AMUSEMENTS.

TONIGHT.
 Edison—Vaudeville.
EDISON'S PLEASING BILL.

Vaudeville of a High Class on the Program.

Seldom one gets an opportunity to see a dramatic sketch on the vaudeville stage, but this part of the week at the Edison can boast of that distinction, for Maldon, Kelly & Co. present an act that is very dramatic and artistic. Miss Kelly is a beautiful young woman, and a charming actress, while Mr. Hooley enacts the dual role of husband and lover in a very artistic manner. Myrtle Franks makes a hit with her singing dog. The Devere Bros. cause many a hearty laugh with their amusing repartee. F. Julian Byrd sings a march song entitled "Boy in Blue," and the Edisonoscope shows a fine new lot of motion pictures. Matinee tomorrow at 3:15 p. m. A prize for the boys, and one for the girls.

New Edison Theatre

 Edisonoscope, new motion pictures.
 Prize matinee Saturday.

Ready With the Goods

We can truly make it worth while for the prospective buyer of a buggy, runabout, surrey, driving wagon hack or other vehicle to see our fine assortment. We handle the Studebaker line of work, which is the most comprehensive assortment in the world. Besides this, we have three other lines of specialties, which gives us as complete a selection as is found in any wholesale or retail house in the valley. Besides the good stock carried on our floor, we get immediate delivery out of Portland on anything shown in above four catalogues, which is a great convenience to our trade.
 No vexatious delays when you buy of us.
 Our famous "Hundred-Dollar Bike" is still the leader in its class. Our $110, $125 and $140 kinds surpass any shown. Come and see for yourself.

A LIGHT POLICE BLOTTER

Only Three Cases Up Before Recorder Moores for Consideration

City Recorder Moores held a public reception this morning, but the attendance was small. Frank Covington, who had drifted in from the south like a breath of spring, was charged with begging, and the recorder, who is always sympathetic, reached down in his official pocket and gave him—two hours to get out of town.

Another, whose name we withhold, because he seemed to be an honest working man, who stumbled and fell by the wayside, was fined $5 and let go on the plea that he would lose his job, and his promise to come in later and pay up.

Harry Long said he came to town for the purpose of painting the state capitol, but unfortunately enlarged his contract, and tried to paint the town a deep, dark incarnation. He will distribute his paint hereafter outside the city limits. Outside of these simple things there was nothing doing.

The Grand Propelling Power

It is easy to see why the doctrine should be promulgated and followed that advertising is the soul of business; that the man who cannot use advertising in his business has no right to be in business; that, as Macaulay once said, advertising is to business what steam is to machinery, the grand propelling power. The story is told of a man who once came to a merchant to buy a remnant of cloth long out of fashion, with which to repair a garment. The merchant was delighted to be able to satisfy the new customer and asked, "How do you happen to come to me for this bagatelle?" The answer was, "I thought you would be the most likely man to have the sample because you never advertise." Our modern immense establishments take good care not to hide their light under a bushel. It is claimed that one of these establishments in the United States paid out $250,000 annually for advertisements in three newspapers alone, and the newspaper advertising expenses of the twelve largest retail stores have been estimated at $3,000,000 per annum.—V. Matzja in International Quarterly.

Pushed Ahead By Advertising

A British journal recently commented on the fact that whereas the tea grown in China was formerly the most popular, it now occupies second place, while Ceylon tea has become the favorite with all classes of people. The question, What has brought about this change of taste? is not, however, a difficult one to answer. As a prominent firm of dealers pointed out, Ceylon tea has been liberally advertised for some years, while the Chinese product has not been advertised at all. The change noted has been wrought during these years, and it is therefore reasonable to conclude that advertising is the principal cause thereof. As a result of advertising the consumption of Ceylon tea has increased so rapidly that in many cases China tea has practically been forced out of the market. Yet the actual difference in the quality of the two is not material.—Profitable Advertising.

The same might be said of many merchants who have forged to the front by liberal and persistent advertising in newspapers. Such examples can be found in the columns of this paper.

THEIR 3d MEETING

Hanlon and Corbett Meet in Ring at San Francisco Tonight

San Francisco, Cal., June 2.—Interest in the Eddie Hanlon—"Young" Corbett contest has lived to a noticeable degree as the date for the encounter approaches and Woodward's pavilion promises to be comfortably filled tonight with ring enthusiasts curious to see the two little fellows again battle for supremacy. Both have been training faithfully since articles were signed, with the result that each appears to be in the best condition. It is slated to be a twenty-round affair.

This will be their third meeting in the ring. The first took place more than two years ago, and after twenty rounds of fast and interesting milling was declared a draw, although the consensus of opinion was that Hanlon's margin at the final gong was large enough to entitle him to the verdict. Their second fight took place December 29, 1903, Corbett winning handily in sixteen rounds.

TOWN OF CONDON IS BATTERED

Heavy Hail Storms Broke Windows and Grain Is Beaten Flat

Condon, Or., June 2.—A hail and rain storm that did heavy damage in the town of Condon and injury not yet estimated to the grain crop of this section of Gilliam county passed over here at 6 o'clock last night. So far as learned this forenoon, no one was drowned in the flood that swept down the canyon below town, but the financial loss will be great.

The storm began with a portentous electrical display, which soon developed into a veritable waterspout. Hail as big as cherries began to pour down, and nearly every home in the city had windows broken. The Summit Hotel asphalt roof was beaten to pieces, and the rooms soaked. All the plate glass windows of the Hunt Hardware Company were broken, and the roof beaten in until the rain came down inside just about like it was in the adjoining street. Store skylights were smashed. Thirty holes were counted in the corrugated iron roof of the Prumpf feed stable, all of which were knocked through by hail, the violence of its coming being scarcely conceivable. Main street ran full of water.

The storm was an unfortunate thing for the ranchers of the Condon section, their wheat being beaten flat. It is not known yet whether this grain will recover or not, or how widespread the damage is. The center of the storm was about 25 miles west of the cloud-burst in Southern Morrow county the previous evening, in which four people were drowned. Heavy rain followed the hail, and people were greatly alarmed.

GRANGE PICNIC SATURDAY

Saturday, June 3d, there will be the annual meeting, picnic and excursion of the Lin County Council, and a round trip of 50 cents from Albany to Lyons has been made on the Corvallis & Eastern road, and the meeting will be held at the hall of the Jordan Valley Grange and the afternoon will be devoted to an open session, at which popular speakers will be heard.

A Pleasant Way to Travel.

The above is the usual verdict of the traveler using the Missouri Pacific railway between the Pacific coast and the east, and we believe that the service and accommodations given merit this statement. From Denver, Colorado Springs and Denver there are two through trains daily to Kansas City and St. Louis, carrying Pullman's latest standard electric-lighted sleeping cars, chair cars and up-to-date dining cars. The same excellent service is operated from Kansas City and St. Louis to Memphis, Little Rock and Hot Springs. If you are going east or south, write for particulars and full information.

You Will Laugh

Till your sides ache if you are at the Grand Saturday evening.

Funeral of Mrs. Kaylor.

Thursday morning at 10:30 the sorrowing friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kaylor assembled at the family residence to pay the last tribute of respect and affection to the loving wife, whose life's journey was finished, and to sympathize with the husband in his measureless loss. The tender language of flowers told the silent story of love and sympathy that words, on such occasions, seem inadequate to express. Rev. C. T. Hurd, of Corvallis, but at one time pastor of the Evangelical church here, paid an eloquent tribute to the worth of the dead, and a quartet, Misses Elma Byrne and Ida Stege and Mr. C. C. Worrick and Rev. C. T. Hurd, sang "Abide With Me" and "Nearer My God to Thee." The final resting place was in the Lee Mission cemetery.

CITY BRIDGE COMMITTEES

There was a joint conference last night between a committee of the city council and of the Taxpayers' League, to see if some agreement could not be reached as to construction of city bridges. The mayor and several of the aldermen made speeches in favor of building substantial and permanent bridges, that would be a credit to the city, and paying for them on the popular loan plan, as being cheaper than taxation on property direct. Judge Maxwell, Scott Biggs and George Griswold appeared for the league, and made arguments. No conclusion was reached. Mayor Waters favored leaving it to a vote of the taxpayer, under the public utilities section of the charter.

RECORD OF WAR LOSSES

The official record of the naval losses by both Japan and Russia in the present war up to the conflict of May 27-28, is as follows:

Since the war began the losses in big ships to the fleets of the belligerents have been as follows:

- Russia.
 Sunk at Port Arthur—
 Boyarin, blown up by a mine.
 Retvizan, sunk by gun fire.
 Poltava, holed and sunk.
 Pallada, torpedoed and half submerged.
 Peresviet, hulled by shell fire.
 Pobieda, hulled by shells.
 Petropavlovsk, blown up by a mine.
 Sevastopol, hulled and half submerged.
 Blown up at Chemulpo—
 Variag, first wrecked by Japanese shot.
 Korietz, hulled by Uruis' ships.
 Sunk in Korean Straits—
 Rurik, one of the Vladivostok squadron.
 Sunk off Saghalien—
 Novik, one of the Port Arthur ships.
 Dismantled in foreign ports—
 Carevitch, now at Kinohau.
 Askold, in harbor at Shanghai.
 Diana, sheltered at Saigon, French Indo-China.
 Lena, at Valjejo.
Japan.
 Sunk by mines—
 Hatsuse, went down near Dalay.
 Yashima, sunk east of Port Arthur.
 Miyaka, lost in Kerr bay.
 Haiyen, blown up October 9th.
 Ramméd and wrecked—
 Yoshino, sunk in collision by the Kasuga May 15th.
 A number of smaller craft have been lost on both sides, but in this respect Russia is the heaviest sufferer. Japan lost five transports sunk by the raiding Vladivostok squadron, and lost 16 other vessels in the four attempts that she made to bottle up Port Arthur.
