KLAMATH FALLS, THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 16, 1908

IN CLEVELAND.

The referendum case becomes more and more instructive. It throws a vivid light upon the methods and true character of an entire class of politicians who are called "reformers," "champions of the people," "representatives of the masses," "exponents of advanced ideas," etc., these designations being usually self-selected, in some way, or given under the guidance of the men so tagged. The candle power of the searchlight increases every day. Its gets into deeper recesses of politics and demagoguery.

All Cleveland sees how much protestations of devotion to the principle of the referendum mean when there is a possibility that the practical working of a referendum law may be adverse to a leader of the hue and cry for "direct legislation" and "popular government." The entire city perceives that an appeal to the people is good or bad, in the estimation of the loudest champions of the initiative and referendum, solely according to its effect upon their plans and ambitions.

It is such object lessons that make the shrewdest and ablest men in all countries scornful and suspicious in their attitude toward the typical self-exploited "reformer" and "friend of the masses." It is that which excites their derision when demagogues chatter of "the interests," as opposed to "the people." They see that "the people" mean nothing but "my crowd." Those who oppose the typical boss who depends on appeals to class feeling to win his political battles are the citizens and voters he refers to when he denounces "the interests." All of his political definitions are personal in their bias and point of view. Anything is right which plays his game. Whatever works the other way is evil.

Such the loudest shouters for to establish minority rule and trick rule, which is known as the initiative and referendum.—Cleveland Leader.

A Georgia legislator has introduced a bill which would make void the marriage of any woman who decoys a man into mating with her through "use of paints, powder, cosmetics, artificial teeth, puffs, rats, paddings, drop-stitched hose, high-heeled shoes, peek-a-boos, waists, corsets or other artifices."

WILL NOT COME.

That Secretary of the Interior Garfield will not visit this project this year is certain. While in Portland, on his return from the Hawaiian Islands he made the following statement regarding the Klamath Project:

"The department is not only satisfied, but very much pleased with the progress on the Klamath project. However, progress has been retarded by certain private land interests which are said to be speculating in the lands there. A great many complaints have come to us in Washington about private owners holding up the work, and we have been surprised that the work has met with any opposition at all, for we had naturally expected it to be met with the heartiest approval of and co-operation from the citizens of all sections of Oregon."

Mr. Garfield did not include Klamath Falls in his itinerary on this trip. He visited this place last year and declared he did not have time on this trip to visit the various other government projects, if Klamath was included.

During his stay in Portland Mr. Garfield was interviewed by Senator Fulton, when conditions in this county were undoubtedly discussed, and it is assumed that the above statement is given out for the purpose of conveying to the people of the Basin some idea of how the Secretary feels towards this project.

Really and truly, we are beginning to feel sorry for the poor politicians. What with the negroes organized to the number of nearly a million voters, and demanding certain things on pain of taking their case to the ballot box; organized labor making demands, and Gompers threatening to go after the political scalps of the congressmen who do not do the bidding of labor; the spy system of the government marking congressmen for slaughter; the plutocrats and the trust interests in battle array, and a lot more factors of the same sort entering into the situation, the head that wears the political crown certainly lies uneasy these days and nights.

The manner in which the New York Sun is abusing Mr. Sherman is the most effective answer to the democratic charge that he is controlled by Wall street.

IT WAS GENUINE.

The William Shakespeare Signature That Admiral Luce Had.

Admiral Luce was in command of the north Atlantic squadron in 1883, and his flagship for a time was anchored in New York bay, where it was visited by many people. One day a party came aboard which included, among others, a very pretty girl and a very dignified and learned Englishman. As Admiral Luce was entertaining them in his cabin he asked the pretty girl if she would like to see an original autograph of William Shakespeare.

At this the dignified and learned Englishman pricked up his ears and remarked that he had made a study of the autographs of Shakespeare and was positive there was no authentic example in America. Admiral Luce replied that he was very positive his was authentic and that its genuineness had never been questioned. This made the Britisher quite mad, and he delivered a lecture on the fraudulent autographs and manuscripts that were brought over to America and exhibited as originals.

"Well," replied the admiral, "I am convinced that my autograph of William Shakespeare is genuine, and I am going to have the pleasure of showing it to this young lady," whereupon he went to his desk, took out his visitor's book, turned back a few pages and then pointed out the signature, "William Shakespeare, mayor of New Orleans, Jan. 12, 1885." The Englishman gave a painful gasp and retired.

A Welsh College Yell.

The sooner the college yell is introduced into England the better it will be for the youth of the land. In Wales they have it, and see how Wales always beats all opponents at football! This is the cheery shout of the Aberystwyth students when their men are engaged in any athletic contest: "Hip, hip, hurrah! Hip, hip, hurrah! Hip, hip, hurrah! Boom! Warra! Ishmab! Ishmab! Keele, keele, wagg, wagg! Keele, keele, wagg, wagg! Ishmab! Keele wagg! Boom! Wa! Ha! Tsch! Now, that is something like a yell. One can see at a glance that it contains, at any rate, some of the elements which go to make up a yell. It would inspire a caterpillar. A few opeers who had that shouted in his ear would sprint out and die for his country.—London Globe.

The Birth of Christ.

The exact date of the birth of Christ is unknown. Among the early churches there was no agreement as to the date of the Nativity, some celebrating it in April or May, others in January. Dec. 25 can hardly be exact, for it falls in the rainy season of Judea, when shepherds would not have been watching their flocks by night in the open. The December date came into general observance naturally, but gradually. When the heathen races of the north were Christianized they simply substituted for their Yule celebration in December the observance of the birth of Christ.

Looking Backward.

A Mississippi official tells of a colored citizen of that state who gave a notice of the peace a big fat possum as a wedding fee. A year after the justice on meeting the lady asked: "Joe, how do you like married life?" "Well, sah," answered Joe ruefully, "if I kin say is I wish I'd eat dat possum."
