Crippled and Many Years an Invalid.
To whom these presents shall come, greeting.
About fourteen years since at nine years of age I met with an accident which caused an injury to my spine and pelvic bones which resulted in the formation of humped shoulders and hip, a shortening of the waist and displacement of internal organs, and shortening of about two inches of one limb between the knee and hip. In addition to the outward appearance of my body as above described in March 1900 I was taken with a severe attack of La Grippe from the effect of which I suffered greatly with my lungs and heart, and when in May 1901 I came to and began treatment with Dr. J. F. Cook my condition was about as follows:— Could perform no manual labor, could not sleep to pick anything from the floor. Could get about the house only with difficulty, and getting up stairs was next to impossible. Could use my limbs only with difficulty and one of them was much wasted. My nervous system was badly wrecked. Had cough and severe pain on lungs and heart, no appetite, could sleep only in broken spells, and in many ways suffered almost constant and indescribable agonies. In short I was as much dead as alive. Presently to my utter surprise I was treated over a period of years by many physicians to no effective purpose.
My personal appearance at this time was straight in the back as anyone. My wasted limb restored to normal size and but little more than half an inch shorter than the other. I was free use of my limbs and can go up stairs one stair at a time with perfect ease. My feet are lengthening. I can stoop to the floor with ease. Can get about and do pretty much any and everything else well people can do.
My appetite is splendid, sleep soundly and am absolutely free from pain.
Having lived in Dr. Cook's family for nearly a year I have seen much of the effect of his treatment upon others, and can truly and cheerfully recommend the doctor and his medical skill to all in any way afflicted.
The doctor's treatment in this case was wholly confined to his Botanical Remedies, constitutionally administered. No resort to the use of knife, mechanical appliances or other method of treatment being employed.
LILLIAN ROSENBAUM has lived in this vicinity about nine years.
We, the undersigned, are personally acquainted with the above affiant and cheerfully subscribe to the truth of the foregoing statement.

PASSED WITHOUT DISCUSSION

Bill to Repeal War Taxes

Democrats Saw Resistance was Fruitless.

Senate Approves the Danish Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The bill to repeal the war tax act passed the House unexpectedly this afternoon. A rule to prevent the discussion desired by the Democrats had been passed by a party vote, when Richardson the Democratic floor leader, announced that debate would be fruitless and as every one was for the bill he asked the unanimous consent that the bill be placed upon its passage at once. The suggestion caused a sensation on the Republican side but it was instantly accepted amid laughter and applause. The bill then passed on a ye and nay vote which was unanimous.

The measure cuts off in round figures $76,000,000 from the government's annual revenues. Every item on the war tax schedule is wiped off with the exception of mixed flour.

A bill was introduced in the House today providing for a reciprocity treaty with Cuba to be effected by the President as soon as the islanders establish their government.

Under the terms of the treaty the United States shall refund quarterly to the Cuban treasury forty per cent of the duties collected and the Cubans shall make tariff concessions in their turn. The treaty shall continue in force for ten years.

West Indies Treaty
The Senate this afternoon ratified the treaty for the purchase of the Danish West Indies unanimously.

The President today sent to the Senate the nomination of J. F. Newkirk, to be postmaster at San Diego, Calif.

In the Senate today Senator Cullom presented a petition from the American Chamber of Commerce in France advocating reciprocity between that country and the United States.

BOERS TRAPPED BRITISH

And Inflicted very Heavy Losses.

PRETORIA, Feb. 17.—One hundred and fifty mounted infantrymen, while patrolling the Klip River, south of Johannesburg, February 12 surrounded a farmhouse where they suspected Boers were in hiding. A single Boer broke away from the house and the British started to pursue him. The Boer climbed a scopolin, the British following. Immediately a heavy fire was opened upon them from three sides. The British found themselves in a trap, and in a position where they were unable to make any defense. Eight of the British officers made a gallant effort, and defended the ridge with carbines and revolvers until they were overpowered. The British had two officers and 10 men killed, and several officers and 40 men wounded before the force was able to fall back under cover of a blockhouse.

Driven Back With Loss.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Lord Kitchener, in addition to reporting the Klip River affair, says:

"A party from the South African constabulary line on the Waterval River encountered, February 10, a superior force of the enemy near Vantondorsbek and was driven back with loss."

According to a special dispatch from Pretoria the mounted infantrymen who were trapped at the Klip River were all fresh from home and unused to Boer tactics. The bulk of the casualties occurred during the retreat of the British. The killed included Major Dowell, the commander of the force.

DESPERATE NEGRO OUTLAWS

Escape from Jail. Kill One Man and Wound Two.

SUMMITTOWN, Va., Feb. 17.—Henry Wilson and Julius Goodwin, notorious negro outlaws, escaped from jail here yesterday, afterward killing Lee Graham, one of the most prominent young men in town, and wounding George Stafford and Willie Porter, who had tried to corral them.

The outlaws made a savage attack on Deputy Sheriff Charles Lane today as he was leading them into their cells. The officer was seriously wounded and the men ran through the jailer's residence. There they were attacked by Mrs. Lane, armed with a Winchester rifle.

The negroes wrested the weapon from her, and when the woman's screams attracted a crowd, barricaded themselves behind their victim. George Stafford was dangerously wounded in the head with a club, and will probably die. Her was badly wounded in the fight. As the news spread, scores of persons rushed to the scene.

The negroes had made their way upstairs and barricaded themselves from the through below. Lee Graham, with a gun in his hand attempted to reach the second floor, and was shot dead in his steps. In the excitement following, the men escaped through the rear, and although several shots were fired at them in the pursuit, they managed to get away. Both are believed to be seriously wounded.

BATANGAS NEARLY SUBDUED

Latest News of the Philippines.

MANILA, Feb. 17.—General B. Franklin Bell has practically cleared the insurrection in Batangas Province, the troops under his command having made a clean sweep of the district. It is not believed that all insurgent arms have been captured or surrendered, but that a number of them have been taken by the insurgents to other provinces or safely hidden.

The increase of robber bands in the Provinces of Taybag and Cavite show the effects of the drastic measures adopted in Batangas and Laguna provinces. General Bell says the people of these latter provinces never realized the terrors of war until they personally experienced its hardships, owing to the closing of the ports and the concentration of the natives in the towns.

General Bell believes that the insurgent leader, Malvar, is becoming exceedingly unpopular with the Filipinos, and that when the natives cease to fear his vengeance, many will be found willing to betray him. What has been said of Batangas Province applies almost equally to Laguna.

She became terrified and attempted to run, when the footpad pressed a revolver against her jacket and fired. The bullet entered the left side between the seventh and eighth ribs, inflicting a wound which may prove fatal.

Cole, assistant superintendent at the East Helena smelter, has died in an undertaker's establishment, and Olivia Mayne Cole, his wife, is at her home mortally wounded as the result of shots fired by the husband. There were no witnesses to the tragedy, and the wife is so badly injured that she is not able to make a statement. The only story of the affair is given by the mother of Mrs. Cole.

Mr. Cole came in from East Helena about 7 o'clock, shortly after his arrival Mrs. Mayne went out and returned in a little while. As she went up the steps she heard a shot, quickly followed by another. She was accompanied by her husband, and on entering she saw Cole falling to the floor, while his wife was lying on the lounge with the blood streaming from two wounds, one in the head back of the ear and the other in the left breast.
