Kantner-Thomas Wedding.

A charming home wedding took place Wednesday evening, December 14, 1904, when Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Kantner gave in marriage their eldest daughter, Blanche, to Owen Arthur Thomas, of Grants Pass, Oregon. Just preceding the ceremony, which took place at 8 o'clock, Clifford White Kantner, brother of the bride, sang in beautiful voice "O, Promise Me," followed by the wedding march from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream," played by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Kantner. The bridal party slowly entered, and took their places in the parlor, the bride and groom standing under a large cluster of mistletoe. The bride was accompanied by her sister, La Verne, as maid of honor, and Miss Grace Babeock as bridesmaid. Mr. Arthur Holden, of Oregon City, accompanied the groom. The ring service was used, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Kantner, father of the bride, in a most impressive manner. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk, en train, and carried Bride's roses. Miss La Verne Kantner wore pink silk organdy, and Miss Babeock white silk organdy. They carried white chrysanthemums. The house was richly decorated in Oregon grape, ferns and white chrysanthemums. During the evening a delightful wedding dinner was served from small tables, the bridal party being served in the dining room. One pleasant feature of the evening was the presence of Miss Ella Hendrick, of McMinnville, who was bridesmaid for Mrs. W. C. Kantner, 27 years ago. The bride is well known in Salem, where she has spent the greater part of her life, and her friends are numbered by the score, all of whom love her for her many splendid qualities. Mr. Thomas grew to manhood at Oregon City, but for the past two years has resided at Grants Pass, where he is known as a successful and honorable young business man. The friendship of this young couple, which has culminated so happily, began with their first meeting at a State Christian Endeavor convention at Ashland in 1902. About 75 relatives and friends from all parts of the state witnessed the ceremony. The wedding presents were elaborate and costly, and attest the esteem in which both are held. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left on the late train for their future home at Grants Pass, followed by the best wishes of their many friends.

Johnson-VanWagner Wedding.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents on the corner of 21st and Ferry streets, yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when Miss Grace M. Van Wagner became the bride of Mr. Clyde E. Johnson. The ceremony was performed by Rev. David Errett, pastor of the First Christian church, of this city, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. The VanWagner home was appropriately decorated with a profusion of ivy and plants. The bride wore a handsome traveling suit of brown. They left immediately after the ceremony for Portland, where they will spend their honeymoon, and on their return will make their home in this city. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. VanWagner, and is a very beautiful young lady, who has won many friends by her sweet disposition. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Johnson, of this city, and is very popular among his large circle of friends. He is the junior partner of the firm of G. W. Johnson & Co., and is a very successful salesman. The young couple have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and successful life.

Pretty Home Wedding.

A pretty but quiet home wedding took place Wednesday, December 14, 1904, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Ina Barnett and Walter S. Pemberton, both of Rosedale, were united in marriage by Rev. Chas. Baldwin, pastor of the Friends' church, of Rosedale. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Barnett. Only the relatives of the contracting parties were present. The bride was gowned in a pretty brown traveling suit. The young couple began housekeeping on the groom's farm near Rosedale.

CONTRACTOR JOSEPH RECEIVES ELECTRIC SHOCK

Frank Burghardt Almost Killed by Live Wire During Wind Storm

Emil Joseph, a contractor and builder, who is erecting a house for Mrs. Hayden, this forenoon came in contact with a live electric trolley wire on Commercial street at the crossing in the center of the block north of the Willamette hotel, and received a shock from which he was knocked down. The wire hit him on the cheek, broke shortly before he started to cross the street, and, as he was in a hurry, he did not notice that the wire was suspended a few feet from the ground, directly across the walk.

After receiving the shock he quickly recovered, and did not feel its effects. The line was soon repaired, and travel was interrupted only for a few minutes. The high winds on Wednesday afternoon and evening caused the wires to become loose.

Frank Burghardt Injured.

Young Frank Burghardt, who carries papers, while escorting a young lady home last night, had an experience which nearly resulted in his death. The couple were going up Marion street, between Winter and Summer streets, when Burghardt observed one of the electric light wires had been broken by the wind storm, and fallen across the sidewalk. Being of an accommodating nature, he thought that it would be best to knock the wire off of the walk for fear some one else coming along that way might meet with an accident. His companion, when he mentioned the scheme, advised him not to try it, but "youth knows no fear," and he reached down, barely touched the wire, and was rendered unconscious.

When Burghardt fell, the young lady screamed, which brought several people to the spot, who carried him to the home of Charles Livesley, where medical aid was procured. Burghardt is said to be greatly improved today, and entirely out of danger.

Journal at Out Rate.

The Journal publishers propose to give their subscribers the benefit of a great cut in subscription price for the coming year. Instead of making a special sale day on which to receive yearly subscriptions at $3.00, we now offer to receive subscription for 1905, if paid at any time during the remainder of the old year at the $3.00 rate. All subscriptions must be paid up for all of the current year, and for the full year of 1905, in order to get the benefit of this rate. Call at any time, and get your special rate, but remember that this does not count after the first of January.

GOOD ROADS CONVENTION

what it costs to maintain roads after they are built.

There were more songs by the quartet and more speeches, and at a late hour the smoker was called off. The cigars and refreshments were excellent.

Other speakers called out were Representative Kinney, of Wasco, who made one of the wittiest speeches of the evening. John H. Albert said he had been contributing to the building of roads in Oregon for 40 years. There was only one good piece of road about this city, and that was the road to Liberty. Mr. Albert had taken about 30 of the delegates out in the rain to see the Liberty road Wednesday. C. B. Moores and L. M. Gilbert, of Rosedale, made helpful talks, and Judge Scott concluded the addresses of the evening with a review of his experience with road machinery. This talk was of a practical nature to the county officials present. The McElroy orchestra had, with great public-spirit, furnished splendid music for the evening, and closed with some good selections. Landlord Conner covered himself with glory
