Special Sale!

Well now it has come our time to get in on the "special" again, so here goes.

From now till January 1, we are going to slash prices on our boys' clothing. You can now make the boy happy with a new suit for Xmas, besides we do our part too, we give a fine two-bladed knife with each suit.

See the south window, it is jam full of boys' overcoats, with the prices ruined in every case. Boys be sure and have one of them.

The north window is full of the latest of the men's clothing and they have suffered in the same way, viz, prices ruined.

MARRIED.
REED—STEWART.—At the home of County Judge G. P. Terrell, corner Church and Ferry streets, Wednesday, Nov. 24, 1897, Mrs. L. V. Reed to Cyrus Stewart, both of South Salem, County Judge Terrell officiating.

The groom is the veteran cooper of South Salem and is favorably known throughout the Willamette valley. For some time previous to this happy event the bride had been keeping house for Mr. Stewart who was so thoroughly well pleased with the excellence of the work performed and the companionship of the woman, determined to make the contract permanent and having been assured by his prospective life partner that the proposed change in the agreement would be agreeable and satisfactory to her, Mr. Stewart proceeded in the matter as above indicated.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have the congratulations and best wishes of a host of friends for a bright, happy and prosperous future.

PENNOYER - COOPER.
Make Reply to the Populist Address.
UNION FORCES WILL WIN.
State Chairman Young Really in Favor of Union.

Portland Tribune, Dec. 13: "I don't care to discuss the matter," said Mr. Pennoyer, yesterday afternoon. "Why should I discuss it? no good will come of it. Mr. Young's statements are not important. You may say for me that John C. Young may pursue whatever course he sees fit. Now, that is all; I won't talk about it further."

Mr. Cooper, the union chairman, has charitably overlooked the criticisms of himself, in view of other statements which please him greatly. But he insists most strongly that he is not a self-appointed leader; he declares that the union party and its officers are as legitimate and as regular as any others.

"We have an organization in 20 counties of the state," said he, "and it is as well in hand as is the Populist organization. We have entered this campaign to accomplish something toward the free coinage of silver, and we are going to stay in it, no matter who objects. Men of prominence have entered the movement; they are men of just as high standing and of great ability as any in the Populist party."

"Why, does not Mr. Young know that many of the best-known populists of the state are also unionists? We have men from every part who believe in the free coinage of silver. Mr. Young's memory must be seriously at fault. He himself, was an ardent delegate at the state convention at McMinnville, July 9, of last year, when the union movement was born. He was a delegate to the St. Louis convention of July 22, of last year, where this union movement took national proportions. He was a staunch supporter then, but now has changed his tune."

"The union movement took effective shape at that McMinnville convention. The union-bimetallist party of Yamhill county, which elected representatives to the legislature in the 1896 June election, called a state convention immediately after the election. About 120 delegates, among whom were some of the best-known unionists in the state, met and held resolutions in favor of union of all forces that are in the fight against Wall street. Mr. Young subscribed to those resolutions; he was strong in support of them. So were many more populists who attended the convention."

"Furthermore, Mr. Young was one of the delegates to the national convention at St. Louis last year. Mr. Young went to St. Louis with these gentlemen, and he took most interest in the meeting, giving it his full endorsement."

"Now, as to the regularity of the commissions of the leaders. The McMinnville convention chose a state committee, and elected me chairman and ex-officio chairman of the executive committee. That is the position which I hold today. I am here in the pursuance of the plans of that convention to work in the direction of uniting all the free silver forces of the state."

"I am very well satisfied with the recommendation of the Populist chairman for a union at the primaries. Of course, it is put very mildly, but it is better than nothing, and means more. It says, we recommend that our precinct clubs and county conventions consider, without prejudice, all honest suggestions intended to unite the direct legislation and free-silver voters of the state in one party. We are very much pleased with that statement. It is just what we are endeavoring to accomplish. We would like to see one state convention, composed of Democrat, Populists and free-silver Republicans, all working together against the Republican party."

What Dr. A. E. Slater Says.
"I have been very much interested in the recommendation of the Populist chairman for a union at the primaries. Of course, it is put very mildly, but it is better than nothing, and means more. Caught in the Act!
and great excitement prevailed at the corner of Ferry and Commercial streets, Saturday afternoon when a suspicious, though a very gentlemanly looking fellow, who had been sauntering up and down Commercial street looking eagerly into all grocery stores as if his life depended upon what he sought, an officer suspiciously arrested him as he was about to enter the P. O. grocery store to buy a complete stock of groceries and crockery and it is feared by the other dealers in Salem that he will expose the fact that Harritt & Lawrence's store is the cheapest place on earth to buy strictly up-to-date groceries.
