ELECTION DATES TO REMEMBER.

Last day for filing nominating petitions for county offices May 19. General election June 4.

STATE PRINTING.

The Salem Journal thinks that after the campaign of reform and economy made by Mr. Duniway, the nominees for state printer, the cost of public printing will be reduced 50 per cent, or could be if the printer keeps his pledges. All of which depends, not on the printer so much as on the amount of work required to be done. The state printer is paid by the piece. If one job lists up ten dollars, five jobs will list fifty. If the state printer makes a profit of one dollar on a ten-dollar job, he will make five on the five jobs, or ten on a hundred. Wherefore it comes to a business proposition. If a printing firm has a large patronage it will make money. If the patronage is small the proprietor will have distressingly small profits. The printer belongs to the small class of artisans who cannot create business, but must await the demands of their customers. The state printer operates a job office and prints what the state carries to his office. Now then, if the state, during Mr. Duniway's term of office, requires as much work done as during past administrations, the cost will be the same. If but half the work is done, only half the paper will be used, half the ink and half the labor. In that event a saving of 50 per cent can be made, and not otherwise. The only other way a saving can be made is to reduce the price of the work. That can be done by the legislature, and by no one else. Oregon has a better system for doing its printing than any of the other states unless they have the same method.

DEVELOP COOS BAY.

The great convention that is being arranged for the Coos Bay country May 23-24 is attracting a great deal of attention. The state papers are full of it, and Portland will send a large delegation.

There are demands for more delegates from this county. Mr. Angel will send several, and the mayor of Salem and the county judge may be called upon to appoint delegates.

All the transportation facilities available are offered at reduced rates. The steamer Alliance will sail from Portland May 19th at 8 p. m., and leave North Bend the day the convention adjourns.

The Southern Pacific has offered the usual reduced rates, so that delegates can catch the stage at Drain Tuesday morning, and be at North Bend the next forenoon—a most picturesque trip. The scenery down the Umpqua can-

Hair Falls

Losing it, day after day? And doing nothing to save it? As though you can lose your hair and keep it, too! Then stop this falling. Stop it at once! You can certainly do it with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It feeds the hair, gives it strength, keeps it in place. And it makes the scalp healthy, cures all dandruff, and keeps the hair soft and glossy. Try it and be happy!

you from Drain to Scottsburg and then to Coos Bay via Gardner is wonderful. The stage ride is exhilarating and only 35 miles through the mountains, making good time.

The business men of Portland and the valley cities owe it to themselves to make this trip, and encourage the development of the Coos Bay country. By rail via Drain it will be as near to us as Astoria or Yaquina.

All who wish to know about the details of the trip, by steamer or by rail and stage, can get information by addressing the editor of the Capital Journal any time before Saturday.

SAID A FARMER'S WIFE.

"Many a young man is trying to support a sealskin wife on a muskrat salary. Too many of our girls are raised in the sealskin class," said Mrs. S. Ella Southerland of Athol, addressing the Worcester and Norfolk Pomona Grange.

"Be neat," she continued, speaking to the women members, "cleanly in attire, and don't take too much stock in a $49 suit on a $3 man. Some men quarter their cows better than their wives, and I have been in more farmers' barns with running water than I have been in houses with the same improvement."

CONVICTS ON THE ROADS.

That the platform of Dr. Withycombe in reference to his attitude on the subject of good roads should have the hearty endorsement of every right thinking person is a fact not to be disputed. His proposal to utilize the labor of the convicts in the penitentiary to that end, is not a new idea in the country, but it is one that has never been acted upon to any extent in this state. I other communities it has been put in operation with success, being found to be a practical solution of the problem of preventing the labor of convicts coming into competition with free labor.

Nothing is quite so prominent a factor in adding to the well being of our suburban population and to the welfare of our cities as the condition of the highways on which the people are compelled to travel.

If Dr. Withycombe will use the influence of the office to which we believe he will be elected to bring into operation the improvement in our state affairs he will have the endorsement of the people.

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE.

Governor Chamberlain and some of his campaign managers are claiming altogether too much. They did not pass all the good laws and do all the good things that have been done for the past four years.

An editorial in a Silverton paper claims altogether too much when it refers to "the action of Governor Chamberlain in vetoing the big appropriation bill which carried many thousands of dollars for normal schools not needed or approved by the people of the state."

GOVERNOR CHAMBERLAIN DID NOT VETO THE BIG APPROPRIATION BILL. HE DID NOT USE THE BIG STICK ON THAT BILL AS HE SHOULD HAVE DONE. He filed it without his signature, letting it become a law without his protest.

Without saying what he should have done, the people took the referendum club in their own hands and held up the bill by their petitions. They deserve the credit, if any is due, and not Governor Chamberlain.

If it was a very bad bill, as many claim it was, and as the governor's managers now claim, why did he not veto the bill and give the legislature a chance to knock out the bad features? They would have done so because about half the Republican members of that legislature were supporting the governor's veto, and would have supported any honest effort to correct the bad features of that bill.

Governor Chamberlain is an adroit politician and he undoubtedly played to the galleries in allowing that bill to become a law and then used his influence to get the people to take the referendum on the bill.

BUT THE PEOPLE OWE HIM NOTHING FOR THE PRIVILEGE OF HOLDING UP THE BILL. If he had vetoed it and the bad features had been stricken out and the bill passed, there would have been saved to the state all the way from $50,000 to $100,000 interest on claims.

James Withycombe speaks of Governor Chamberlain as an excellent gentleman, and of his excellent administration, but does not mean that he shall be given credit for things he did not do.

Withycombe, the Republican candidate for governor, has stated that if any such appropriation bill, the result of log-rolling, is sent to him, he will veto it, and send it back to the legislature for correction.

THE RESULT OF THAT WOULD BE THAT NO SUCH OMNIBUS BILL WILL EVER GO TO GOVERNOR WITHYCOMBE. He serves notice on the legislature in advance that appropriations must stand on their merit.

That line of action would have saved those people who sell supplies to the state having their bills discounted ten per cent by the money lenders.

Smiles

Two days more to register. Books close May 15 at sundown.

This is liable to be a "dry" summer, even in western Oregon.

All Republicans have to do this year to win is to get the vote out. The ticket is a good one.

Eight inches of snow fell one day last week in Wisconsin. But, then, people there get used to that.

If the women ever get to voting it may make trouble for the gambling business and other "industries."

A women's crusade has closed gambling houses in Echo, Ore. Echo answers, where, oh, where, are the games?

A Chicago college professor solemnly announces that the world will endure one hundred million years. His salary should be oiled at once.

Couldn't Bryan go around the world without coining his trip into cash? But he is bound to keep before the people and at the same time make them pay.

The paper printed by the Oregon Deaf Mute school has changed its name from "The Webfoot" to "The Oregon Outlook." That looks and sounds better.

Governor Withycombe probably would not veto removing the Deaf Mute school into the city, where the children could see human beings once in a while.

The Oregon Deaf Mute school graduation exercises take place May 29 at 2 p. m. The girl graduates will look as sweet as any, but may not make as much noise.

The Dalles Chronicle asks this question: "The Salem Journal remarks that 'there is a new factor in politics—people who pray, read and think.' Let's see! What have these people been doing before?"

This is the delightful time of the year. Wild strawberries ripe. Plenty of wild flowers. Trout bite good and so do black bass. Then the picnic season is on. But there are those awful little green worms.

At Newberg the public schools held a fair, the students paraded the streets and gave an entertainment to raise money to buy a flag. If they had addressed Hal Patton of The Journal it would have come easier.

One of the prettiest sights ever seen by the horse editor was two pretty Salem girls coming in from the hills Saturday with heaped-up baskets of wild strawberries. They are girls who work hard all the week.

An Albany man furnishes the following to the Democrat: When a man undertakes reform he is never out of a job.

Etternal hustle, coupled with honesty and integrity, is the just price of success.

The thought of work makes more men tired than the work itself.

Voters should study carefully the first question under the list of officers to be voted—numbers 300 and 301: "Shall the appropriation money maintaining the insane asylum, penitentiary, deaf mute, blind school, university, agricultural college and normal schools be approved. This is the bill vetoed by the governor because of the normal graft, and voters will do well to put a cross between the number and No.—Albany Democrat.

The governor probably should have vetoed the bill but he didn't do it. He let it become a law and the people took the referendum.

Farming Notes.

Rain has saved the grain crops in Stevens county, Wash.

Oregon will have an enormous hay crop. Rains are falling this week in time to make immense spring grain yields.

Farmers from the Horse Heaven country bring reports of a splendid crop outlook this year. Both fall and spring grains are excellent.

Umatilla county needs rain, and unless it comes soon and in good quantity the wheat of the county will suffer to a great extent. It has been approximately two months since there has been any rain to speak of, and the yellowing and burned crops show its lack.

In the Palouse country prolonged dry weather with strong winds has caused much uneasiness in regard to crops, but no actual damage. Wheat shows the effects of continued dry weather, and unless rain falls within the next few days the crops will be cut short.
