Sam's Dog Is Dead.

Yesterday evening at 5 o'clock an automobile mashed the life out of little "Fritzie," the smart terrier belonging to Sam Bishop. "Fritzie" had been ailing for some time, and Sam had taken his little pet to the veterinary for treatment. On the way home an auto ended "Fritzie's" existence. Fearing to tell his wife just how their pet met its death, Sam concocted a story to the effect that the veterinary found traces of hydrophobia and ordered "Fritzie" shot.

Have you seen the new styles in Women's Coats Suits Skirts and Dresses for Fall and Winter Nineteen Thirteen

If not, you are missing a style show well worth going miles to see.

We have planned for the past three months to show you one of the largest and most up-to date stocks of Women's ready-to-wear Merchandise ever exhibited in Klamath County, and today we are ready to give you that most interesting of all exhibitions. A real style show, where you will see the same styles displayed in Klamath Falls you would see in New York City, were you there.

Some of the most important advantages in buying your new coat or suit at this store is: First, you will have a stock to select from which is double and thrice in size anything yet ever attempted in Klamath County. Second, the prices here are positively as low and in many instances lower than you will find them in the large cities. Consult your catalogue on this line of merchandise, then look through our magnificent stock and get our prices; see the styles we are showing, and it's a ten-to-one shot we will get your business. Don't you think we should, other things being equal? Third, we have at the head of our Ready-to-Wear Department a woman who thoroughly understands dressmaking, has had several years city experience in alteration work, and is able to and will see that you are perfectly fitted; all this without any extra expense to you.

Come tomorrow, or any day—you will be welcome, no difference whether you buy or not. We want you to see the new stock. This is the only store in Klamath County that sends a buyer direct to New York City every season, and buys direct from the manufacturers through a Buyers' Association, who are in a position to buy in large quantities. "Why shouldn't we sell for less?"

President's Youngest Daughter in Robes for Leading Role in "Bal Masque" Sanctuary

Miss Eleanor Wilson, youngest daughter of President Wilson, was the leading character in the "bal masque" sanctuary, given on the estate of Ernest Harold Baynes, the naturalist, at Meridian, N. H., the other day. She appeared in a pure white costume of Greek design.

In the play a protest against the importation of birds' plumes, and written by Percy Mackaye, Miss Wilson portrays the part of "Ornis," the bird spirit. Her portrayal of this character during the rehearsals brought her unstinted praise and compliments from all. Miss Margaret Wilson, another daughter of the president, agreed to sing a song. The lyric of "The Hermit Thrush," the number selected by Miss Wilson, was written by Miss Arvin Mackaye, daughter of Mr. Mackaye, when she was 9 years old.
