DOVE SEASON OPENS TODAY FOR 30 DAYS

The season for lawful killing of doves opens today. It will close October 1st. Doves are not plentiful in Klamath county, yet there are a few of these delicious birds in many sections of the county. It is reported that they are most plentiful in the southern part of the county and in Langell Valley.

DIXON VOTES BUT ISN'T A CITIZEN

INABILITY TO FIND FATHER'S PAPERS CAUSES HIM TROUBLE OF FORMALLY BECOMING A TRUE CITIZEN

After serving on juries and voting in Klamath county for several years, Samuel Dixon, a farmer of the Nuss Lake district, has discovered that he isn't an American citizen. He discovered the fact when he went to file on land and was unable to produce the naturalization papers his father had taken out when Mr. Dixon was a small boy.

Mr. Dixon was born in New Zealand and emigrated with his father and family to this country when very young. His father secured naturalization papers soon after his arrival. Mr. Dixon rightly considered those papers ample evidence that he was a citizen, but when he attempted to file on public land was unable to find his father's papers. Hence he has to go through the procedure of becoming naturalized himself to convince the government of his fidelity to the stars and stripes. The hearing on his second papers will come up this winter.

BLINDS BUCK; CUTS ITS THROAT

PADDOCK TELLS NEW WAY OF KILLING DEER WITH SHOTGUN. SHOWS HEAD TO PROVE HE GOT THE BUCK

Do you believe this story? It's one for the book.

E. L. Paddock tells that he shot a spike deer in the face with a shotgun, number six shot, blinded the buck, then ran up to the deer, grabbed him by the horns, grappled with him as one would bulldog a steer, cut his throat, and then walked proudly into camp with his prey.

Paddock also declares that when he first took hold of the horns the most of them slipped off, leaving Paddock with two hands full of the moss. But he was not in the least deterred. Again he took the horns in his hands, and this time held the poor blind deer while he tapped the jugular vein.

The whole affair happened near Rocky Point. Paddock has given the head to Walter Donart, local taxidermist, to mount.

Three and a Half Inches of Rain Falls in 20 Minutes

Three and one-half inches of rain in twenty minutes in Upper Swan Lake Valley. Can you believe it? That is just what happened last Thursday evening, according to Fred Colman, a rancher of that section. Mr. Colman said there was an empty barrel by the house before the rain, and that when the rain stopped the barrel contained 3 1/2 inches of water.

Grain was knocked out of the heads onto the ground by the heavy hail which preceded the rain by a few minutes. Colman says he lost perhaps 200 bushels of grain through the hail.

The rain and hail was confined to a very small area at the upper end of Swan Lake Valley. To the south the dust hardly was laid.

Stewart Is Arrested by Low After Long Chase

E. T. Stewart, who purloined a motorcycle from the E. B. Veghte Sportsmen's store Wednesday afternoon was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Low at the Chambers sawmill, between Olene and Dairy. He was brought to Klamath Falls last night and placed in jail. His hearing will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Deputy Low found Stewart only after tracking him for hours through the hills surrounding the Chambers and Edmonds sawmills. He was at the Edmonds mill when he heard Low's automobile approaching, and quietly dropped behind a tent and went into the hills.

Low and Veghte, who accompanied him, tracked Stewart by the prints made by his tennis shoes, which forced him to avoid the ricks and keep on soft ground. The track was lost two or three times, but was picked up again. Often it took sharp turns and followed parallel with the first track. Finally it led to Chambers sawmill, where Stewart went to get water.

On reaching Olene Wednesday afternoon the motorcycle broke down, and Stewart was forced to leave it there and take the broad highway, as Edward Payson Weston
