

Dainty Styles In Ladies' Watches

The Barr store shows a great many charming and dainty styles in Ladies' watches, and every single one of them is just as good inside as its beauty of exterior would naturally indicate. Nor are they costly, either; judged by general market standards. At as little as $16.50, we show some really charming ladies' watches—20 year gold filled cases—Waltham or Elgin works—handsome engraving and finish, and will give a lifetime of satisfactory service. At $18 we have some splendid styles in 14k gold filled cases, warranted for 25 years—remarkably good watches for so modest a sum, and hosts of other grades await your attention here, if by any chance a ladies' watch is something you must soon purchase.

TOO MUCH TEACHING FOR CREEDS

And Showing the Way to the Other World and Not Enough About Our Duty to Our Fellowman

There were very interesting Thanksgiving programs at the Salem Indian school and at the Leslie M. E. church, at both of which singing and speaking were in order. E. C. Lennon gave an able address on the history of Thanksgiving. Col. E. Hofer talked on the duty of educating boys to respect the rights and property of others. He told of a justice of the peace in Columbia county, who sentenced his own son to 30 days in the county jail for acts of hoodlumism, committed in company of other boys. He said the mayor of Seattle had said let the law take its course, when his two sons were arraigned in the police court for violating the law.

There should be more teaching the boys their duty to their fellowman. Instead of so much pointing their way to heaven in the next world, and leaving them ignorant of how to live properly in this world. There is too much education for the sake of creeds and not enough about our duty to our fellowman," said the speaker, turning to the minister and the school teacher who sat on the platform with him, and they admitted the corn.

Speaking of taking up a Thanksgiving collection for the poor, Col. Hofer said the custom should be abolished. We should labor for such religious and social conditions that there would be no poor. Every citizen was entitled to labor for a living, and to have water and light and the necessities of civilization at cost.

and Mrs. Frank Brown, returning home today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Armstrong and children, who have been visiting the past two days with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schmidt, of Albany, returned home today.

Miss South, of Portland, who has been visiting relatives and friends in South Salem the past week, returned home today.

Miss E. W. Beeman, of Vancouver, Wash., has been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. R. D. Tibbets.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson spent Thanksgiving with Mr. Anderson's parents in Polk county.

Silver Wedding.

A delightful surprise party was enjoyed Tuesday evening, November 24th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Cornelius, 548 State street, it being the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary. Guests present were: Dr. Parsons, Mrs. Parsons, Dean Hawley, Mrs. Hawley, Dr. Watters, Mrs. Watters, Rev. D. H. Leech.

State Treasurer Moore and son went to Portland to see the football game, and Chas Moore, Jr., came home from school with them for a few days.

J. M. Brown, of Silverton, who owns considerable real estate at Salem, went home yesterday. He is a progressive pioneer, and favors the Greater Salem charter. He says when he left Salem in 1849 he went out on a mule team, and the only resident here now who was here then is Uncle John Minto, and he lived in the country away.

Rev. and Mrs. John Parsons left this morning for Skagway, Alaska, where they will reside hereafter. A large crowd was in attendance at the depot to bid good-bye to the departing travelers, and, after Dr. Parsons and family had boarded the train, several farewell songs were rendered by the members of the local Methodist congregation.

HOP MEN GIVE A BANQUET

All Returned Safely to the City and Were Welcomed
By Their Friends

A number of the local hop buyers went to Portland yesterday morning to attend the annual Thanksgiving banquet held there last evening.

The dealers in hops in this state have observed this custom for a number of years, and yesterday's banquet was the most elaborate ever enjoyed by them. Kola Neils, of this city, was toastmaster, and he saw to it that there was not a dull moment during the entire afternoon. Among

A Chinaman Was Paralyzed.

Ung Chung, a Chinaman, while at work in a hop yard near this city last evening, suffered a stroke of paralysis. He was at once brought to this city by Sam Kee, a countryman of the patient and placed in the Florence Sanatorium, where he died at 8:40 o'clock last evening. The remains will be given burial in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS RALLY TONIGHT

Meet to Perfect, Organize, Hear
Speeches and Ratify
Nominations

The Young Men's Republican Club meets tonight at the city hall to adopt their new constitution and ratify the nominations made at the Direct Primary Wednesday.

They will also elect officers for the ensuing year and hear speeches from the Republican candidates for city offices, who are expected to be present.

Stirring addresses will be made for good government, and for the progress and development of the beautiful Capital City. All Republicans and citizens generally, and especially of the new wards of Greater Salem, are cordially invited to attend the meeting tonight.

PLANS FOR OREGON AT WORLDS FAIR

Beautiful Headquarters Building Will Be Erected At the St. Louis Exposition

J. H. Albert, one of the Oregon fair commissioners, has received, and has on display at his bank, the detailed plans for the Oregon headquarters building at the St. Louis fair.

It will be a log cabin and stockade structure, very original and attractive, built of Oregon logs and lumber, with shake roof, and genuine moss on it.

This will be the official headquarters of the Portland exposition people—the officials will stop there, and entertain visitors and distribute literature and give salmon banquets.

It will cost about $10,000, and will be for the use of visitors and officers and employees of the Lewis and Clark exposition. It will be the center of advertising influences to promote the great Oregon exposition of 1905.

Fine Dancing Party.
One of the most delightful dancing parties of the season was that given by the Modern Woodmen of America and the Royal Neighbors, in the Holman hall, last evening. There was a good-sized crowd, a select company, and, with a good floor, excellent music and congenial company, the evening sped all too soon, and all enjoyed the evening's entertainment to the full. The affair was a social and financial success, and the committee on arrangements heard many expressions of appreciation on the excellence of the evening's pleasures.

For Public Sessions.

The Salem Woman's Club, at its regular session tomorrow is to consider the question of throwing its sessions open to the representatives of the press. For two years reporters have been excluded from its deliberations, and nothing was given out to the press that was not censored by the executive committee. It will take an amendment to the constitution to effect the desired change, and it is advocated by the president of the club, Mrs. T. T. Geer, who is also president of the state federation of woman's clubs. There will be some opposition to the reform, as many of the ladies shrink from the publicity of having their addresses and reports reproduced in the newspapers.
