instructed to carry a few Anti-kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all druggists.
