

Nebraska STATE COMMITTEE TO MEET TONIGHT

Republicans of Nebraska Will Definitely Decide When to Open Headquarters.

ESTABROOK MEN AT LINCOLN

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 31.—(Special.)—Major Jess Craig opened up Estabrook headquarters at the Lindell hotel today and has brought from Omaha headquarters a clerk and stenographer to assist him. The state committee of the republican party will hold a meeting Tuesday evening at the Lindell hotel to consider opening headquarters and to take up other matters pertaining to the campaign.

Both members of the state committee from Lancaster county, E. D. Beach and Captain A. M. Trimble, are opposed to opening headquarters until after the primary campaign is over. They think nothing can be gained and it will be money spent which might be used to better advantage after the campaign starts.

To Settle Question.

The late meeting of republicans held at the state house a little over a week ago instructed the committee to open up headquarters at once, but Chairman George believed it better to wait until the committee could meet and take the matter up, so it is up to the committee tomorrow to settle the question.

It is understood to be the plan to have the machinery of the state committee put at the disposal of candidates for delegates to the national convention in securing the necessary signatures to the petitions. If this scheme is carried out those desiring to run will be notified to make application with the state committee before a specified date and pay in a pro rata portion of the expense of the printing and collecting of autographs.

In the meantime the democrats are as much in the air as ever over a candidate for governor. The old saying that "both sides in where assets four to three" does not even apply in this case, unless another Charlie Bryan gets in there is every indication that the office may go by default for the want of a man with sufficient courage to lead the badly demoralized democratic forces to a suitable defeat.

There is a chance to revive the party by the application of the cold water cure, is apparent and it is said that a petition which has been circulated by W. B. Hooper will be filed some time this week. Some men will undoubtedly be found filled with sufficient courage to run against the Lincoln mayor for the next nation, even if there is no chance to win at the election.

Allegation Oil Fees Are Much Too High

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Jan. 31.—(Special.)—Oil companies who are affected by the legal controversy going on between the state oil department and the companies over inspection which has resulted in temporary cessation of hostilities have filed in the supreme court a cross-petition in answer to the allegations set forth by the state in the filing of the application for a restraining order on the companies.

In an effort to show that fees are excessive they allege that since 1888 the collections of the oil department have been $7,000,000. Of this amount $22,360 has been used to pay the expenses of the department and $24,238 has gone into the state treasury. From January 1, 1912, to April 14, 1913, fees collected amounted to $10,654; from the last date to November 14, 1914, the fees were $68,471; from December 1, 1914, to September 30, 1915, the fees were $37,403. They show that from a period back up to September 30, 1915, the state has made a profit of $23,821 from gross receipts amounting to $711,216.

Rablins, a farmer from the north part of the county, who had been serving on the jury in the district court in this city, became mentally unbalanced while out on a case and has since been under the care of a physician. The case was before the court at the time the case of Guy Fear against Gladys Hidenour wherein Miss Hidenour seeks to compel Fear to support her year old child of whom she insists Fear to be the father. Attorneys for the defendant and plaintiff could not agree to abide by the verdict returned by eleven jurors and Judge Westover dismissed the jury and set the case for a rehearing at a later date.

MELLOR RAPS MIXED FLOUR

Secretary of Board of Agriculture Says Measure Will Result in Poor Bread.

STANDS UP FOR NEBRASKA

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 31.—(Special.)—Secretary W. R. Mellor of the State Board of Agriculture is not in sympathy with a movement started by the American Manufacturers Association of Products of Corn, which through its secretary, Robert G. Gould, has addressed a letter to Mr. Mellor advocating mixing corn meal with flour for the purposes of food, as advocated by a bill, H. R. 366, introduced in the national house of representatives by Henry T. Rainey, a member from Illinois and which will be sponsored in the senate by Senator Cummins of Iowa.

Mr. Gould asks that the secretary of the Nebraska board bring the matter before the board with the idea of an endorsement which should be sent to all members of congress in Nebraska, in both houses and also asks him to write a few letters to the members calling their attention to the bill.

Mr. Mellor has responded in the following letter:

Your letter of January 22 received. Personally, we do not coincide with your views on the matter. It is a matter of Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, states that produce corn in great quantities and but small yields of wheat, to assist legislation to increase the value of their crop production. Here in Nebraska, over a hundred years ago, we raised nearly equal amounts of corn and wheat as to value and our breeding and feeding of live stock is another matter for consideration. In the live stock industry the government gives Nebraska a 1915 production of all animals (figuring a one-third value on hogs, mules and cattle) on the basis that it takes three years to mature) of more than $121,000,000. This breeding and feeding industry is vitally interested in securing forage and grain at prices permitting a margin which will not cripple this great activity.

The passage of the law you desire would materially cheapen wheat if it raised the price of corn. We think that mixing corn flour with wheat flour would reduce the cost of making the flour a trifle, to the manufacturer, but would the people benefit in such reduction? We think not. The small miller would have to either purchase his corn flour from the big milling concerns, or else put in expensive machinery, which would have to be paid for out of additional profits. We are also of the opinion that bread made from a mixture of corn and wheat flour would be very white and light, but to offset the pleasing feature, on account of the starch in the corn flour, it would dry out very quickly, leaving the bread dry and hard within twenty-four hours after baking. Added to this, corn flour would lack flavor and its elastic qualities in such mixed bread would come wholly from the wheat flour; therefore, we do not think dry and tasteless bread would prove any great boon to our citizenship.

Therefore, in summing up, Nebraska is dotted over with small local milling industries, many of which would be put out of business if it were necessary to make their changes or even if they attempted to buy all the corn flour from the great mill centers. Our people would be compelled to eat dry and tasteless bread to benefit the large milling concerns; our feeders and farmers would be placed in a position of added expense in dairymen and beef production, our farmers would receive less revenue from grain, all this with a very little encouragement for a trifling raise in the price of corn.

Nebraska DISCORDANT NOTE SPOKEN AT FUNERAL

Street Evangelist Disturbs Company at Obsequies of Woman Who Ended Her Life.

PASTOR ORDERS FROM CHURCH

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 31.—(Special Telegram.)—Late this afternoon while a large company attending the funeral at Trinity Methodist church of Miss Gertrude Allen was bowed in grief, it was painfully shocked when a religious exhorter known as Rev. Mr. Afflerbaugh, a street evangelist, arose from a seat in the rear and testified he would repeat and did repeat a line from the scriptures which he said the pastor should have included in his text, but had failed to include, namely, that there shall be no murderer in heaven.

Miss Allen, a devoted Sunday school and Epworth league member, met death by self-destruction while temporarily deranged from a long illness made more acute by a recent complication of the grippe.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. Schick, had just finished an impressive sermon and had said tender words to the departed. A deep hush had fallen over the audience. Rev. Mr. Schick was stepping from the rostrum when the street exhorter, a man of large build and stentorian voice, pronounced his disapproval as indicated.

The pastor was among the first to recover from the shock that visibly swept through the audience, ordered the zealot to silence and requested the ushers to conduct him from the church. This was done, the disturber offering no violent resistance and thereafter keeping his peace.

Dr. Sherry is on his way to inspect the Indian school at Winnebago. While here he exhibited a letter received by him from Chann Clark, who desired to deny the rumor that he was going to the next national convention to nominate Woodrow Wilson for a second term. Speaker Clark said that he did not expect to attend the convention at all, and "could not nominate the president if he was not there."

TANLAC TO BE PRESENTED HERE

Romance of Business World Will Be Revealed in Introduction of New Tonic.

FIRST KNOWN YEAR AGO.

A little more than a year ago the first bottle of Tanlac, the master medicine which has been building up countless run-down men and women throughout the country, was sold in a Lexington, Ky., drug store.

From that sale grew a romance of the business world in which one and one-half million people now have a supreme interest—supreme because it is based on health.

Today in all of the Southern and most of the Eastern States, remarkable preparation is being distributed by the tens of thousands of bottles.

In the annals of medicine nothing has even remotely approached Tanlac's instant and tremendous leap in popularity. The original company which put Tanlac on the market in six months was deluged with orders and was unable to introduce Tanlac in the Western States.

A company has just been formed, however, backed by Western capital to put this tremendously successful and popular tonic on sale in Omaha.

This company will station a man in every city in this state who will meet the public and explain Tanlac, how it should be taken and the results that may be expected from its use.

Within a short time, therefore, Omaha people will be given an opportunity to test the properties of Tanlac.

Tanlac is prepared from the secret formula of the noted chemist and giver of health aids, Joseph von Trimbach. It is a purely vegetable preparation, absolutely free from mineral salts.

Tanlac is conceded to have a greater therapeutic value in cases of stomach and nerve exhaustion and catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes than anything so far discovered.

It has been informed by scientists generally and by men and women in every walk of life. Tanlac's action as a reconstructive tonic, strength producer, appetizer, invigorant and tissue builder is without parallel in the history of medicine.

Within the next few days arrangements will be completed for the introduction of Tanlac in Omaha.
