Chamberlain Makes a Soothing Statement

GENERAL KITCHENER AFTER DEWET

Settlement Defined, But War Goes Merrily On

By Associated Press to the Journal. ANTWERP, Dec. 8.—A dispatch from The Hague says that Holland has no intention to intervene in favor of arbitration in the Transvaal troubles.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The following is from General Chamberlain: "I have news from Knox at Rouxville that Dewet's force having failed to force the commando bridge, we held, has trekked northwest, abandoning 300 horses and carts. His attempt on Cape Colony, therefore has failed. He is being pressed on all sides."

JOHANNESBURG, Dec. 8.—The Boers have captured 17,000 sheep from a detachment of British troops in the vicinity of Kruger'sdorf.

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: Mr. Chamberlain's statement as to the lines of settlement in South Africa which the government proposes to adopt has undoubtedly produced a very great impression and the feeling in the parliamentary lobbies last night was that it had gone far to shorten not only the winter session but the campaign against the Boers. The Colonial Secretary by the moderation of his tone and by the generosity of his terms has completely cut the ground from under the feet of the opposition and left them with no real excuse to resist the granting of supplies within the shortest possible time. Although the Colonial Secretary did not expressly state in his masterly speech last night in the House of Commons on the future of South Africa Sir Alfred Milner will be relieved of the duties of Governor of Cape Colony it is generally understood that Sir W. F. Hoyle Hodgkinson present Governor of Natal.

The Unionist newspapers are delighted by Mr. Chamberlain's statement. The Telegraph calls it the rational speech of a rational man. The fox chase near Allwal North exceeds in interest anything done in Parliament where the debate on the presents only a small fraction of the amount needed for the winding up of the war. General Chamberlain's dispatch posted in the War Office during the evening contained evidence that Dewet was hard pressed since all his prisoners except the officers taken at Dewet'sdorp had been released and a gun had been captured by Knox's force. He has repeated the tactics which were effective when he was pursued through Lindley and Rhepoester to the Vaal.

When his advance was cut off toward the Orange River, Dewet marched north-east for two days and then turned about and doubled about southeast upon his own tracks, crossing the Caledon and heading for Odendaal. The British mounted force remained in hot pursuit and when he came into touch with the garrison at Allwal North he again retired eastward.

It is not clear from the meagre dispatches whether the road through Rouxville to Wepener is still open to him. If it be closed he may be run down in the southeastern corner of the Orange River Colony.

General Chamberlain has evidently made the capture of Dewet the first object of his campaign and is not leaving a stone unturned. General MacDonald has been sent to Allwal, North and Knox's forces include several mobile mounted columns.

The explanation offered for the return of the Household Cavalry when mounted forces are needed for purely mobile operations is that it was too heavily equipped and armed for mobile operations. If this be true the British army will have to depend in time of war upon mounted bodies of yeomanry and colonial troops for a cavalry service.

The suggestion has already been made that a permanent body of cavalry reserves can be recruited in Canada and Australia. This force would act as a reserve for the Imperial Government during a time of peace and be liable for service in war time for the defense of the empire at the highest rates paid for local military services in Canada and Australia. Advocates of this plan assert that ten thousand cavalry reserves could be enrolled in Canada and the same number in Australia.

LONDON, Dec. 8.—The War office officials are greatly disturbed by the successful guerrilla tactics of General Dewet but they cherish the idea that he must cease to be dangerous owing to his inability to secure new horses. Efforts are being made to keep Dewet away from the Cape Colony frontier for the War Office believes he is getting the bulk of his supplies from Cape Colony and to prevent him from securing food, men and horses orders have been issued that the Boer farmers be only allowed to buy small quantities of provisions sufficient for their own immediate needs.

Some very frank opinions concerning Richard Harding Davis have been appearing in the English papers this week. They were called out by a letter in the London Times signed by a representative body of ladies in various nationalities resident at Pretoria, throughout the war in which they emphatically repudiate Mr. Davis' charges referring to imprisoned British officers' behavior towards women. The Daily News comments on the subject as follows:

"Several months have elapsed since Mr. Davis' amazingly untruthful allegations were published, but the requisite contradiction, though long delayed, has come to hand at last. Mr. Davis presumably wrote for the anti-English section of the Americans, though we should hardly have expected to find (the name of a prominent American magazine is here mentioned) used as a vehicle for this vulgar and cowardly abuse."

The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard in a dispatch giving the history of the Potti's dispute says:

Portugal's first request to Holland to withdraw Herr Potti's was made November 17. Holland offered on November 27 to give him a three months leave of absence and Portugal accepted this

COLUMBIAN REBELLION

American Warships Go to South America

STEAMER HATHOR WAS THREATENED

With Bombardment and Destruction While in Columbian Waters

By Associated Press to the Journal. CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—A special to the Record from Washington says: The immediate movement of the warships Philadelphia and Iowa from San Diego, Cal., to South American waters is an indirect result of the rebellion in Columbia. According to officials of the Navy, Admiral Kautz is going there with his ships to police the Isthmus of Panama and see that there is free communication across the strip of land connecting the two continents of the western hemisphere.

This is taking advantage of an old treaty which was entered into several years ago by the Columbian Government and that of the United States which latter government agreed that in time of international disturbances in the small South American Republics the United States would see that travel on the isthmus was not interrupted, landing troops for that purpose if necessary. Several times this country has landed men for this purpose and the present movement is along this same line and this time as in the past a landing party of marines may be put off from the warships if occasion demands.

SAN DIEGO CAL., Dec. 8.—The Kosmos steamer Hathor which has arrived here was threatened with bombardment in Columbia waters if the Captain persisted in making for Buena Ventura for which place the steamer freight.

The town is located some distance up the river, and while steaming along this waterway the officers and crew were surprised to have a cannon ball whizz across the bow. The vessel was stopped and the Revolutionists came aboard with the statement that a blockade had been declared off the port of Buena Ventura and that the Hathor would have to turn back.

When asked what would happen if they kept on up the river, the reply was that the vessel would certainly be shelled from shore. The Hathor put about and discharged her cargo at Carrieno.

A report was heard at Acapulca that 700 government troops had been killed at Panama by the revolutionists.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—It is announced at the Navy Department today that there is no emergency whatever requiring the hasty departure from San Francisco of the Iowa and Philadelphia. The vessels simply are going on the usual winter cruise to the southward.

A cablegram from Admiral Hemyer announces the temporary transfer of his headquarters from Cavite to Ilo Ilo.

MURDERS A CHILD

Trained Nurse Commits a Crime

TOSCANI'S DEATH BEING TRACED

Hackensack Coroner Exonerates Pietro Viecco From the Crime.

By Associated Press to the Journal. NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Alice O'Donnell, 25 years of age, a trained nurse, while visiting Mr. and Mrs. James Jones, of Brooklyn, last night killed their 15-month-old child, Arthur Jones, cutting its throat with a razor. She escaped immediately after committing the deed, but the police have been notified and a diligent search is being made to find Miss O'Donnell.

Miss O'Donnell, Mr. Jones says, evinced considerable interest in the bringing up of the child and has been in the habit of calling at the Jones' apartments at intervals. Last night the woman was left with the child for a while and after killing the little one made her escape.

Coroner Tracey of Hackensack, New Jersey, has concluded the inquest in the murder of Frank Toscani which occurred on Sunday night and the jury found that the deed was committed by some person to their unknown. Pietro Viecco who was well known to the death with stilettoes to Toscani's friends because they thought him to be the murderer is believed to be innocent.

It has been determined that two men who escaped are the probable murderers. Viecco says one of the two men killed Toscani. The seven witnesses were held by the grand jury. Viecco was supposed to be one of those men and it was not for 24 hours that the truth became known.

FEMALE ANARCHIST

Emma Goldman Returns From Europe

REPORTS HOW THEY PROGRESS

And How France and England Strongly Oppose Them

By Associated Press to the Journal. NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—The Times says: Emma Goldman who has been conferring with anarchist groups in England and France has returned to this country. She made a hurried tour of the various anarchist headquarters in this city last night.

She says that the anarchist from various countries had arranged to hold an international anarchist congress in Paris but just as it was about to convene the police officials swooped down, broke up the meeting and drove the leaders out of the city. It was an outrage she declared and showed that even the socialist government was under the domination of the rich.

In spite of the Parisian authorities however she said a secret congress was held and arrangements made for the propaganda.

Miss Goldman was angry also at the apathy of the people in England regarding the spread of propaganda. They acted she said as if a social revolution was never heard of.
