

PRISONERS CUT WOOD

Sheriff Low Stages Annual Party In Court House Yard

Sheriff Low's annual woodpile party started in the back yard of the courthouse today with four guests of the county present...

When the party was staged last year one of the guests invited his co-workers to strike. The strike soon ended when the sheriff decreed a bread-and-water diet until the men resumed work...

This year, however, the sheriff says labor conditions are more favorable and he expects a large season's cut.

HOLD MERRY-MAKING

Rotarians Have Christmas Tree at Weekly Gathering

Business discussion gave way to holiday merry-making at the Rotary club meeting with a "gift" from a tree that decorated the center of the table.

The Rev. Arthur L. Rice occupied 20 minutes of the program with an inspiring talk on New Year's resolutions.

The president of the club was authorized to send a message of condolence to the Rev. W. E. Bobbitt of Woodland, expressing regret and sympathy because of Mrs. Bobbitt's death.

RESOLUTIONS ARE SUGGESTED BY MANY PROMINENT PERSONS

us mind our own business and keep from trying to mind that of the rest of the world, Europe in particular.

LATHROP STODDARD, author and authority in the Near East: To look facts in the face both at home and abroad.

MOST REVEREND PATRICK J. HAYES, archbishop of New York: To promote the spirit of Lincoln, whose "charity toward all, with malice toward none," should be a fundamental principle of our national life.

CHARLES F. MARVIN, chief of the United States weather bureau: Stop the pursuit of selfish interests and profits and go to work for the work's sake and the welfare of humanity.

M. I. BURTON, president of the University of Michigan: America, if she is to realize on her invested hopes and aspirations, must be world-minded. As we approach a new year, we must resolve anew to do our part in solving the problems of civilization.

MICHAEL I. PUPIN, professor of electro-mechanics, Columbia University: We should make every effort to find a way by which we can employ our wealth, our stored-up intelligence, and our moral power for the purpose of helping Europe to emerge from its recent chaotic condition.

DR. RAY LYMAN WILBUR, president of Leland Stanford University: To play a man's full part in international relations.

WILLIAM A. SUNDAY, evangelist: America should resolve to return to the faith of our fathers, to put His word into every heart, home and school; to swear respect for law and order, a new loyalty to the constitution and uncompromising antagonism to every man and thing opposed to the flag.

GENE STRATTON PORTER, author: To save America for Americans. By which I mean that at the present appalling decrease in the birth rate of purely American families, and the equally appalling increase in the birth rate of foreigners coming to our shores to be naturalized, it will take only one or two generations to put our government and institutions into the majority power of people having no understanding of, or love for, things indigenous to American soil, character and institutions.

WILL H. HAYS, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Directors of America, ex-postmaster general: America needs but one resolution for 1923 or for 2023—and that is to be STEADFASTLY AMERICAN.

JOHN BARTON PAYNE, lawyer, chairman of the American Red Cross: To study and understand American institutions, what they are and why they were brought into being, and how completely they solve our present problems if rightly understood and sympathetically but thoroughly observed.

Greetings and Salutations, kid. And also "Welcome to our city!" The Old Year's blown, we're glad he did. His gears was gettin' worn and gritty; He wasn't hittin' on all six. The poor old wretch could hardly toddle, He wasn't worth the time to fix; So we get YOU, a brand new model!

It's true the roads he found was rough, Chuck full of mud and sand and gravel; You'll find some, too, but Do Your Stuff Let's see how smoothly you can travel. We're wishing you the best of luck, And that is straight, we wouldn't con you; Go on now, show your pep and pluck, We're for you, kid, our wad is on you!

That old bird, 1922, Done well, though his career was checkered, But we're expectin' more from you— We're backin' you to break his record. Shoot! Start your act! Get busy! We Are watchin' every move you're makin'. Go to it, 1923, Step out and cop the well-known bacon!

CONFERENCE TEAMS GIVE UP SHARE OF RECEIPTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Several universities of the Pacific coast conference have decided they do not want to share in the proceeds of the New Year's Day football game at Pasadena, California, between the University of Southern California and Penn State.

Each conference school is entitled to $2,500 from the game, but California, Stanford and Washington have voted that their share be given to the western team participating in the game.

Under the agreement with the Pasadena Tournament of Roses committee, which is handling the game, the conference receives $25,000 from the gate receipts. Of this sum the conference voted to give half to the team representing the west and divide the other half among the other conference schools, giving each $2,500.

Stanford has its own East-West game with Pittsburgh today, so decided not to take the money, and California and Washington both made good profits on their own football season, so they decided they did not want the Pasadena "cut." Oregon, Washington State and the Oregon Aggies have not been heard from.

Idaho voted some time ago to accept the money, and already has made provision for its expenditure.

EXPLORER FINDS TRIBE OF INDIANS RULED BY WOMEN

BOSTON, Dec. 30.—An Indian tribe of South America ruled entirely by women was described recently by Dr. A. Hamilton Rice in a lecture before the Lowell Institute. The tribe lives on the Icana river, a branch of the upper Amazon where Dr. Rice went on a trip of exploration.

The women of the tribe appeared to be permanent residents of the village, Dr. Rice said, while the men who were there came mostly from tribes along the river Gulana. The ancient Amazonian legend, of a tribe of self-supporting women, visited from time to time by men of other tribes, came to the explorer's mind with his discovery, he said, and indicated to him that he might have found the basis for the legend.

During his lecture, Dr. Rice was asked if he believed that former President Roosevelt's life had been shortened by the effects of his South African journey. He replied: "Yes, he died from the effects of his journey to South Africa. There was not a doctor in New York who knew what ailed him."

The object of Dr. Rice's exploration was mainly to determine the character of the country surrounding the Itilla, Mesaya and Itrida rivers, and to identify those rivers.

At San Martin he found 500 persons served by three priests who bemoaned their lack of knowledge of medicine. Many of their parishioners were suffering from disease. Dr. Rice's examinations developed that they carried the tertian form of malarial parasite and the epidemic skin disease known as pinta, a particularly disfiguring form. Daily Dr. Rice was begged for relief by the sufferers.

The old La Sal-Calma trail across the Vega in the rainy season caused Dr. Rice's party much difficulty. For nearly 45 miles the trail crosses a chain of swamps and quagmires through which the natives of the party floundered naked, cursing and whipping the pack animals before them.

KLAMATH VALLEY HOSPITAL

Pine at Fourth Street Klamath Falls, Oregon

To make a better town, to secure safer living conditions, to encourage good physicians to remain, demands the support and maintenance of the modern hospital by every one whom it may sometimes serve. Pull for the hospital in sickness, in accidents, in motherhood! Make use of it. Patronize it. A home institution to be proud of. Wish it well. Where would you be without hospital or doctor? This town would not be a safe place in which to live. Is that true of church or school? Then the hospital is first. Make use of it. Wish it well.
