WAR VETERANS AND PENSION LEGISLATION

Republican Party Wholly Responsible for Caring for Old Soldiers.

The Republican party has just cause to be proud of its pension record. With the aid of patriotic men from other parties it waged to a successful conclusion the greatest war of modern times.

It has never ceased to honor the officers and men who composed the victorious army. Every Republican President elected since the close of that war had been a conspicuous officer of the federal army with the exception of President Roosevelt, whose brilliant record in the Spanish war is a matter of just pride to the American people.

Republican Pension Legislation.

Republican legislation for the old soldier, his widow and his minor children has been generous and bountiful. The invalid pension law of July 14, 1862, and the dependent law of June 27, 1890, are monuments of Republican achievement and bear witness to the country's tender care of its soldiers and its soldiers' families.

The act of June 27, 1890, is a fitting illustration of the generosity of the Republican party toward the veterans of the Civil war. This law was passed by a Republican congress, was signed by a Republican President, and through its administration there was expended during the next fiscal year a total amount of $68,798,860.71. The number of soldiers receiving the benefit of this act was 443,721, while the number of dependents relieved by this act was 171,259. The gain in the number of pensioners under this act over the previous year was 8643, and the gain from June 30, 1890, to Jan. 5, 1904, was 4993.

The Republican party passed the act of April 19, 1908, increasing pensions of all widows from $8 to $12 per month and granting pensions without reference to the value of property or income. The Republican party also passed the act of Feb. 6, 1879, granting pensions to soldiers by reason of age alone, without regard to disability.

Democratic Opposition Record.

The Democratic party, as such, has opposed every measure voting appropriations for pensions. Its record for the past 40 years is one of opposition to those men who bore the hardships of war and jeopardized their lives that the Union might be preserved. Here is a brief list of their official adverse acts in congress toward the veterans of the Civil war:

In 1878 a bill passed the house repealing all limitations of time in which applications for arrears of pensions should be made. This was opposed by a majority of the Democrats. The bill increasing the pensions for widows from $8 to $12 per month was opposed by the Democrats. The amputation bill passed Aug. 4, 1896, was opposed by the Democrats and voted for solidly by the Republicans in the house. The widow's arrears bill and the disability pension bill were both fought bitterly by the Democrats.

In the forty-third congress a dependent pension bill was voted on in the senate, the Republicans supporting it solidly and the Democrats opposing it by a two-third vote. In the house this bill was voted for solidly by Republicans and opposed by a majority of the Democrats. After it had passed the house and senate it was vetoed by President Cleveland, a Democrat. An effort was made in the house to pass the bill over Cleveland's veto, the Republicans voting 133 for it and the Democrats voting 125 against it.

This vote showed that 29 Democrats, who had originally voted for the bill, hastened to avail themselves of the opportunity afforded by the President's veto to vote against it, thus testifying their real sentiments, while 20 other Democrats, who had dodged the first vote, came up promptly and supported the veto. The dependent pension bill was bitterly opposed by the Democrats, the Republicans putting it through despite the opposition. This bill, as the old soldiers well know, was promptly signed by President Harrison.

Democrats Dislike Veterans.

To sum up, the following gives the total of 14 votes of congress upon the most important of the various pension measures presented since the war, viz: Democrats for the bills, 417; Democrats against the bills, 648; Republicans for the bills, 666; Republicans against the bills, None. The official records of national legislation show that of all the Republican Presidents since the war only one has withheld his signature from any pension bill, and that was General Grant, who was forced to decline to approve five of these bills. The Democrats have been in power for only a few brief years since the war, and their President, Grover Cleveland, vetoed 529 pension bills. The records show that every pension law has been passed by Republican votes, and every pension defeated has been defeated by Democratic votes. Every pension bill vetoed, 529 in number, was vetoed by a Democratic President except five.

Pension Planks in Platforms.

For the past 50 years the Democratic politicians has juggled with the soldier vote and pension question in their platforms. While giving every evidence of being really hostile at heart, they have thrown out bits of political bait from time to time in the hope of cajoling the veterans into voting the Democratic ticket. During all these years the Republican platform has rung as clear as a bell on the pension question, as per this plank in the 1908 platform:

"Another Republican policy which must ever be maintained is that of generous provision for those who have fought the country's battles and for the widows and orphans of those who have fallen. We commend the increase in the widow's pensions made by the present congress and declare for a liberal administration of all pension laws, to the end that the people's gratitude may grow deeper as the memories of the heroic sacrifice grow more sacred with the passing years."

The Democratic platform favors pensioning "the surviving veterans and their dependents because it relieves the country of the necessity of maintaining a large standing army." The patriotism of the veterans is ignored. This platform does not favor pensioning widows and dependents of deceased veterans, only "surviving veterans and their dependents."

The Old Soldier's Friend.

The Republican party has kept its promises. Through its legislation there has been disbursed in the payment of pensions on account of the Civil war to June 30, 1908, $2,533,593,025.95, and there were on the pension rolls on the last date 633,338 veterans of the Civil war and a total of 967,371 pensioners of all ages and classes, and on June 30, 1905, there were approximately on the pension rolls 621,000 surviving veterans.

All the civilized nations of the earth combined have not equaled the United States in liberality in granting pensions, bounties, homesteads and land warrants, providing homes, etc., for war veterans. The appropriation for the present fiscal year for paying pensions is $462,000,000—more than one-fifth of the entire revenue of the government.

No man who was not old enough to be a factor in that great struggle could give his heart and soul more completely to the welfare and well-being of the veterans who fought for liberty and right in the days of '61 to '65 than Mr. Taft. He is the recognized and distinguished friend of the old soldier and is pledged to carry out the Republican policy in a generous manner toward the Grand Army of the Republic. He has never been too busy to see the veteran and listen with sympathetic interest to his just demands. Taft, as President, will be an abiding fast friend to all the survivors of all our wars.
