A Baby Climbs a Ladder.
Think of a baby twenty-four hours old climbing a stepladder! It was rather an undersized infant for that age too. Of course it could not climb up by itself, so the nurse carried it in her arms. It did not cry, but clapped its hands delightedly. The child was a little boy and the climbing of the stepladder took place in the very room where he was born. The mother regarded it as an important event evidently. It was by her orders that the performance took place. Her interest was none the less because it was all for the sake of gratifying an old time superstition.
Monthly nurses all agree that if a baby goes down stairs before it goes up stairs its path in life will be downward and ill luck will attend it. Accordingly precautions should be taken against such an omen. In this instance the child having been born on the top floor of the house it could not be carried up stairs, and therefore its mother had suggested the ingenious plan of having a stepladder brought into the room so that nurse could mount it with baby in her arms.
But that was not all. A small Testament was attached by a string to the child's arm and in its chubby little fist was placed a gold dollar. Thus reasonable certainty was secured that the boy would grow up both rich and pious. At the same time it seems very odd to see such superstitious observances practiced in the city of Washington in the year 1893.—Washington Star.

BIG KANSAS BANK FAILURE.
$800,000 Liabilities—John J. Ingalls Involved.
CITY ELECTION AT OAKLAND CALIFORNIA
Non-Partisan Ticket Wins the Day.

SENSATIONAL BANK FAILURE.
John J. Ingalls Involved in Big Liabilities.
ATKINSON, Kan., March 14.—A sensation was created last night when Areling Tufts, of Kansas City appeared here, and took possession of the Kansas Trust and banking company, as receiver. The company was organized in 1888, with a capital of a hundred thousand dollars. Ex-senator John J. Ingalls is president of the concern. Ingalls had $7,500 invested. The liabilities are $800,000. The assets it is believed, if prudently managed, will pay in full.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Richard S. Heath, son of the late General Heath, of this city, was arrested here last night for the murder of Louis McWhirter, in Fresno last August. Special Session in Wyoming.
CHEYENNE, March 14.—Two of the leading newspapers of the state have come out in advocacy of a special session of the legislature. Many public men are in favor of it. Scarcely any of the politicians believe that A. C. Beckwith, the gentleman favored by the governor when the legislature failed to elect a senator, will be admitted to the senate. The extra session would be somewhat different in composition from the regular. A Democratic senator was unseated the last day, and a Republican senator left his party and went to the Populists. There would be an equal number of Democrats and Republicans and six Populists. Both Republicans and Democrats would hope to capture the prize, and the fight would be an exceedingly warm. John Charles Thompson would be the candidate of the Democrats, and F. E. Warren of the Republicans.

GREAT DE LESSEPS TRIAL.

Panama Canal Bribery By Millions.

FRENCH POPULATION TAKE A HAND

As Usual in the Conduct of the Case.

PARIS, March 14.—The approaches to the Palais de Justices were thronged by excited crowds. There has not been such excitement since the beginning of the Panama scandal. The crowds composed all classes, from the militant socialist to the wealthy merchant and financier. There was an ominous murmur of angry talk, and a menacing frown on the faces of the lower classes in the throng that reminded one of the days preceding the commune. The court room was thronged with as many as could obtain admittance. The prisoners seemed themselves revived by the new interest which their cases had awakened. Some thought the features of Charles de Lesseps bore a look of triumph, while even Balthus looked less crushed than at any time previous since his pitiful confession. As soon as the court opened, President Judge Desjardins ordered Bourgeois, late minister of justice, to be summoned to testify at some time during the day.

Deputy Fernand Mege, of Puy de Dome, who belongs, according to his own statement, to a party of "appeal to the people," testified to the accuracy of the statement that Yvesguyet was the source of the report that Constans had communicated to President Carnot, in the council at Elysee, the list of deputies implicated in the alleged Panama bribes.

Count Cafferelli, monarchist deputy for Alsace, gave similar testimony, which was corroborated by Radical Deputy Labrousse. Advocate Lagrass demanded that Constans be summoned. This was objected to by the advocate-general, who said the calling of witnesses must have some limit.

Deputy St. Martin, union conservative, who had been member of the committee on application of the Panama Canal Company for leave to issue lottery bonds, testified that he did not see Sans Le Roy, one of the defendants accused of changing his vote on the committee as the result of a bribe, leave the committee-room just before the critical division on the bill. Saint Martin said he had been told Sans Le Roy went out to see Arton, and afterward Sans Le Roy's opposition to the bill ceased.

Market, a member of the same committee, testified that he did not see Sans Le Roy leave the room on the occasion in question. Witness remembered that there was an altercation over the vote which Sans Le Roy gave in support of the bill, and that Sans Le Roy told the committee he was bound to comply with the wish of his constituents.

THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES.
The chamber of deputies was crowded with members and spectators in expectation of a division that would result in the cabinet crisis, but owing to the fact that Bourgeois, late minister of justice, had been summoned to give testimony in the trial of Charles de Lesseps and his fellow defendants, the debate on Panama matters was postponed.

M. Bourgeois, late minister of justice, took the stand. He spoke with firmness and energy, and showed a disposition not to reserve anything that could explain his position toward the Panama case and the defendants.

Charles de Lesseps here arose, and, in a bold manner, in tones that rang through the court room, said: "M. Bourgeois, attacked me a little while ago. Well, monsieur, here I am, face to face with you. What have you to say to me?" De Lesseps folded his arms and looked defiantly at Bourgeois while a violent uproar in the audience greeted this sudden ebullition on the part of the leading defendant, whose conduct up to this time had been at least within the rules of orderly procedure.

Judge Desjardins spoke up: "I cannot allow," he said, "these dialogues. The law must be recognized by all." The audience calmed down, and Bourgeois proceeded to reply in deliberate language to M. Barboux. M. Bourgeois exclaimed, "If anyone know that I am acting contrary to the dictates of honor, let him speak." At these words the uproar in the audience was renewed, many taking part with Bourgeois and others with his accusers. When hearing was resumed Soinoury was recalled. He made a statement to the effect that neither Bourgeois nor any other minister was in any way responsible for his interview with Madame Cottu. He himself originated the idea of a conference with her. The charges that he threatened Madame Cottu or promised her any favor in return for the information she might give were utterly false.

RECEIVES A PRINCESS.
President Cleveland Gives an Audience to Kaiulani and Party.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—At 5:30 o'clock President and Mrs. Cleveland accorded a special reception to Princess Kaiulani, the meeting taking place in the blue parlor. The princess was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Davies, their daughter and a lady friend. The call was entirely of a social nature, and lasted probably a quarter of an hour. The visitors were charmed with the cordiality of reception accorded them, the ladies being captivated by the pleasing manners of the wife of President Cleveland, and the princess said subsequently that Mrs. Cleveland was the only lady she ever felt in love with. Gossip as to the personal of the commission that will probably be appointed to visit the Hawaiian islands includes the names of Judge Martin V. Montgomery, of Michigan, late of the District of Columbia supreme bench; General Schofield; Admiral Brown, and Captain H. L. Howison. Dr. Mott Smith, the Hawaiian minister, does not regard the appointment of the commission with much favor.

HOGG HAS THE COMBINATION.
The New Receiver of the O. P. Ry. Not in Possession.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Struggle for possession of the books of the Oregon Pacific Railroad company continues. The attested order of the circuit court of Oregon removing T. Egerton Hogg, New York, as receiver, and appointing Everett W. Hadley, has not yet arrived but is expected tomorrow. The bondholders' committee fear that Hogg will not obey the order when it is served, but will obtain a stay of proceedings. Two deputy sheriffs are in charge of the office at 45 William street, but they have possession of only such bonds as Hogg has seen fit to surrender. There are six big safes in the office, combinations of which Hogg retains. The bondholders' committee believe these safes contain most important book and papers. Oregon Pacific bonds, originally placed at 102, are now selling at 60.

Has Influenza.
LONDON, March 13.—Gladstone is confined to his room with symptoms of influenza. His fever has risen this evening, and he suffers from oppression of the lungs. Sir Andrew Clarke still refuses to pronounce the illness influenza. Besides Mrs. Gladstone, her daughter and two servants of the household have influenza.

Not Influenza.
LONDON, March 14.—Gladstone's physician says the premier's illness is not influenza. Gladstone slept well and is much better, but remains in bed to recuperate.

I suffered from biliousness, indigestion, etc. Simmons Liver Regulator cured after doctors failed.—W. D. Bird.
