

Royal Baking Powder

Absolutely Pure

No alum, phosphatic acid or inferior or impure ingredients are used in Royal for the purpose of cheapening its cost; only the most highly refined and healthful.

Royal Baking Powder imparts that peculiar sweetness, flavor and delicacy noticed in the finest cake, biscuit, rolls, etc., which expert pastry cooks declare is unobtainable by the use of any other leavening agent.

Alum is used in making cheap baking powders. If you want to know the effect of alum upon the tender linings of the stomach, touch a piece to your tongue. You can raise biscuit with alum baking powder, but at what a cost to health!

SOCIAL EVENTS

Griswold-Watson Wedding.

Notable among fall weddings was the union of Miss Neva Griswold to Mr. Ralph E. Watson, which took place yesterday at 12 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, George Griswold, in Yew Park.

The Griswold residence was beautifully decorated. "Everywhere was the foliage, radiant in the autumn tints, while flowers and ferns made the whole a vision of floral beauty. The hall and stairway was banked with a mass of ivy and ferns. The second parlor was in cut flowers and plants. Red predominated in the dining room. The table decorations were maidenhair ferns and red dahlias. Mrs. D. E. Hooker attended the dining room and was assisted in serving by the Misses Grace Hineman, Lou Cary and Grace Byrd. Misses Bertha Kay, Dot Berry and Irene James attended the door.

At 12 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Joseph Evans, and took their places beneath a lovers' knot of white satin ribbon in a beautiful green bower, where Rev. George Babcock, of the First Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony. Mrs. Jox Evans played the bridal choros from Mendelssohn during the service. A wedding luncheon was served later, after which the young couple left for Portland, where they will reside.

The bride wore a handsome costume of Champagne crepe de chine over silk and carried an arm bouquet of white chrysanthemums. Her going away costume was a chic costume of green broadcloth. The presents were many and beautiful and were mostly cut glass and silver.

Both the young people are well known in this city. The bride has always been a social favorite and has scores of friends. The groom formerly lived in this city, but is now at Portland where he holds at position with the Oregonian.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Watson and daughter.

Crawford Shoes

Brave Washington once made a trip
To catch the British on the hip.
And as he crossed the Delaware
He wet his boots. "I do not care,"
Said noble George, "I have with me
A pair of Crawford Shoes, you see.
Soon as we land I'll put them on
And then the elements I scorn."
From Hessian foe did he retreat?
Not so.—Nor suffer from "de-feet."

Quinn-Livingston Wedding.

On Wednesday noon, October 11, 1905, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Livingston, near Albany, Mr. Dan Quinn and Miss Pearl Ione Livingston, Rev. McDougall officiating.

The marriage was private, only a few relatives and friends being present. A wedding repast was served and the happy couple left for Portland on their bridal trip.

The groom is the popular bookkeeper of the Curtis Lumber Company at Mill City and the bride is a fine young lady, for many years a resident of Albany.—Albany Democrat.

Licenses Galore.

Four marriage licenses were issued from the office of the county clerk yesterday as follows: Neva Griswold and Ralph Watson, Maud Cutsford and C. W. Dyer, Dorothea Peters and Arthur Branch, Myrtle Busick and Newton Walker.

This makes a total of fifteen permits that have been issued so far this month. The largest number of licenses that have ever been issued in this county in any one month were issued during the month of October in 1903, and it begins to look as though this month would not be far behind the record of that year.

Tonka, the usual cheat for vanilla, costs one or two cents for a certain amount; Schilling's Best vanilla a dollar.

One is strong; the other is fine. One is rank; the other is delicate. Nevertheless four-fifths of "vanilla" is tonka. The 8 cents accounts for it.

Shortage of Cars.

The Spaulding Sawmill Company, of this city, which is now engaged in supplying timber for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, has been having trouble in getting cars enough to ship their products. Eight large flat cars were received yesterday, and these will be loaded with ties at once. The company also has a contract to furnish a large order of heavy timbers to be used in different parts of Utah, but as the timbers are so long and so heavy that they require large cars they can not be shipped at present.

Buried Here.

The body of the late Rev. D. L. Spaulding, of Spokane, was brought to this city yesterday for burial. The body arrived on the 11 o'clock train and was taken directly from the train to the Lee Mission cemetery, where the services were conducted by Father Royal and Rev. W. H. Solleck. The deceased was a pioneer minister in the Methodist church and several years ago was located in this city.

The College Weekly.

The first issue of the Weekly Willamette Collegian came out yesterday and is a very creditable college weekly. It will be published every Wednesday of the remaining school year. Andrew Marker is editor in chief and Glen Unruh is business manager.

City, Iowa, are the guests of W. A. Linton. They are touring the coast and will spend a few days in looking over this part of Oregon.

Frank Meyers, of the Spa, returned this morning from Pennsylvania, where he has been for two months on business connected with the settling up of his grandfather's estate.

Rev. Frank Spaulding, of Spokane, was present at the chapel exercises of the university this morning and made a short talk to the students. Mr. Spaulding was a student at the university about 20 years ago.

Mrs. Cora Witschen returned to Portland this morning after attending the wedding of her sister, Miss Neva Griswold, to Ralph Watson. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Maud Griswold.

Mrs. Hamaker, of Klamath Falls, and her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Parrish, of this city, went to Portland this morning. Mrs. Parrish will return soon, but Mrs. Hamaker will visit for a month with her son.

Mrs. Heller and children, of Indianapolis, who have been the guests of relatives in this city for some time, started on their return home this morning. Mrs. Heller is a sister of Mrs. R. M. Duncan of this city.

George Meyers is in Portland today on business connected with the state board of barber commissioners. The board will make a trip into Eastern Oregon next month. Among the places to be visited are the four towns in the Wallowa Valley, which have not hitherto made the acquaintance of the board.

Miss Gail Sontor, who has been the guest of the Misses Ella and Bessie Schultz, returned to Portland last evening and after a few days there will return to her home in Tacoma. Miss Sontor made many friends during her short visit in this city.

Henry Downing, of the state fair board, went to Portland this morning to purchase seats, benches, tables, etc., from the Lewis and Clark fair people, to be used on the state fair grounds in this city. Mr. Downing reports the improvements at the fair grounds to be well under way. The roofs of the old as well as the new buildings have all been painted green.

Robert Coshow, formerly of this city, but now of Elgin, who has been in Salem for a week, returned as far as Portland this morning. After spending a few days at the Fair, he will continue his journey home. Mr. Coshow says that the O. R. & N. Co. has a large crew of men at work on the extension of the railroad from Elgin, on into the Wallowa Valley. Although Mr. Cook has been temporarily enjoined from building his electric road over into the same country, his party of surveyors are still at work. Cook is also making an effort to interest the Walla Walla people in a project to construct an electric line from that city into the Wallowa Valley. He says that the Valley has at least one road assured.

Benton County Tax Roll.

Victor B. Moses, county clerk of Benton county, has filed with the secretary of state a summary of the assessment roll of that county for this year. This summary shows that the total value of taxable property is $4,744,805. It also shows that there are 71,747 acres of tillable land in the county and 291,925 acres which are not tillable. Also that there are 45 miles of railroad bed and 395 miles of telegraph and telephone lines.

There are more sheep and goats in the county than all other kinds of stock combined. The total number is 24,450. The number of other stock is: Horses and mules, 2,398; cattle, 7,369; swine, 1,760.

Oregon Against California.

At Berkeley this afternoon, the University of Oregon football team will play the team from the University of California. A great deal of interest is being manifested in Salem over this game, as lovers of the sport are anxious to see if the men from Eugene will be able to hold down the big southerners as well as did Willamette. The game will also show in a measure the comparative strength of the two teams which are to meet in Salem November 4.

The State Varsity claims to have the strongest team in the history of the school, and it will no doubt acquit itself with honor on its southern trip. It will play Stanford Tuesday.

Don't let the children suffer. If they are fretful, peevish and cross, give them Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. The best baby tonic known. Strength and health follow its use. 35 cents. Dr. Stone's.

W. K. Vanderbilt's Anecdote.

"I heard W. K. Vanderbilt talk the last time I was abroad," said a Pittsburgh man. "It was at the Grand Hotel, in Rome, and Mr. Vanderbilt sat at the table next to mine. He had just returned from a long trip in a motor car, and his talk naturally dealt with motoring in the main.

Mr. Vanderbilt said that there were a good many pains and worries incidental to motoring. Most of them, though, could be avoided by good management.

"He said he knew a man who had started with a friend on a week's trip in a big car, and they had stayed two weeks because they enjoyed themselves so much.

"When finally they got back to town it was a Monday night and Mr. Vanderbilt's friend, timid about his reception, went home, and his wife received him as coldly as he had expected she would do. What he dreamed, though was an explosion—as her scolding and upbraidings. As he talked, he tried to think of some way to escape this explosion, and finally the idea came to him.

"I am glad to be back here to you, dear," he said. "But I pity Philip Poor old Pitoeo!"

"Ah, poor fellow," said her husband, "at this moment his wife is pinning him the very deuce!"

"The lady's manner softened. The wily speech got her husband off. He would not show herself a common scold, like Mrs. Pitoeo."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
