Will Sound Keynote. Portland, Me., June 27.—The Republican state convention of this state was called to order at the city hall shortly before 11 o'clock this forenoon. The principal business before the convention is the selection of a candidate for governor, but the convention will be of even greater importance in a national way, by the fact that Speaker Cannon, of the national house of representatives, will appear before the convention this afternoon and will deliver an address in which he will sound the keynote for the Republican campaign for this year.

ABOUT STATE TAXES

Tax Commissioner Will Report Monday and There Will be a Minority Report

When the report of the State Tax Commission is filed with the secretary of state next Monday, it will be found that the members of the commission will hold widely divergent views on at least one important feature of the matter in question. Chairman Mulkey, of Portland, and Mr. Scarborough, of Marshfield, will file a majority report, and the third member, William J. Lachner, of Baker City, has prepared and will file a minority report. All the members of the committee agree on everything of importance, except the method of apportioning the state tax. There is a law on the statute books, which does not go into effect until 1910, which bases the apportionment of the state taxes on the expenses for state purposes of the various counties. Attached to the majority report is a bill which the next legislature will be asked to pass, embodying the same system that is contained in the 1910 law, which will, if enacted, go into effect in 1908.

It is said that the report of Mr. Lachner, the minority member, waives minor issues and touches only on the question of state taxes. The report says that all taxes shall be raised on real and personal property and property rights, and that the apportionment shall be based on the valuation, and not on the expenditures. The report of Mr. Lachner says that the majority report presents a theoretical and not a practical view, and that the system of basing apportionment on expenditures has never been tried in any state in the Union, or in any country. Mr. Lachner contends that though the 1910 law drafted for the purpose of equalizing assessments it will be just as easy for county courts that desire to take unfair advantage in the matter of paying state taxes to juggle with the figures as it is for the assessor to present a valuation that is too low. The whole matter presents an interesting question that will occupy the attention of the legislature.

Helps for Tired-Out Woman. The tired out woman usually eats the wrong kind of food. When tired out, one should select foods not for their food value alone, but for the recuperative powers. Hot soup of any kind quickly refreshes the tired woman. Every woman should learn how to change her clothing. Take off the shoes you have been wearing all day and put on slippers. Take off the blouse you have worn all day and the collar which has been around your throat ever since morning and put on a different blouse and a different collar. You have no idea how a fresh blouse rests one, and especially a fresh bit of neckwear. The pinch goes on a different set of muscles. Changing the underwear is a good plan, especially the corsets. The bones will sub, no matter how carefully you plan things, and a new corset makes you feel like you were just beginning the day instead of ending it.

Deadly Serpent Bites. Are as common in India as are stomach and liver disorders with us. For the latter, however, there is a sure remedy. Electric Bitters, the great restorative medicine, of which S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "They restored my wife to perfect health after years of suffering with dyspepsia and a chronically torpid liver." Electric Bitters cure chills and fever, malaria, biliousness, lame back, kidney troubles and bladder disorders. Sold only on guaranteed by J. C. Perry, druggist, Salem, Or. Price, 50c.

BLODGETT WILL GET AN APPEAL

While There Are Three at the Pen Condemned to Death There Will be no Execution Soon

The action of George Blodgett, of Multnomah county, in securing John J. Jeffrey as his attorney, in place of Charles F. Lord, whom he claims took his fee and then deserted him, will probably lead to steps that will prevent his execution at the state penitentiary tomorrow. Judge George, of Portland, will grant a stay of execution, and an appeal will be taken by Jeffrey on behalf of Blodgett to the supreme court.

These occurrences remove from the stage of action any immediate hanging at the state prison. There are three other men in the penitentiary under death sentence, but there is no immediate chance of their being executed. The first of these who will probably pull hemp is J. C. Barnes, convicted in Douglas county for the murder of William Graham. His case has been reviewed by the supreme court, and the judgment of the lower court has been affirmed. He will be taken back to Douglas county to be sentenced, and it is very likely that this will be done soon. Nothing can save Barnes except executive clemency.

Of the other two in prison awaiting execution, one of these is Jasper Jennings, who was sentenced in Josephine county for the murder of his father. The case has been appealed to the supreme court, and many people believe he will never be hanged. His sister, Dora Jennings, was also tried for the crime, and was acquitted at her second trial. It is said that there has always been a large doubt as to Jasper's guilt. In fact many people believe him innocent.

The third man in the penitentiary, and under the shadow of the gallows, is Holiver McGordon, who was sentenced from Malheur county for killing his wife. This case is also pending in the supreme court, and, as McGordon has a considerable amount of property and a string of able lawyers, he will be able to put up a long and hard fight. The murder was said to be a very brutal one, in which McGordon followed his wife with a shot gun, and killed her while she was trying to escape from him.

Following the Flag. When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired commissary sergeant, U. S. A., of Rural Route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at J. C. Perry's drug store. Price, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Bids wanted on body fir and large second growth. Bids to be opened Saturday evening, July 7, 1906, at 7:30 p. m. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. J. C. GOODALE, JR., 6-26-10t Clerk.

Vermont Democrats Meet. Burlington, Vt., June 28.—The Democratic state convention of this state convened at the Strong theatre this afternoon to nominate a state ticket. V. A. Ballard of Burlington, calling the convention to order, and H. C. Shurtleff of Montpelier being named secretary. After the usual committees were appointed a recess was taken. A proposition for a fusion with the faction of the party favoring Clement for the head of the ticket will be considered by the convention and, unless the Clement men are too exuberant in their demands for concessions, it is believed that the proposed fusion will be brought about. The Democratic convention of the first congressional district will be held immediately after the adjournment of the state convention.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Among these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Cox, of New York; Dr. E. B. Johnson, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, profluvius, antevulsion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, drives out disagreeable and weakening humors, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh, and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regular and educated physician of large experience in the cure of women's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidently takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

Artillery Maneuvers Expected.

Washington, June 28.—Artillery officers of the army are anxious to have some special operations with the field artillery, notably in regimental organizations. They point out, as at present situated, the field artillery does not get together for practical work under conditions which would confront that branch of the army in a time of war. It is thought necessary that the field artillery should be assembled at posts in sufficient numerical strength and with sufficient batteries under one head to form a regiment. This will be possible under the summer mobilization of regulars and militia at two points—Fort Riley, Kansas and Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming.

It is planned that the field artillery so organized into regimental commands shall be put through manoeuvres similar to those in which the field artillery of the Japanese was engaged. The distinctive work of field artillery, as compared with coast artillery, clearly points to the eventual separation of both branches of the artillery corps. Most artillerymen foresee that the time is not far distant when officers attached to the field artillery must remain with the same permanency of service as do cavalry officers or infantry officers in relation to those respective arms. The mobility of field artillery makes it comparable with cavalry rather than with coast artillery. The work of the field artillery will have special prominence at the camps of concentration this summer.

Very Annoying to Some People.

People that are known to be weak and sickly, by their neighbors, are asked the question every day whether they are feeling better. Do you feel stronger? Are you gaining flesh? Their friends know if they are gaining flesh it is one of the sure signs of returning health. If they can only get a remedy that will make solid, healthy flesh, recovery is assured. People with nervous troubles, loss of flesh and strength, no ambition, languid, and always tired, have thin, watery blood. The food they eat does not nourish them, it does not make blood. If after each meal they would take Dr. Blood and Nerve Tonic their food would be turned into rich, red blood, making solid flesh and strength. The tablets are sold in boxes by all druggists for 75 cents, or three boxes for $2. People who use this tonic gain in solid flesh from one to three pounds per week; they feel better and know they are on the road to health.

Madison County Centennial.

Onida, N. Y., June 27.—The opening event of the Madison county centennial will take place at the First Baptist church this evening, when a large meeting will be held, with music, singing of patriotic songs and several addresses among them an address of welcome by Edwin J. Brown, president of the Madison county Historical Society, and other addresses by County Judge Michael H. Kiley, Mayor John H. Richardson, Ex-postmaster General Thomas L. James, Ex-governor W. D. Hoard of Wisconsin, Capt. W. J. Barnett, U. S. N. of Washington, D. C., former Secretary of the Treasury Charles S. Fairchild, and others.

Boil Drinking Water.

While the work of enlarging the filtering system is in progress it would be better for all to boil their drinking water.—The progress of the work will be noted in this paper. 5-19-1t.
