

Get the Essence of Satisfaction

By Dealing with a Strictly Reliable House

When it's Jewelry, Watch Repairing, Optical Work or kindred lines you want, come to the Leading Establishment in those particular lines, where you get your money back if you are not satisfied. Our reputation is pretty good, too, as the old saying serves as proof, "Imitation is the Sincerest Flattery," so it don't make me mad to have others copy the simple and upright business methods I am using.

Merrill. Investment not Speculation.

Hard day's work with nothing to eat at the end of it is recommended as an excellent remedy for both dyspepsia and egotism.

The less time a man has to talk about being useful the more he is apt to be making good.

There are always plenty of people who are praying you to be strong in order that they may more safely indulge their weaknesses.

It pays to be pleasant; but, then, anything is pleasant that pays.

"The Store that Saves You Money"

The Busy Year.

The voters stand around in groups, Expectant, more or less. They hear a rumbling in the air, Whose portend they can guess. They want to should there be a chance, Get next or very near. Where they can be to touch with things, For this is campaign year.

Once every four they come around, These elections campaign. And give us pleasure that is not At times unmix'd with pain. The candidates at once proceed To walk the rag for fair, And on the started atmosphere Is wafted much hot air.

It is the time the voting king Proceeds to pick and choose, And though he shuts his eyes and votes, He really cannot lose. For every candidate is pledged To walk the narrow way, And each be better than the best, How can you beat it, pray?

It is a time for common sense To mingle in the game, But that is not a certain sign That it will do the same. It is not sanity's long suit To on the scene appear, And do its best to lose the job, For this is campaign year.

Unarmed.

"Where are you going, Billy?"
"Over to hear Jones' new phonograph."
"Why, man, what's the use? You haven't got an ax along."

Suspicious Circumstances.

Why does the man who shaves himself always feel called on to explain that he doesn't boycott the barber to save money? It seems to be on his conscience. The man he is telling all about it doesn't care what the object is—whether it is to save enough money to buy an automobile or whether it is to test a scientific experiment. Certainly it is constitutional for him to shave himself, and we do not see why he doesn't proceed with the pleasure of nicking himself up and let it go at that without so much protesting.

Parts He Saw.

"Now, Tommy," said the visiting school director to the small boy who was supposed to know something about grammar, "what are the parts of speech?"

"The tongue, the lips and the throat," replied the bright child without hesitation.

The Trust Magnate.

"Do you believe in the freedom of contract?"
"You bet, but I always make one stipulation."
"What is that?"
"That the freedom shall be all on my side."

With the Other Tied.

"I didn't know you played the piano."
"Sure, I do."
"Expert?"
"All of that. Why, I can play with one hand."

The Danger Period.

Every spring there are some smarties Who at ancient fogies scoff, But they'll chortle once too often If they take their fannels off.

C. D. Wilson is closing out his wholesale stock of liquors cheap as the cheapest.
