

DAILY CAPITAL JOURNAL

BY HOFER BROS.

YOUNG MEN, STUDY LAW.

Take the condition of Colorado; rioting, strikes, dynamiting, violence, wholesale arrests, deportation of citizens.

The insecurity of property and life, the paralysis of industries, and even the hopes of the future must be safeguarded by laws and courts.

The increasing undertakings of legislators to supplant legal regulations for manly conduct and honest citizenship will only lead to confusion and complications.

There was never a time when the rights of the citizen and the protection of property so largely depended on the courts, and on the advice and counsel of well-equipped lawyers as at present.

Thorough preparation in the science of law will not only make our young men better citizens but will make them pillars of strength for the hour of trial when the life, liberty and happiness of the community shall be at stake.

Young men, take up the study of the law.

HUXLEY'S DISCOVERY.

Mr. Huxley long ago discovered the blunder that had been made in applying the theory of Natural Selection to Social Evolution.

Mr. Huxley made this discovery just many one of us might, by a simple commonsense observation of human nature as it works practically. He did not, however, sympathetically observe all the phenomena involved, and he excluded some of them for this reason. So that his theory of Social Evolution never could claim magisterial authority simply because it is incomplete. It is no doubt a profound discovery that the altruistic principle conserves and builds up human society, while antagonism disintegrates it; that love conquers, overrules, and fruitifies the lower competitive force; as animal life conquers, overrules, and fruitifies chemical affinity or gravitation in organic development. But it was not original with Mr. Huxley; thousands of people had seen and applied it before he was born. Jesus was the real discoverer; he first mastered the social or ethical principle. He found it to be universal good neighborhood or brotherhood, traced it to its source in God's fatherhood, flooded it with Divine affection, put it into his own self-sacrificing life, and showed us, how we might practically attain to it through his help. Since then the idea has been symbolized by the Cross of Christ, and has for eighteen centuries been regarded as the Christian solution, though Christendom has too often been antagonistic to it.—Rev. John H. Denison, in the June Atlantic.

JANE ADDAMS AND THE PEACE CAUSE.

Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, the head of Hull House, whose addresses and writings are of such deep interest to our workers for social betterment is profoundly interested in the peace movement. No cause elicits her more earnest activity at this time. She is preparing for publication a book presenting certain new aspects of the peace question, which will appear within the next few months. She is to attend the International Peace Congress in Boston the first week in October, planning to spend the entire week there, and will speak at one of the great meetings of women. She is also cooperating with the Chicago members of the executive committee of the congress, in arranging for an important series of peace meetings in Chicago immediately following the congress in Boston. There is no Western city where the work of organizing the friends of peace is being taken up more energetically at the present time than in Chicago.

A Chicago Peace Society has been formed, auxiliary to the American Peace Society, and its membership is rapidly increasing. An International Arbitration committee has also been formed, corresponding to the new Massachusetts committee of which Hon. Richard Olney is chairman, and this committee already includes a large number of the strongest business men of Chicago. The women of Chicago, always at the front in progressive movements, are not behind in this cause. Several conferences in its behalf have been held this winter in the rooms of the Chicago Women's club. Among all these earnest workers there is none more devoted or more influential than Jane Addams. No woman in America will have a warmer welcome at the Peace Congress in Boston next October.

ALTERNATIVE REMEDIES.

(Editorial in Daily Oregonian.) The movement in Oregon public opinion which through the operation of the initiative and referendum has given us the direct primary and apparently local option set in at the close of the abortive legislative session of 1897. Partly through the adventitious importance which then accrued to certain populist leaders, partly from the omnipresent longing of the powerless for power, and partly because of a general protest against the machine domination in politics, the interest of the people has been aroused in a series of undertakings whose theory runs toward democracy and away from representative government, and whose practice is an indefinite future of uncertainties and perils.

It is our present purpose to discuss but one of these causes—the protest against machine methods in politics. It is perfectly certain that but for the foundation laid for them in abuses of party management the promoters of these innovations would have labored in vain. Following upon the session of 1897 came the Corbett campaign and the election of Senator Simon. Neither then nor at any subsequent session of the legislature was the course of the Simon machine or the succeeding Mitchell machine calculated to mollify the protest against ring rule or give pause to the so-called reform sentiment. The course of political management fostered revolution precisely as the trusts promote socialism.

Apparently the state is irrevocably committed to the revolutionary enterprise in which it is embarked; and if so, it is futile to deprecate the steps taken or to speculate upon the unfamiliar and perilous places by which our course may lie. But it may be pointed out that there have been all the time and still are two alternative courses, which do not involve innovation. One of these alternatives would be wiser leadership in the party organization. A party is judged by its record and a political machine can just as well be popular as unpopular. If it studies to give the people what they want instead of trying to force its ideas and its pets upon them. The numbers who resent machine rule are insignificant compared with those who resent machine rule for certain specific acts of folly or wrong.

Another acceptable alternative would have been the assertion of a superior right to rule by leading Republicans of brains and character. Our prominent business and professional men have thought that control of the party in behalf of the community's solid interests could only be had at too high a price. That price of course, was the necessary amount of time, trouble and expense. So they have preferred to leave the task to those who have exploited the party for personal and factional ends. Now they see that control of affairs is drifting not only out of their hands, but of the hands that have acted as their substitutes. Now they see that representative government, with all it implies of wise counsel and firm resolution in the efficient forces of the community, is giving place to something approximating the Athenian democracy, and at a time when innovation is in the air and fanaticism is rampant. It is a situation upon which the thoughtful may look with hope but cannot look but with misgivings. "Approach the maladies of the state," said Burke in one of his inspired moments, "as you would the wounds of a father—with infinite solicitude and care."

X-RADIUMS

A Pendleton man swears that he was married 10 times. He surely cannot be accused of having a faint heart.

Providence even interferes with the street sprinkler's business, and just now some would like to see it interfere a little more.

Salem ought to celebrate the Fourth of July or do something to show its patriotic fervor and red American blood over something besides politics.

Lost Head of Steam.

Washington, June 9.—Admiral Sigsbee cables from Monte Cristo that the custom house will begin business tomorrow. All parts of Santo Domingo are now open to commerce, and the revolution is ended.

Salem Social Events

A Brilliant Wedding Event.

One of the most beautiful social events of the season was the wedding which occurred at Fairmount Park, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fawk, on Wednesday evening, when their eldest daughter, Loretta Carlis, became the wife of Mr. James Walton, Jr., of Portland. Rev. Wm. H. Heppie, of the First M. E. church, officiating.

The spacious rooms were a mass of floral beauty. The reception hall was in red, and was elaborately decorated in Glori De Margotten roses, and maiden hair fern, which banked the stairway and formed the graceful portiers in the doorway. Wedding bells of red roses were suspended from the ceiling by ropes of smilax, while occasional red candles arranged in an irregular line up the stairway, cast a mellow light over the scene.

The guests were received at the door by Miss Dot Berry and Lella Cavanaugh and Mrs. William Paul Babcock. The parlors were in white, roses and potted plants being the ornamentations. The ceremony took place beneath an arch of white roses and lovers' knots of illusion.

Promptly at 8:30 E. Kinney Miller sang "Thou Art Like Unto a Lovely Flower," which was immediately followed by Lohengrin's wedding march, played by the Misses Florence Phelps Tillson and Elizabeth Tillson. The bridal party marched down the stairway and were met at the altar by Dr. Heppie, who performed the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony, in the presence of over 100 guests.

The beautiful bride wore a handsome costume of crepe de chine over peau de cygne. The veil was caught with pearls, and she carried an arm bouquet of carnations. The bride's sister, Miss Moree, acted as bridesmaid, and she wore an elaborate gown of silk tulle de aprit over satin duchesse, hand embroidered in marguerites, and she carried marguerites. The groom wore the conventional black. Will Walton, the groom's brother, acted as best man.

Following the congratulations, a dainty wedding luncheon was served the guests in the dining room, which was artistically decorated in a profusion of pink and green. The table was elegant in carnations and monarch ferns. Festoons of roses, held by satin ribbons, adorned the sides of the table, while cut glass and silver shone in gorgeous splendor. The guests were waited upon by Miss Blanche LaVerne Fawk and Miss Cora Talkington, who were attired in pale green evening dresses of chiffon. They were assisted by Miss Lena Cavanaugh and Miss Gertrude Fawk, who wore pink chiffon gowns. Miss Lella Cavanaugh caught the bride's bouquet. The wedding cake contained several prizes. Miss Cecelia Haines received the ring, Miss Talkington the dime and the thimble was captured by Miss Lella Cavanaugh.

A great many handsome toilets were worn by those in attendance. The bride's mother was attired in black peau de sol trimmed in Irish lace. Miss Eileen, the bride's youngest sister, wore a lovely costume of green liberty satin and chiffon. The groom's mother wore black silk with trimmings of black lace. Mrs. Babcock was attired in a charming creation of white chiffon over white satin. Miss Cavanaugh wore grey voile with trimmings of real lace. Miss Berry wore a gown of crepe de paris with passermentary trimmings.

The bride is one of Salem's most popular society ladies, and will be greatly missed by a wide circle of friends. The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Walton, of this city, and is a very estimable young man. He holds a responsible position with the Security Loan & Trust Company, of Portland.

Many beautiful and costly wedding gifts were received.

The happy couple have the best wishes of a large circle of friends, who wish them much happiness. They leave today for Portland, and will be at home to their friends at No. 8, East 14th street, Portland, Oregon.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Ball, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Purvine, of Portland; Claude Knight, of The Dalles; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cavanaugh, of Hillside Farm; Vivian and Helen Cardwell, of Roseburg and Hon. F. H. Fawk, of Polk county.

Sacred Heart Entertainment.

"Constance, or the Hand of Fate," a pretty little drama of two acts was well presented at the Grand Opera House last night by the pupils of the Sacred Heart Academy. The story was dramatised by the graduating class of 1904, Miss Rubie Goulet and Matilda Eckerlen, and involved a great deal of work, the result of which the young ladies may feel justly proud of.

The first number was "Thrice Happy School Girl Days," well rendered by a chorus of about 40 girls, followed by a drill, "The Revel of the Nails," by a group of girls, whose graceful movements showed careful training. Misses Phelps and Hawley gave a piano duet, "The Last Hope," and received much applause. Then followed the drama, in which all the young ladies did remarkably well. Their gowns also showed much care in selection, and especially in Scene II of Act II, where Misses Matilda Eckerlen, Frances and Irene Howard and Rubie Goulet took part, did they look pretty.

Misses Leonella Hawley, Olive McGee and Miss Ruby Goulet carried the heaviest parts. These young ladies have taken part in several of the plays given by the academy, and last night won fresh laurels by their excellent work. Miss Margaret Toughill, a young lady of Seattle, who attends the school, carried her role befitting anyone accustomed to the stage. Miss Matilda Eckerlen very charmingly and unaffectedly sustained her part, as did also Miss Goulet. Miss Evelyn Woods and several others carried minor parts with great credit.

Another very pretty feature of the entertainment was the music furnished by the Cecilian stringed orchestra, accompanied by Miss Daugherty, of Portland, and Miss Joy Turner, of this city, as violinists. Miss Daugherty also gave a violin solo, and received much applause.

The entertainment, on the whole, was excellent, and the Sisters are to be congratulated upon the results of their work. The play is to be given in Jefferson Friday night, and certainly deserves a good house.

Manning-Buirgey Nuptials.

A beautiful June wedding was solemnized yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Manning, when their daughter, Miss Mabel Martin Manning, became the wife of J. Wallace Buirgey, of Portland, Rev. Cliffe, of the First Baptist church, performing the ceremony, in the presence of about 30 guests.

The Manning mansion was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The reception hall was in yellow, masses of Oregon grape, California poppies and baskets of yellow roses were arranged in every space. Miss Mollie Patty and Mrs. Cosper received the guests. The front parlor was in pink, La France and Eglantine roses being the main decorations. The back parlor was all in Marguerites and ferns, and was a veritable bower of flowers. All the decorations were exceedingly beautiful, and were arranged by Mrs. Cosper.

At high noon, Miss Mollie Patty, a lifelong friend of the bride, played the wedding march, and the bridal party entered and took their places beneath a floral arch, standing directly under a bow knot of white roses, where the ceremony was performed.

After the congratulations, the guests repaired to the dining room, where an elegant luncheon was served. The dining room was in red, Jacquinet roses being the chief ornamentations. The table was very pretty being decorated in small red hearts and streamers of red crepe. The center piece was of red roses. Mrs. Cosper, Misses Dean Witzel and Mollie Patty assisted in serving.

The bride wore an elegant costume of white figured lansdowne silk with ribbon and pearl trimmings. She carried an arm bouquet of white carnations, and her only jewel was a brooch worn by her grandmother at her wedding, more than 50 years ago. The groom wore the conventional black.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Manning, of this city, and is a handsome and accomplished young lady, who has a wide circle of friends who will greatly miss her.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Buirgey, of Portland, and is a very estimable young man. He is associated with his father in building and contracting in that city.

Many elegant and costly presents, including silver and cut glass, were received.

The happy couple left on the afternoon train yesterday for Portland, where they will reside in their new home, a gift of the groom's father. No cards.

The out of town guests were as follows: Miss Mollie Patty, McMinnville; Mr. and Mrs. A. Buirgey, Miss Pearl Buirgey, Mr. Guy Buirgey, Miss Lou Patterson, Miss Nellie Gardner, all of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. G. Dental, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Giesy, Miss Lizzie Dental, of Aurora, and Mrs. Tipple, grandmother of the bride, from Iowa, who made the bride's beautiful trousseau.

Birthday Anniversary.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Simpson, eight miles south of town, on the Dr. Cusick farm, was the scene of a very happy gathering Saturday, June 4th, it being the 44th anniversary of Mrs. Simpson's birthday.

Quite a number of relatives and friends came in a body with well filled

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, by sending free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

lunch baskets to spend the day and have a good time generally.

When dinner time came the table was spread out in the yard under the trees in a lovely shade, and the grand things were heaped upon it until it fairly groaned under the weight. The side table, with its pitchers of lemonade and other refreshments, must not be overlooked.

The afternoon was spent in a general social time, and a number of choice musical selections were heard.

The guests departed wishing Mrs. Simpson many happy returns of the day. Those present were: Henry and Mrs. J. B. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. D. Morris, Mrs. C. Rogers, Mrs. H. Russell, Mrs. C. Hicks, Mrs. Wm. Simpson, Mrs. Chas. Hines, Mrs. Rose Simpson, Miss Elta Simpson, Miss Grace Morris, Miss Pearl Hicks, Miss Sibyl Simpson, Miss Maud Simpson, Miss Mamie Simpson, Mrs. Noel and Rene Simpson, Clyde and Fred Kaiser and Kenneth Russell.

A St. Louis police justice has decided that 11 o'clock is late enough for any young man to stay with his sweetheart. This is government by injunction with a vengeance. If a judge who is long past his courting days is to set bounds upon the ardent heart of youth, where is judicial invasion to stop? Are not even our amatory affairs safe? The popular impression has been that such matters should be regulated by the young lady, or possibly by the young lady's father. If even parking is to be governed by the judiciary, then it is indeed time to call a halt.

The Beautiful Queen Esther will arrive in Salem Sunday, to be present at the balance of the rehearsal.

Wild Rose Flour $1.00 per Sack

Cash price. Barrel lots at cut prices

Half Ground Salt

50 lb. sack - 30c

100 lb. sack - 50c

Special prices on large lots. Lump salt a specialty.

D. A. White & Son 301 Commercial St. Phone 1781

Burlington Route

Free Information About the World's Fair

If you have any idea of visiting the World's Fair this year, ask me today for a copy of our World's Fair Folder.

It tells just what you want to know about railroad tickets, baggage arrangements, sleeping car berths, how to reach the Exposition grounds, what to do when you get there, how to see the Fair to the best advantage, how to get a boarding place, and answers nearly every question of this character that may be asked.

Contains maps of the Fair grounds, of the City and of the Burlington Route.

Free for the asking—A postal card will do.

A. C. SHELTON,

GENERAL AGENT BURLINGTON ROUTE,

100 THIRD STREET, PORTLAND, ORE.

ROSTEIN & GREENBAUM

Dry Goods, Millinery, Midsummer Bargains

Ginghams, per yard only 5c

Sleeveless vests, at each 5c and 10c

Calicoes, per yard only 5c

Laces and insertions value up to 15c, yd only 5c

Embroideries, per yard only 5c

Bed Spreads reg. $1, large sizes, each only 75c

Towels, extra good values at each 5c and 10c

Shirt Waists from 25c each

Millinery at reduced prices. Our prices were low enough before. Now, we give still greater bargains.

Rostein & Greenbaum

302 Commercial Street.

Do What We Claim

We guarantee sufficient proof that Dr. J. F. Cook the Botanical Doctor cures all kinds of diseases after all other schools and doctors have failed, such as cancer, tumors, (external and internal) Gravel kidney, bone diseases, Consumption, gall stones, rheumatism, dropsy, and diabetes, appendicitis have never yet failed, and female diseases, all the foregoing without the knife, or plaster or poisons, and with no pain to the patient whatever. Testimonials of prominent people. Consultation free.

Dr. J. F. Cook

301 Liberty St., Salem, Oregon. Formerly of Omaha, Neb.

Fresh Fruits Served at Our Fountain. Crushed Strawberry Now the Rage

The Spa

Low Coughs At first a high cough, all in your throat. You neglected it. Now it is down deep in your chest. That means a low cough, a lung cough. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral heals the torn membranes.