TARIFF REFORM.

The Portland Telegram, Dem., wants the Democrats of Oregon to help the cause of tariff reform in Ohio. It says:

The election of McKinley by a very decided majority undoubtedly will be considered a set-back for tariff reform by the great mass of the people. For this reason, if for no other, it is the duty of the Democratic party at large and the administration in particular to give all the support to their power to the Ohio Democracy.

The people of Ohio are more than likely to elect Major McKinley by a very decided majority. They do not seem to have caught the inspiration of the Democratic tariff reform agitation which has not blessed the country with such marvelous prosperity as was promised by the Democratic tariff reform agitators last November. Under the head of "wanted," the Greensburg, Indiana, Review prints.

During the last campaign the Democrats of this city displayed a banner in their processions bearing this inscription.

Vote for Grover Cleveland, and get $1.25 a bushel for your wheat.

A liberal reward will be paid for that banner at this office and no questions asked.

Now, we might have got that for wheat if Harrison had been elected, because last year it went nearly to a dollar at Salem. But no such lying promises were made to get votes for Harrison. They were made all over our country to get votes for Cleveland and undoubtedly the tariff reform agitators captured the presidency and congress by just such methods. But just now those banners are not being paraded as they were last November. The Democratic Eugene Guard of Oct. 11th, prints this item, headed a "Poor Market."

Charles Innis, of Paisley, had a band of fine mutton sheep driven here, but found a very unsatisfactory market at Portland, hence yesterday he started to drive them back to his home. His best offer was $1.50 per head, while last year for the same grade of sheep he could have easily attained from $3 to $3.50 per head.

This does not look as though the country needed to fear giving "Tariff Reform" a set back. It cannot be set back any too hard in Ohio or anywhere else.

TEAM LICENSES.

Eugene Register: Salem is trying to compel persons who do teaming on her streets to pay license. The reason for this action is that it is claimed the teamsters have the most use of the streets, and it is intended that the license money obtained from them would be accepted as reimbursements to the city for wear and tear on the streets. It is the old story over again of keeping a sharp lookout that the poor and needy bear their full share of burden in the shape of taxes, while the wealthy and amply able citizens are left to escape their burden unnoticed. The wealthy hide their assessable property to escape taxation, or falsely to represent the value of the same, but the poor man is unable to hide his little mite and is taxed his full share, and if enough is not obtained through the assessor a blow is dealt him from some other source. True, teamsters in any city wear out streets perhaps more than any other person, but they do it while acting as servants of other citizens, and it is no more than just that all should bear the expense of street repairs, which would be a light burden if properly distributed among all. Those who can afford to keep a horse and carriage and make use of the streets, while those who can not afford such conveyances have no use for the streets personally, yet it would be considered unjust to tax a man for keeping a horse and buggy. Let the poor people and common laborers have a free and open field, unhampered by special tax burdens, in which to operate and earn an honest living. Every dollar they earn returns to circulation and is used in paying off their obligations. Let those who are amply able bear their proportion of the needed expense in providing them a field for operations, and they will be fully repaid in more ways than one. Let Salem, and not only Salem, but all other places, encourage rather than discourage the laboring classes in their effort to earn an honest living for themselves and their families, and the whole country will profit thereby. It is the struggling laborer who needs protection more than the well-to-do citizen who is supplied with worldly possessions enough to keep him the rest of his days.

Spurious coins are circulating in Polk county and a paper there believes they are made there by a gang of counterfeiters.

The Salem Y. M. C. A. have made arrangements to open a night school. The tuition will be only $5 a year. Rev. Hutchinson has been engaged to teach a class of vocal music. Prof. Slay, of the Capital Business college, will teach penmanship, bookkeeping, and arithmetic, and Mr. John W. McCulloch, formerly of Stayton, will be instructor in grammar, punctuation, composition and spelling.

Cards are out announcing the approaching marriage of Miss Emma C. Dorris, of Eugene, to Mr. Hugh Thompson, of Salem. The wedding ceremony will take place at the residence of the bride's parents, Wednesday, at 9 o'clock, Oct. 18. Mr. Thompson is a well known society man at Salem and accountant at the penitentiary.

There are a good many old inhabitants in Benton county. They have finally run up against something upon which they all exactly agree, and that is, that the storm of the past week, together with the high water incident to it, is the first thing of the kind seen since the white man first set foot in Webfoot land.

A Corvallis man whose wife died five months ago went so far as to get a marriage license. But people talked so he has decided not to marry for the present.

The largest sturgeon caught in the Columbia for some years was taken out at Astoria. It weighed 755 pounds, and the head alone scaled 151 pounds. The length from tip to tip was 11 feet and 8 inches. When cut and dressed, the huge mass tipped the beam at 427 pounds.

The man who says it never blows in Oregon is considerable of a blow-hard. A San Francisco paper is fleecing Oregon of thousands of dollars a month by running a regular lottery scheme and gift swindle. Of course, the number of people who want to be swindled is always large. THE ONE CENT DAILY keeps the money at home and is worth twice its price to any one who takes it.

Did any administration ever cause so much distress and destruction of property values as this one?

An Undisputed Test of Merit.

A medicine that has been a household remedy for over fifty years and used in that time by more than $150,000,000 persons must have great merit. Such a medicine is found in Bradbroth's Pills. This fact demonstrates the value of these pills better than any statement of the proprietors. It will be observed that the dose required to cure is small. One or two pills taken every night for ten or twenty days will cure dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism, liver complaint, biliousness, or any disease arising from an impure state of the blood.

Bradbroth's Pills are purely vegetable, absolutely harmless, and safe to take at any time.

Sold in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar coated.

THE VOLUNTEER ORGANIST.

[S. F. Post in New York Ledger] The great big church was crowded full of broadcloth and uv silk. An' mine rich as cream that grows on our of Brindley's milk; shined boots, billed shirts, stiff dickers an' stovepipe hats were there, An' doodas 'th' trouser oons so tight they couldn't kneed down in prayer.

The elder in his pulpit high said, as he flow'ry riz: "Our organist is key" to him, laid up 'th' room'n'.

An' as we lay no subst'oot, as Brother Moor ain't here, will some'n in the congregation be so kind's to volunteer?"

An' then a red-nos'd, drunken tramp of low toned, rowdy style Givewan interjectory bleop an' then staggered up the aisle

Then thro' the holy atmosphere there crep' a sense er sin, An' thro' the air of sanctity th' odor uv o' gin.

Then Deacon Purinton he yelled, bis teeth all set on edge: "This man purtains the house er God! Why this is sacrileg'!"

The tramp don't hear a word he said, but stouched 'th' stumps 'n' 'set. An' sprawled an' staggered up the steps an' gained the organ seat.

He then went pawin' thro' the keys, an' soon there rose a strain That seemed to just bulge out the heart an' 'lectricity the brain;

An' then he shopped down on the th'ng 'th' hands an' head an' knees, He slam-dashed his hull body down kerf'oo, upon the keys.

The organ roared, the music flood went sweepin' high an' dry, It swelled into the rafters and bulged out into the sky;

The ol' church shook and staggered, an' seemed to reel an' sway, An' the elder shouted, "Glor'y!" An' 'I yelled "Ho-ray!"

At 'then he tried a tender strain, that melted in our ears; That brought up blessed memories an' drench'd 'em down 'th' tears.

An' we dreamed uv o' time kitchens, 'th' Tabby on the mat, Uv home an' 'ev an' baby days an' mother an' all that!

An' then he struck a streak uv hope—a song from souls forgiven— Th' thurs' from prison bars uv sin an' storm'd the gates of heav'n;

The mornin' stars they sang together—no soul wuz left a one— We felt the universe wuz safe, and G'd wuz on His throne!

An' then a wail uv deep despair an' darkness oons again, An' long black craps hung on the doors uv all the homes uv men;

No love, no hope, no joy, no hope, no songs uv glad delight, An' then—the tramp, he staggered down an' reeled into the night!

But we knew he'd told 'is story, tho' he never spoke a word, An' 't wuz the saddest story that our ears had ever heard.

He had told 'is own lile's history, an' no eye wuz dry that day, When the elder rose an' simply said: "My brethren, let us pray."

HOW TO CARE FOR THE EYES.

The Cause of Nearsightedness and How to Avoid It.

Probably no part of the body is so little thought of as the eyes, and no part is so deserving of attention. What may be remedied by a little attention is very apt to be neglected until permanent injury is done. Children's eyes especially should be protected from strong sunlight. Continued looking at bright objects so fatigues the muscles of the eye that squinting has been known to result by reason of the weakening of the muscles. The same thing is encouraged by the habit with some people of bringing the finger or some other object gradually closer and closer to the eyes until the eyes will be seen to draw closer together. These things should be carefully avoided.

Nearsightedness is caused by prolonged reading in a sitting posture, the head gradually falling on the chest and the eyes thus getting too close to the book or paper brings on a short focus defect and makes necessary the use of glasses for seeing far objects.

The sleeping room of children should not have a light glaring into the eyes of a child. A screen is very easily made of tin, or a piece of cardboard securely fastened so that it will not get near the light will leave enough light to see with and enable the child to sleep without scowling or squinting or being restless from too much light.

When children have what is called a cold in the eyes, it is because they have caught cold in the body, and the remedy is to cure the cold, when the eyes will recover likewise.

In case of accidents the best things to use are cold water and very soft linen, bathing the eye very gently.

It is good to bathe the eyes with lukewarm water, but it is very bad to do so immediately before going out into a cold atmosphere, as the warm water makes the skin tender and produces a drawn appearance around the eyes.

Witch hazel is a very good thing to bathe the eyes with. It should be diluted with water for children's eyes.

Indications of trouble with the eyes, such as squinting or nearsightedness, should be at once heeded and the child taken to an oculist to be fitted with suitable glasses.

An eminent New York oculist says one of the greatest secrets of healthful eyes and good eyesight in children is keeping them clean.

How to Cure Colic in Horses.

A sure and speedy cure for colic in horses is made of 3 ounces spirits of turpentine and an ounce of laudanum. Put this mixture into a bottle containing half a pint of warm water and pour it down the animal's throat. This is said to be an excellent remedy also for human beings, the dose for an adult being one to two teaspoonsful, according to the exigencies of the case. For children or invalids the dose should be reduced. Take in warm water.

How Things Are Misnamed.

The mica in the doors of stoves and heaters is erroneously called iron glass; from the genuine iron glass is made a very superior jelly. German silver was not invented in Germany and does not contain a particle of silver. The battle of Hastings, England, was not fought within five miles of that place; the battle of North Point was fought six miles away and much nearer Baltimore, and the battle of Bennington, Vermont, was fought in New York state. Whalebone does not possess a single property of bone. Burgundy pitch is not pitch and does not come from Burgundy; it is principally rosin and palm oil. The tubercle is not a rose, but a species of oyanth. Black lead is not lead at all, but a compound of carbon and a small quantity of iron. Cleopatra's needle was not erected by her in honor of the Egyptian queen. Sealing wax does not contain a particle of wax, being composed of turpentine, shellac and cinnamon. Steel pens are not made of steel. Turkish baths do not originate in Turkey and properly are not baths. Brazilian grass is not grass and never grew in Brazil; it is only strips of palm leaf. Pompey's pillar has not the slightest historical connection with Pompey. The Mont Cenis tunnel is cut through Mont Susa.

It is the new shortening taking the place of lard or cooking butter, or both. Costs less, goes farther, and is easily digested by anyone. AT ALL GROCERS.
