LOG CABIN SUCCESS.

What ails the young men? Robert Garrett's father left him a fortune of twenty millions. He was from childhood reared in luxury, received a splendid education with an especial training into a thorough knowledge of railroad management and was expected to succeed his father as a railroad king. Within three years after the responsibilities which his father's death threw upon him were assumed, he is reported a broken down man, with mind and health permanently shattered. George Law is another young man left with millions of money, who is reported among the "wrecks." His father, bred a stone mason, was of gigantic size and strength, with commensurate brain power, so he became a great contractor, then a railroad king and left half a dozen millions for his son to dissipate. The young man is a success as a dissipator. The founders of both of these great estates were born in the most humble walks of life, grew strong, mentally and physically, by simple living and honest labor and developed into financial giants. Their sons were reared in the lap of luxury and developed into intellectual pigmies. The great men of our country have not, as a rule, come from the elegant mansions of the cities, but from the Log Cabins of the rural districts. Simple ways of living, freedom from dissipation and enervating pleasures, simple remedies for disease, effective and which leave no poison in the system, develop brawny, brainy men, who compel the world to recognize their strength and power. The wholesome, old-fashioned Log Cabin remedies are the safest and best for family use. Our grandmothers knew how to prepare the teas and syrups of roots, herbs and barks which drive disease out of the system by natural methods and leave no after ill effects. The most potent of these old-time remedies were, after long and searching investigation, secured by H. H. Warner of safe cure name, and are now put out for the "healing of the nations" in the Warner's Log Cabin remedies. Regulate the regulator with Warner's Log Cabin sarsaparilla and with pure blood giving health, strength, mental and bodily vigor, you may hope to cope successfully with the most gigantic financial problems of the age, without wrecking health and manhood.

Thurman Accepts, Too. COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 15. - Judge Thurman's letter of acceptance was given to the press yesterday. California's Diseased Meat. LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15. - The revolting story that the city scavenger was feeding dead horses, many of them glandered, to hogs which were afterwards placed in the markets here, has been verified by a correspondent visiting the boneyard, where horses in all stages of decomposition were found lying about. On the place was a pen in which 230 large fat hogs were wallowing, surrounded by half-picked bones and half-devoured chunks of horse flesh. A large boiling apparatus for stewing meat was also found.

"The Merry Maiden and the Tar." She was merrier before she "struck" the tar. Her spirits sank as she beheld her new white gown blackened by the tar. This tar helped a wagon run instead of helping run a ship. Just so a thousand trivial accidents and neglected "small things" take the merriment out of the lives of young girls and maidens. Particularly is this the case with diseases peculiar to their sex which take so much enjoyment and happiness from life. However a remedy is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for all female "weaknesses" or irregularities, nervousness, neuralgia, and uterine troubles. Ask your druggist. Dr. Pierce's Pellets, or Anti-bilious Granules, have no equals. 25 cents a vial; one a dose. Cure headache, constipation and indigestion.

More Railroad Rumors. CHICAGO, Oct. 15. - Henry Villard and President Colby of the Wisconsin Central railroad are here. Villard has just returned from a trip over the Northern Pacific, and the fact that he has also gone over the Wisconsin Central with President Colby has given rise to the story that arrangements are on foot for a close alliance of the corporations. President Colby has repeatedly denied that the Wisconsin Central is to be leased to the Northern Pacific, but it is well known that a large portion of the securities of both roads are held by the same people.

A Horse's Head. PORTLAND, Oct. 15. - The usually quiet little town of Sandy, which is located in this county 28 miles southeast of this city, was thrown into a state of great excitement by the killing of a man named Hodges there on Sunday evening.

It seems that a man named Wallace had a horse stolen from him, and he went to the justice of the peace of Sandy who made him constable. Wallace layed for the man and caught him riding his horse, when he, Wallace, told the man who was on his animal that he was under arrest and ordered him to dismount and give up the horse. This order was resisted by the man whose name was Hodges. Then Wallace fired at him. The bullet entered the body on the right side, near the nipple, and passed clear through the body and came out on the back just below the left shoulder-blade. The wound inflicted was almost immediately fatal. Wallace delivered himself up to the justice of the peace.

Make the Law General. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15. - Congressman W. W. Morrow has arrived from Washington. Speaking of the Chinese exclusion bill he said: "There was some talk before I left Washington to introduce a bill requesting the president to enter into negotiations with Canada and Mexico with a view of getting those countries to adopt Chinese exclusion laws. Such a bill will doubtless be introduced in congress next session. If adopted there will be no necessity to guard these frontiers. I think it likely such negotiations will be successful. Although Mexico has been encouraging Chinese cheap labor, I think the Mexican government can be induced to favor the United States so far as to exclude Chinese. The Canadian house of commons, at its last session, did not appear much opposed to Chinese, but I think it will also co-operate with this country. Until that is done the United States will have to be guarded at every point."

CONDENSED DISPATCHES.

The police of Berlin are seizing all copies of Dr. MacKenzie's book wherever found. Among the arrivals on the steamer City of Columbia was Dr. Paul Gabler, who is to study yellow fever disease for the French government.

The Canadian Pacific steamer Duke of Westminster is still lying in the stream at San Francisco with her two hundred Chinese passengers awaiting the action of the United States courts on the question of admission on habeas corpus writs. The question will be decided tomorrow.

The First Girl Cremated.

The first young girl to be cremated in America was nineteen-year-old Alida Weisleder, the daughter of the Superintendent of the Brush Electric Light Company, in Cincinnati. Her body was burned recently at the crematory in that city. The corpse, wrapped in white alum linen, with white and yellow roses on the breast, was slid into the retort by two attendants who at once retired, and in the stillness that followed the mourners could hear the puff and sizzle of the gases of the body as the heat devoured it. After an hour the blue flames stopped circling about the body, and a long white streak was seen where it had been. These ashes when gathered up weighed less than a pound. They were returned to the parents and will be preserved in an urn. It was the ninth incineration at the crematory.

A Warning to Bismarck.

The Pall Mall Gazette challenges the German authorities to carry out the threat to institute proceedings to prevent the publication in London of the late Emperor Frederick's diary. The Gazette warns Prince Bismarck not to attempt to extend abroad the tyranny over the press which is exercised in Germany.
