How quick the Populist senators and members of congress catch on to the leaves and fishes. Every beggar of them at Washington city has put all his relatives on the pay-roll by placing them in some subordinate office. They are great reformers, in a horn.—Oswego Iron Worker. They probably are no worse than the rest of the politicians, though they pretend to be better and as pretenders it makes their conduct seem to be worse than it is.

FREE THANKSGIVING FREE

All the worthy people of Salem who cannot afford to buy a turkey, are invited to come and get a nice fowl, as I have an ample supply especially for the occasion.

The above is my annual proclamation, so do not be backward. To those who can afford to buy, I offer the finest dressed turkeys at the low price of 15c a pound. I claim to have the best dressed turkeys in the city. All other fowls as low as the lowest. Sell hens by the dozen, cheap. Call and be convinced. All fowls dressed under my personal supervision by skilled white labor, for which I pay fair wages. Fresh fish of all kinds received daily, also large, fine, fat Eastern oysters. Leave your orders. Free delivery.

Yours for fine turkeys, L. A. DAVISON.

WALKED OUT OF JAIL.

A Prisoner Walks Out Quietly Past the Guard.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 28.—John Dryden, alias Hawthorne, alias O'Neil, under five year's sentence for burglary, and one of the most dangerous criminals in the Northwest, escaped from the county jail. The street preachers held services at the jail in the afternoon. Dryden joined with them in singing and praying, and when they went away walked out with them, past the guard, who was a new man. He had secured a white shirt and collar and black tie and carried a hymnbook. One of the preachers asked him if he was a prisoner, and was told he had just received a pardon and was determined to lead a better life. Dryden was not upset until looking-up time, when a dummy was found in his cot by the night jailer. The sheriff's posse looked all night for him and today offered $100 reward. Dryden is said to have escaped from the Oregon penitentiary and it was learned a few days ago that he had escaped from Walla Walla with two years of an unexpired sentence not long before he committed burglaries here. About six weeks ago he was taken to Walla Walla to serve a five-year sentence, but was brought back to await action on appeal to the supreme court. On the way back he leaped from the train at Palmer and was knocked senseless. Before the train could be stopped he recovered sufficiently to crawl into a hollow log, where he was afterward found.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Local Correspondence from Towns in the Valley.

FROM AUMSVILLE.

The population of this place went to Salem Saturday to attend the Populist meeting.

The dedication of our new school came off on time and no one would have believed that those who took part had had only two days notice. It simply proves that we have some of the smartest people on earth in Aumsville.

For the last six months no set of men have been so badly abused as the members of our school board. Anything they said or did was criticised and condemned, and the smaller the man the more he was blamed. It actually was thought necessary to have a phrenologist examine their "bump" to find out if they were qualified to build the school house. The result astonished many, but they thought the phrenologist was a fraud, and their minds were unchaiced as to the school board. But in spite of all the building was completed and the school board are now the "lions of the day." At the dedication an unanimous vote of thanks was given them. It is intimated that for every hour the board devoted to the school business, that it took 24 hours to defend that one hour's work. But now all are unanimous, and those who opposed the most are the most prominent in calling it "our school house."

Messrs. Reader and Maffield have made great improvement in the looks of their addition to Aumsville, by building a board fence the whole length of the plat.

Dan. Smith has built a new sidewalk the length of his block.

Mrs. S. Smith is building a new fence around her block of land.

Messrs. Reader, Ball and Gibbs, are building sidewalks in front of their land.

A petition is being circulated, to raise money to build a sidewalk from the "church to the Southern Pacific."

Henry Porter has moved to town for the winter.

Mr. Weaver is making "sauer kraut." He says that he has joined the "hoodlums."

Dried fruits, fresh fruit, cranberries, raisins, currants, nuts, citron, and everything that goes to make a good Thanksgiving dinner at J. A. Van Eaton's.

A new invoice of fresh condensed mutton meat arrived this morning at Clark & Epley's, Court street.

WOOLEN MILL STORE

STATE NEWS NOTES.

The Burns Herald has completed its sixth year.

The Salem Woolen Mills have a depot for sale of their products in Harney county.

It has been some time since a bushel of wheat was worth as much as two dozen eggs in Oregon.

Medford Mail: Did anyone ever see finer weather than we are having now? No rain, very little frost, and any amount of sunshine.

Eugene Guard, Nov. 17: The thermometer stood at 25 degrees above zero this morning. This is unusually cold for this time of year. It is the opinion of farmers that grass will be damaged some.

The Newport assessment roll for 1893 foots up at $124,580. The property could not be bought for five times that sum.

Prof. Horner of the State Agricultural college, seems to have a syndicate very assiduously working the country press to promote him for some state office.

City election at Albany this year will not have much politics in it. The city is nearly $100,000 in debt, warrants are away below par, and the citizens say they want good, careful men in municipal offices next year, irrespective of politics.

The Corvallis street railway, rolling stock, etc., were sold by the sheriff, and bid in by the Security Saving & Trust Company of Portland for $350. This property originally cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, and has been in operation less than four years.

As the Oregon Pacific train came from the front Friday when near Fox Valley passengers were treated to a rare sight. A fine deer with a beautiful set of horns glancing in the November sun light ran by so near that Conductor Tway tried to kill it with a coupling pin. The deer ran only a short distance when a hunter shot it.

A TRAGEDY.

This wild Thanksgiving turkey swallowed Brownie with a gulp and down within him Brownie was ground into a pulp.

The reason for this tragedy was Brownie's previous size. He would not read our latest ads, nor take our bargains in.

The moral is clear. Read the following:
