KLAMATH FALLS, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 21, 1908

OUR PORTLAND LETTER.

The Cortelyou Club of Brooklyn, N. Y., was represented in Portland Sunday by a delegation of one hundred and twenty-five of its members. The Cherry fair at Salem last week was a great success and many were present from Portland and other points.

A contract for $75,000 for the construction of the foundation of the main building for Swift & Co., to be finished within ninety days, was let last Friday.

The Astoria Regatta, with thirty splendid aquatic events, is scheduled for August 27, 28 and 29, and the railroads have made a rate of a fare and a third for the round trip from all points in the state.

The Washington State Press Association enjoyed one of their best annual conventions at Vancouver during three days of last week. A trip up the Columbia river, a trolley ride to Portland and a banquet at Vancouver, were among the features of entertainment.

Judge Geo. T. Baldwin, vice president of the Oregon Development League, and Mr. W. O. Smith, editor of the Klamath Falls Evening Herald were in Portland Saturday as a special committee from the Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce to invite the Y.M.C.A. excursion party which goes to Crater Lake August 7, to arrange their itinerary so as to include a visit to Klamath Falls.

The colonist rates from all points in the East to all points in Oregon commence Sept. 1st and continue until Oct. 31st. Every commercial organization and every citizen of Oregon should begin to make these rates the subject of every letter that goes out of the state. The fare is $30 from Missouri river points, St. Paul, Duluth and Winnipeg, $38 from St. Louis and $28 from Chicago, with proportionate rates from every point in the United States.

No meeting was ever called in Oregon that has attracted the universal enthusiasm that has been created by the Oregon Good Roads Conference, which is to be held in the Convention Hall, 4th floor, of the Portland Commercial club on Tuesday, Aug. 11th. An effort will be made to call the meeting to order promptly at 9:30 a. m., so that there may be a morning, an afternoon and an evening session. The railroads have made a rate of a fare and a third for the round trip for this occasion. Delegation representing every grange, the commercial bodies, and the different counties to be appointed by the county judges, are already reporting that they will be present. Every editor in the state is a delegate at large as is the mayor of every city, and every county commissioner. A program is being prepared, but every effort will be made to get rid of long winded speeches and to get down to actual work that will produce results.

A practical age indeed it is, and woman is contributing her full share to its practicality, and is showing herself fully capable of appreciating the importance of being entirely and sanely practical. Proof of this comes in the story of a case that was recently before the governor of California. It was a case of life and death, having had his day in court, in fact several days in several courts, for the case of murder in which he was involved had taken its course until here was only the executive between him and the gallows. He was charged with having slain Sarah Price. This was the situation when, with the day of execution less than a week distant, Mrs. James Lynn visited the governor. She presented her plea, a most wifely petition for the commutation of the sentence of her husband. The governor was moved. "Your appeal has touched me," he said to the pleading wife. "I can see that you love your husband very dearly." Then the practicality of the age showed itself, and woman's full appreciation of that practicality. "No, governor," she said, "love has not any thing to do with it. I am a practical and a truthful woman. You see, Jim has his life insured, and I want that life insurance. If he is hanged his policy will be void by its own terms. Send him to prison and let him die there, and I will get that life insurance. Do not let him be hanged and thus have me cheated out of the money." The governor was merciful to the insurance company. He was also practical, as becomes a governor in this age. Jim Lynn was executed.

SUMMER MUSIC SCHOOL.

Beginning in Klamath Falls July 28th and ending August 11th. The opening meeting, Wednesday evening, July 22, is FREE. The public is cordially invited to attend. Dr. R. A. Heritage, the Summer School instructor, will sing a few songs, and explain fully the work of the classes. Dr. R. A. Heritage has been in musical work all of his life. After a good elementary training under such men of national reputation as Roof, Odgen, Leslie, Straub and Eberhard, he later studied with L. Gaston Gottschalk, of Chicago, and Signor Victoria Carpi of Milan, Italy, seven years in voice; and of Dr. Louis Falk and Frederick Grant Gleason, of Chicago, in harmony, and Johann Freerk in orchestration. He has taught 31 years and stands as one of the foremost musical authorities in America. He is a life member of the National Music Teachers' Association.

EXPERIMENTAL MATRIMONY.

Trial Marriage is the Rule Among Many Peoples.

Among many people of the world trial marriages are the accepted custom. Among the Greeks "marriage is considered only as a temporary convenience, not binding on the parties more than one year." The consequence being that "a large proportion of the old and middle aged men by frequent changing have had many wives, and their children, scattered around the country, are unknown to them." Evidence of similar practices of experimental matrimony and consubial variety are found among many of the American Indian tribes on both continents.

In parts of Greenland six months is the trial dead line, husband and wife separating if the "two-hearts-two-minds" theory develops discord instead of harmony. Marriage among the Botocudos, according to Keane, is of a purely temporary nature, "dissolved on the slightest pretext or without any pretext at all merely through love of change or caprice."

"In Tasmania," says Dr. Milligan, "trial marriages result in a succession of wives."

In Samoa the wife's tenure of office is frequently limited to a few days or weeks, and marriage is sometimes only an excuse for the feast and festival so dear to the hearts of the pleasure loving natives.

In the Indian archipelago it is a common practice for formal marriage to be limited, sometimes for only a month and at others for a period of several years.—Schockcraft.

The Best Authority.

Hettie—Harry is a man always to be trusted. He has never deceived me. Clara—But how do you know that? Hettie—Know it? Why, he told me so himself only last evening.—Boston Transcript.

Vindication.

The Lady (to hastily retreating burglar)—Pardon me, but won't you please wait till my husband sees you? I told him there was some one in the house, and he said "Rubbish!"—Harper's Bazar.

Too Hazardous.

"Yesir," admitted a waiter, "I shall be compelled to throw up my situation here."

"Indeed! What is the matter?" "More than I can put up with. The Governor insists on my eating mushrooms in the presence of customers to prove they are edible fungi!"—London Tit-Bits.
