The Grounds.

The fair grounds have been improved with new walks, fountain and statuary, which adds greatly to the appearance of the place. The space in front of the pavilion, which was formerly occupied by unsightly shacks, is now adorned with flower gardens and picturesque walks. The stands have been moved to the space between the pavilion and the place where the old stock exhibit building stood. The Spa is building a $300 structure from which to supply its customers with delicious drinks and lunches.

Fuller & Douglas will be represented by a neat stand, and probably several of the other enterprising Salem firms will have places of business on the grounds. The dairy building, which was moved some time ago to its position just north of the pavilion, has been overhauled, and is now ready to receive the exhibits. A large tent will be used this season in connection with the poultry building, in which to store the tools and implements used there. The poultry department promises to be up to its usual standard this season. Although the fair does not start for nine days, many of those who will conduct business on the grounds have their stands about ready to receive the goods to begin business.

Evening Entertainment.

The management is negotiating with a male and ladies' quartet of Portland to appear each evening. The programs are to be given in the music room, and they will probably come to a satisfactory agreement at an early date. Dr. R. A. Heritage has been engaged to furnish a large chorus and also to conduct the "Months and Seasons," which will be presented by local talent. The McElroy Silver Cornet Band will furnish music. While the band will be organized especially for the fair, it will doubtless give good satisfaction, as the director, Mr. McElroy, is a capable leader and musician. He has been in California for the past year, where he was at the time the contract was awarded. After playing at the fair his band will go to Pendleton, where it will fill a musical engagement.

Tent City News.

The population of the tent city at the fair grounds this year will probably exceed any former season. The spacious camp grounds are laid out in block form with all streets named, so as to facilitate delivering orders, and locating parties who are residents of the tent city. A large map of the place has been placed at the "city hall," on the grounds, a substantial one-story structure on the main trail, where also can be found a list of campers and their location. Albert Tozier, who is both mayor and recorder of the tent city, will be on hand to look after the needs of his citizens. Every lot is so situated that it can be reached with a team, the streets being free from tent ropes and other obstructions. Good water is furnished at convenient places throughout the well-shaded grounds, which are supplied with all the conveniences to make an ideal place to enjoy an outing.

Racing.

It has been assured that the racing season will see a good racing season this year. While the purses for the racing events are not so large as in former years, the excitement and pool selling has been increased, yet the interest that has been shown by the turf men has guaranteed the track success. Many of the persons who have been in the city at Seattle, Butte, McMinnville and other points, where races have been held, will be represented here.

The racing in the late closing races will be announced by the officials. Several of these races have more than ten entries at this time. California, Washington and Oregon are yet to be heard from. McMinnville horses will probably arrive Sunday and Monday.

The well-known horsemen from the McMinnville meet, the John Savage, of Portland, 12 miles; the Sperry, of Portland, 3; J. Smith, 1; L. B. Lindsay, 7, and others.

It is expected that a large lot of horses will arrive in a few days.

Albany, will be here in a few days with five head of fast ones, among which are Oma A., Red Wave, the pacing stallion, and the famous Doc Mundy.

William Hucklebone, of Walla Walla, has ordered eight stalls, and probably arrive today.

The racing program as announced is as follows:

Monday—4 furlongs, for all ages, 10 pounds below the scale. Purse

It is perfectly right and proper for Portland to welcome Taft, but it is doing so simply emphasizes the studied insult to Vice-President Fairbanks, whom it deliberately ignored—presumably because he visited Astoria without paying his respects to Portland first.

Marie Cahill, in "Marrying Mary," has made a decided hit. She has made a change in the chorus girl costume, by having them all dressed in long skirts. The New York Sun, in praising the play, says: "The chorus in long skirts owns pretty faces."

The horse editor, being somewhat inclined to democracy, hereby expresses his individual choice for president of the United States—George E. Chamberlain. His second choice is for Governor Chamberlain, of Oregon, and his third selection is "Our George."

With the presidential election coming on the Panama canal management better get their steam shovels busy, or the newspapers will discount them in the amount of dirt handled.

THE BROWN SHOE CO.

Is celebrated for its policy of building shoes of Solid Leather Throughout

Since the heavy advance in leather it is important to know that the shoes you buy are made in a reliable factory. Many factories are giving their shoes the same finish as formerly, but substituting inferior grades of leather to keep the price down, which is in fact a dishonest method of advancing prices.

U. S. Senator Borah, of Idaho, who was so bitter in his denunciation of Haywood, is under indictment for robbing the government of its lands. It depends on the jury whether Borah takes his seat in the United States senate or a private cell in the penitentiary. He is out of luck, anyway, as in either case he will be in pretty shady company.

The Board of Trade did well in establishing and maintaining the splendid rooms here, showing Marion's products. Now, gentlemen, some bright descriptive matter to tell the world about it, and your good work will have a cap sheet on.

Borah, who is indicted for land frauds, said, when Haywood was acquitted: "That the fact that the man was not found guilty was not proof that he was innocent." Now, if this is true, where does Borah get off, no matter what the verdict?

GOOD RACES AT McMINNVILLE.

Salem Horse, "Henry Gay," Is First in 2:23 Trotting Class.

McMinnville, Or., Sept. 6.—At the opening of the three-day race meet here yesterday afternoon, Henry Gay, owned by G. T. Wallace, of Salem, won the race for 2:23 trotters; time, 2:20. There were four other entries, but two broke in the first heat and were distanced. Frank Talkington's horse made his mile in 2:20 and 2:20 1/4. The Wallace horse won three heats; time, 2:20, 2:20 1/4 and 2:20, making a very pretty race. This was the first race for both of the horses, and their drivers were also inexperienced.

Ben W., owned by John Sawyer, of Portland, won the three best in five in the pacing class; time, 2:15, 2:20 and 2:24, respectively. Horsemen pronounce the McMinnville track the best in the state. It is the property of R. L. Bowley, a wealthy and enthusiastic horseman, who has spared neither time nor expense to bring it to perfection.

Newberg Milk Condenser.

All but about $2000 of the $15,000 worth of stock has been subscribed for the milk condensing plant and the indications are now favorable for landing it. Much hard work has been done by the solicitors in securing this amount, and we infer from some remarks they have let fall that there are those who should have taken stock that have failed to do so. Everyone should be active to the great advantage the farmer will receive from a plant of this kind, and be ready to help what they can. They are not asking for a donation, but simply ask the people to take less than one-fourth of the stock in the plant.—Newberg Enterprise.
