

EUGENICS BARS DAMAGE CLAIM

So Argues Halleck Rose in Suit of Mrs. Henry Homan Against the Heirs of S. D. Bangs.

EIGHTY-SIX ENGAGED TO SIXTY

Eugenics bars the claim of Mrs. Anna Homan, widow, 60 years old, to $200,000 damages for loss of the late Stephen D. Bangs, 86-year-old capitalist, as a husband.

Judge Estelle was asked to decide that he who advises an engaged person not to marry shall be held guilty.

If 86 becomes engaged to MARY 60, relatives have the right to interfere up to the time the marriage ceremony is performed.

Mrs. Homan, who is the widow of the late Henry A. Homan, for many years proprietor of a lively stable in Omaha, alleged in her petition that in June, 1914, at the request of Stephen D. Bangs, wealthy Omaha pioneer, she agreed to marry him on November 1, 1914.

Attorneys for Mrs. Hall and R. W. Hall, who are the widow and son of the late Richard E. Hall, attorney and stepson of Mr. Bangs, filed a demurrer to the effect that even if the facts were as stated by Mrs. Homan, she could collect no damages from them.

There is no precedent in all the law-books of this country and England for allowing damages because a third person prevented a wedding.

Eugenics and public policy demand that the Omaha court shall not establish such a precedent, the lawyer declared. "The relation of husband and wife is sacred and the law will not permit intrusion of a third person," he argued.
