

VESUVIUS IS AGAIN BEHAVING

GANGS OF MEN ARE EMPLOYED IN BURYING BODIES AND CARCASSES OF ANIMALS AND PEASANTS ARE ASSISTING.

[UNITED PRESS LEARNED WIRE.] Naples, Oct. 27.—King Victor Emmanuel inspected the relief work undertaken by the authorities in the provinces of Naples and Salerno, where homeless and hungry victims of Wednesday's volcanic eruption...

The king, accompanied by the minister of public works, by several admirals and minor officials, visited Cetara and other places on the Gulf of Salerno. The greetings given him by the sufferers were pathetic. Inspired by the presence of the king, refugees from the mountain towns who have hitherto refused to take part in the relief work, volunteered their services and aided the authorities in distributing the supplies that have arrived at Naples from Rome for the succor of the distressed.

Gangs of men today were employed at Casa Miccola in burying bodies of sailors drowned while the storm raged. The carcasses of animals were collected in great heaps along the shore and burned. Scientists from the observatory on Mount Vesuvius returned to their quarters today following the disturbances within the volcano which had caused them to leave their post. They reported that the river of lava which had descended the slope of the mountain in the vicinity of the observatory had not destroyed any portion of the building and that the instruments were intact.

The work of the local authorities is praised by the minister of the interior and it is probable that the government will confine its further efforts to aiding the distress, to appropriating money to build homes for those whose houses were destroyed and reimbursing the farmers whose crops, orchards and vineyards were wiped out by the mud and lava.

The warships in the bay of Naples withdrew their marines today and the civil authorities again took up the work of policing the city. It is probable that the "flying squadron" of relief will be broken up tonight and the yessels returned to their stations.

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I had contracted a bad cold and was nearly sick in bed, having a terrible headache and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me. I shall always recommend Foley's Honey and Tar. Red Cross Pharmacy (H. Jorman).

Farm Bargain

228 acres of exceptionally fine grain and fruit land located 2 1/2 miles from Brooks, and close to station on electric line. There are no buildings to speak of but the soil is the equal of any in the valley. It is so situated that it can be subdivided if desired and will sell readily in small tracts at a much higher price. We can sell this place for $100 per acre; $5,000 to $10,000 down and the balance to suit. If you want a real fine place, let us show you this one.
