

SHE IS NINETY-THREE

Marsh Simpson—She Resides in Southern Polk County.

(Corvallis Times.) ... Marsh Simpson, the famous Elk fisherman, was in town yesterday enroute home from the annual pilgrimage to the home of his mother in Polk county.

On the farm still stands the little cabin, built in 1846, and occupied by the family until a new home was built in 1866. The latter, after many years was replaced by a more pretentious structure, and three stand in close proximity.

Marsh Simpson was the first child of the Luckiamute, to live in a cabin that boasted of a roof. He yesterday for his home at Elk where the finny tribe in the river were doubtless lonely during his week of absence.

THE OREGON MACHINE

(Baker City Herald.) ... U'Ren is in town. He will be here tonight at the Baker Hotel. And strange to say, those who have seen this man U'Ren today for the first time, failed to find any protruding from his forehead, a cloven hoof instead of an ordinary human foot, and there is no indication to show that he has a tail.

Why has there been so much talk of the Oregon City man? ... Mr. U'Ren one is reminded that he is a plain, unassuming citizen.

It is no wonder many people believe in U'Ren. He stands for what people want, and against what they don't want. That is the secret of his success.

REMARKABLE CURE IN AN INDIANA TOWN

Showing the Value of Tonic Treatment In Severe Nervous Cases

A Well Established Case of St. Vitus' Cured in a Short Time by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Many a child has been called awkward, has been punished in school for not keeping still or for dropping things, when the trouble was really chorea, or St. Vitus' dance, as it is popularly called.

Before the presence of the disease betrayed there is usually a disturbance of the general health. The child shows listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow.

Often the patient loses flesh and becomes pale and bloodless. A remedy that cures St. Vitus' dance, and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

A recent cure is that of the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Packard, of Swazey, Ind. The facts in the case are known to every one in that little town where the family is well known.

When not quite seven years old Nellie was taken with St. Vitus' dance and was sick for over five months. She had always been healthy and was never of a nervous disposition and I am at a loss to explain the cause of her sickness.

Lost Control of Her Muscles. "She began to grow more nervous and I then noticed that she staggered in walking but thought it was a habit and tried to correct her but their meaning. Who has done it? There is only one answer: U'Ren. He has whipped the whole bunch. Corralled them, thrown the lasso over their necks and placed the other end of the rope in the people's hands.

she did not improve. She got worse all the time and finally jerked all over. She got so she could hardly feed herself and her hand would knock things off the table.

The Characteristic Spasms. "Later she had spasms which lasted for perhaps an hour during which her head and eyes rolled about, she became pale and looked terrible. Following these spells she wouldn't notice anything for a day and would be very nervous for two or three days to a week.

What the Doctor Said. "Our doctor said her nerves were completely run down and that she had St. Vitus' dance. He didn't know whether she would recover from the disease and if she did he was not certain that her mind would be right.

Of Interest to All Nervous People. That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured obstinate cases of St. Vitus' dance, is the best evidence that they will cure lesser nervous disorders, because the principle in the treatment of all nervous diseases is the same.
