 FRED DENNETT
 Commissioner of the General Land Office
 FRANK PIERCE
 First Assistant Secretary of the Interior

Why He Was Talkative.
 "Like every one else, I have always found Englishmen very reserved," relates a French novelist. "Once I thought I had found an exception. I was traveling through the south of France by rail and had for a companion an English stranger, who talked steadily to me for an hour and a half in very bad French. When we parted I said: 'I am very happy to have had the opportunity of exchanging my impressions with an affable gentleman—the more so from the fact that, as a general thing, your countrymen are not at all communicative.' 'Oh,' said my fellow traveler, rather confused and turning red, 'I only talked, you know, because it gave me a chance to practice my French.'"

The Fatal Breath.
 "Pay attention now," said the schoolmaster, addressing his class during the geography lesson. "The population of China is so great that two Chinamen die every time we take a breath." This information made a deep impression on the juvenile scholars, and the master was particularly struck with the uncomfortable appearance of one small boy at the foot of the class.
 His face was flushed, and he was puffing furiously.
 "What is the matter?" inquired the schoolmaster, with alarm. "What on earth are you doing, Tommy?"
 "Killing Chinamen, please, sir," was the answer. "I don't like them foreigners, so I'm getting rid of just as many as I can!"—London Sketch.

The OW Horse.
 "There was a little boy," said a man who is interested in children's charit-ties, "whom the Country Week association of Philadelphia put on a farm one August. One morning the little fellow took a walk to the village three miles away, and as he stood in front of the postoffice a farmer got down out of his double team and said:
 "'Hey, sonny, ketch hold o' that hoss' head while I go in an' see if thar's any letters.'
 "'Which hoss' head?' said the boy, advancing.
 "'The orf un,' said the farmer.
 "'The orphan?' said the little boy.
 "'How kin I tell which of 'em's an orphan. Don't ye try to kid me, mis-jer.'"

The Early Umbrella.
 We may infer from the following announcement, copied from the London Female Tatler of Dec. 12, 1709, that the umbrella at this period was regarded as too effeminate for the use of a man: "The young gentleman borrowing the umbrella belonging to Wills' coffee house, Cornhill, of the mistress, is hereby advertised, that to dry from head to foot on the like occasion he shall be welcome to the maid's patterns." About this time it was customary to keep an umbrella in the halls of larger houses for use in rainy weather, for shelter in proceeding from the house to a covered conveyance, and doubtless the one alluded to in the advertisement above quoted was for that purpose.

Rice in the Salt.
 There is no denying the fact that salt will not run out of a shaker in humid weather. It is a very clever mineral; knows enough to stay in when it rains. There is no better barometor. The best thing ever known to cause the salt to run is rice. Heat a teaspoonful of rice on the stove and put it in the salt shaker with the salt.
 The hot rice quickly absorbs all the moisture and the salt issues forth as dry as the sands of the desert. Twenty grains of rice are sufficient for a small shaker. Although it has only pinholes in the top, the salt will not pack in the most humid weather.—New York Press.

A Peripatetic Investment.
 When the scallop is full grown it is able to swim with great rapidity by opening and closing the valves of its shell. This curious fact, says What to Eat, was unknown to an unfortunate Frenchman who undertook a few years ago to establish a scallop plantation on a quiet New England beach. He deposited several thousand scallops in shallow water, expecting them to breed, but when he looked for them the next day all of them had fled.

Literary Exercises.
 "Wife (scornfully)—Oh, I've no doubt you were at your literary club reciting poetry till this hour of the night. And, pray, what were you reciting? Husband (reminiscently)—I think was something 'bout "Chips That Pash in the Night."—Baltimore American.

His Cleverness.
 "Don't be so lazy. There's plenty of room at the top, and you're clever enough to get there."
 "But," replied the lazy genius, "think how clever it is of me to find a place at the bottom, where there isn't so much room."

Her Note Was Final.
 The proprietor of a large drug store recently received this curt and haughty note written in an angular feminine hand: "I do not want vasoline, but gisserine. Is that plain enough? I person you can spell."

Reviving a Tired Honeybee.
 The honeybee is proverbially industrious. When everything goes well with it no form of animal life has more vigor, works more zealously nor defends its home more bravely. But the bee soon loses its activity when separated from its home so that it cannot return, as, for example, when it gets into a room and falls to find its way out. Cold rain or lack of food also soon puts it into a feeble or exhausted condition, making it appear as if it were discouraged. But nearly all its usual activity may be restored by a little sugar of honey.—St. Nicholas.

An Interesting Item

The Klamath Falls Military Band needs a piano. Just a piano won't do, it must be a good one. To stand the rough usage of dance work and as a club-room instrument, and still be musical enough to meet the severe requirements of solo and vocal accompaniment work, it must be strictly high grade in every particular.
 Now we can't afford to pay the retail price of such an instrument, and after corresponding with several leading piano houses on the coast, ten per cent discount was the best I could get. Now I have been in the music business several years, both as a dealer and piano tuner, and I know something about the prices and values of pianos. I know that we can afford the highest grade instrument made if we can only get the benefit of wholesale prices. After considerable correspondence with manufacturers I finally have been fortunate enough to secure the agency for Klamath county for the Baldwin piano, and there isn't a better piano made than the Baldwin.
 It is necessary, however, for me to buy four pianos in order to get the benefit of the wholesale price.

Now here's the point: I'm not going into the piano business, I've something else to do; but if there are four people in Klamath County who want a first grade piano at the price usually asked for a cheap stencil instrument, here is an opportunity you'll never see again in a lifetime. People don't usually sell pianos for fun, and ordinarily you'll pay the agent a profit of two hundred to five hundred dollars. I ask no profit whatever and I shall sell only the four pianos necessary to secure the wholesale price.
 This is strictly a cash proposition manufacturers don't sell at wholesale on installments. Now if you know of anyone in Klamath County who is in a position to appreciate such an opportunity, you will confer a favor on the band by referring them to me.

Polly Was Sarcastic.
 A few weeks ago a servant was engaged polishing brass work near Pol-ly's cage, and the bird immediately started talking to her.
 "Hello, Polly! What do you want?
 What's the matter with you? Are you quite well? Do you feel cold? Where have you been?" and much more of the same sort.

Eliciting no reply, she shouted out, "Why don't you talk?" and drew the retort from the woman, "Because I am too busy, Polly."
 Polly replied, "How shocking!"—Lon-
