LOOK INTO LORIMER'S ELECTION

SENATE ADOPTS A RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE INVESTIGATION OF THE CHARGES OF BRIBERY IN THE ILLINOIS SENATORIAL ELECTION.

[UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE.]

Washington, June 20.—The senate today adopted a resolution providing for an investigation of the bribery charges in connection with the election of Senator William Lorimer, of Illinois. The senate committee on elections will investigate the matter during the recess of congress.

Members of the lower house of the Illinois legislature have made the charges, and alleged that they were bribed to vote for Lorimer for senator.

MR. MC ALLISTER HAS RESIGNED

According to Master Fish Warden McAllister who arrived in the city yesterday from San Francisco where he tendered his resignation to Governor Benson, the governor's health is coming back to him rapidly and he will return in the course of three weeks and assume the duties of his office.

Mr. McAllister left the governor Saturday evening. He was then so much improved in health that he was able to take long walks. While his health was much improved his physicians thought it advisable for him to remain a few weeks longer under treatment and then, they say, that he will be able, not only to discharge the duties of his office, but be in better health than he ever was before. According to Mr. McAllister the rumor in political circles that the governor will retire from politics is without foundation and he will be a candidate for the position of secretary of state as he announced some time ago.

Mr. McAllister's resignation will take effect July 1, and he will then assume the management of the Oregon Home Rule Association. Just who will succeed him as master fish warden is a matter which is causing considerable speculation in political circles at the present. It is understood that there are a number of candidates for the place.

CONCRETE PAVEMENT GOING DOWN

There has been some delay in the work of putting down the concrete pavement on Winter street, but Contractor A. Kehrberger has the curbs all in, and is ready to go ahead as fast as the public service corporations get out of the way. Work was begun this morning on the South Commercial street improvement, from the bridge to Mission street. That street will be rushed through with expedition, as the contractor is a rustler. There would be some objection to constructing concrete streets, if the people were not aware of the fact that Mr. Kehrberger, the successful bidder, is a first-class cement worker, and thoroughly understands his business, and has a reputation for doing work according to specifications, and sometimes a little better. In fact before he would do poor work, he would build the first street better than the plans call for. The people on Winter street realize that they will get as good a concrete street as it is possible to build, and there is no disposition to throw any obstacles in the way of laying two of these streets. The Capital Journal believes the people will have a fair chance to try concrete streets, built under the most favorable circumstances and if these two prove a success, there may be demand for more. The experiment is, perhaps, worth making, but the city should go slow in ordering more of these streets before they have thoroughly tested these two.

CAME NEAR DEATH IN ALASKAN

SIX LONGSHOREMEN NEARLY LOST THEIR LIVES TODAY IN AN EFFORT TO REACH THE FIRE IN THE HOLD OF THE VESSEL.

San Diego, Cal., June 20.—Six men, longshoremen and members of the crew of the freighter Alaskan, at the Santa Fe wharf, were near death from asphyxiation today, in an attempt to descend into the hold of the big liner, where hidden flames were eating into tons of valuable merchandise for three days.

After heroic efforts on the part of sailors and city firemen, who risked their own lives, the six unconscious men, who had been overcome by poisonous gases, were brought up through the hatchway. On deck five were revived, but one was in a very precarious condition, and he was taken to the Hearn sanitarium, where his condition is said to be dangerous. When the hatches were opened today smoke began pouring from the hatchways in great volumes, although no fire could be seen.

The hatches were at once battened down again, and an effort was made to fill the hold with chemicals, through holes drilled through the sides of the ship.

Through these holes the flames were visible and the heat was intense. Another effort may be made to open the hatches tomorrow.

This morning 15 more tons of merchandise was removed from the upper hold. Seventy-five tons have been removed in all, but in the one hold, where the fire is burning, there are 2500 tons of cargo.

The cargo is worth $2,000,00, and it is all imperiled. The ship is valued at $700,000. The vessel is the property of the American-Hawaiian line, and much of the cargo is for San Francisco, Seattle and Honolulu.

She was due to sail yesterday for the north.

arrangements for bringing suit against Jeff, and it is said the papers will be served either this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Jeffries' exhibition at Santa Cruz yesterday afternoon was an unsatisfactory affair, the big man being in bad frame of mind as the result of the talk of a damage suit. He boxed two easy rounds with Corbett and three with Choynski, beside doing a little rope skipping, and other gymnasium stunts. Corbett was given a great reception and was forced to make a speech.

The work of packing up continued today and by nightfall all will be in readiness for the get-away. Jeffries has not made up his mind whether to remain in San Francisco Tuesday night and take the train for Nevada Wednesday morning or to start East Tuesday night.

Rowardennan, Calif., June 20.—Jeffries will break camp here tonight and leave tomorrow at 1 o'clock for Reno. He will go at once to Moana Springs, where he will establish training quarters.

MC GRAW NEAR DEATH'S DOOR

Seattle, Wash., June 20.—Ex-Governor John H. McGraw is fighting a valiant battle against death today. our times in the last three weeks his physicians have given up hope, and on each occasion the patient has rallied and lived.

"Mr. McGraw's condition is much the same," a nurse told callers at the house today. "The constant hiccoughing, which was taxing his strength has stopped today. The doctors have small hopes for his ultimate recovery."

McGraw rose from policeman to ward boss, from ward boss to sheriff and then to district leader, and finally to the governor's chair. Since 1891 he has been a prominent figure in republican politics.

SAYS HER TEMPER MADE HIM WEARY

JOHN LEARY FINDS THAT "ALL THAT GLISTENS IS NOT GOLD" AND THAT MARRIED LIFE HAS THORNS AMONG ITS PLENTITUDE OF ROSES.

After having been married for almost 30 years and having sailed along happily on the matrimonial sea until eight years ago when the husband left the wife, John Leary has decided that he wants a legal separation from his wife, and Saturday afternoon filed a complaint with the clerk of the circuit court asking for a divorce on the ground of cruel and inhuman treatment.

Destroyed His Peace of Mind.

Mr. and Mrs. John Leary were married in Mercer county, Illinois, on July 3, 1880, and there were born to them three children—two girls and a boy, who is now about nine years of age. Life seems to have flowed on like a gladsome song until in December, 1902, when the wife seems to have developed an ungovernable temper, or so the testimony shows, and the husband says that he was unable to bear up under the indignities heaped on him and he left. As an illustration of the indignities, he cites that upon one occasion she said she "wished he was dead"; upon another called him "a damned old devil," and still upon another said "she would rather eat crumbs from her father's table than the best that he could provide." They also quarreled about the girls attending the Sisters' school and upon a few other minor questions, but all of which to the mind of the husband constitutes cruel and inhuman treatment and in his old age he wants a decree of divorce.
