MUST STAND BY THE APPROPRIATION.

FRIENDS of the University of Oregon are already making a canvass of the state in the interest of the appropriation that has been held up, and will be up for ratification or rejection by the voters in November.

THOSE SUITS AGAINST THE PRISON BOARD.

FOR a number of years there has been a question as to the use of what is known as the "revolving fund" of the state prison.

In a second letter to the attorney general the governor shows the expenditures from the "revolving fund" during the ten year period ending December 31, 1912.

In a third letter the governor told the attorney general that he did not expect him to confine his investigations to any one period but to cover them all.

It is not claimed that any money has been misappropriated at any time; the only question being whether the board exceeded its jurisdiction and powers.

SOUND AS WELL AS JUDICIAL.

THE TELEGRAM endorsing the position taken by Judge Galloway on referendum petitions, also very ably voices the general demand for sound, safe guardianship of the law.

of Circuit Judge Galloway of Salem, and this same judicial officer entertains certain other opinions respecting the working of the referendum law in general that ought to be seriously considered.

Judge Galloway notes that in the petition to invoke the referendum on the workman's compensation act, most of the names appearing on that document were secured in two counties of the state—Multnomah and Clackamas.

Ever since the last state election there has been more or less discussion concerning the necessity of amending the referendum law.

The practice of soliciting signatures for the various petitions that put in an appearance just before election time is one that should be a target for amendment, and this suggestion of Judge Galloway that the demand for submission should be state-wide and certified as to the legality of the signatures is also essential to the proper working of the referendum law in accordance with its original spirit.

THIS MEANS "MOTHER"

HERE is a bit of homely wisdom, none the less wise because it originated behind prison bars. It is from "Lend a Hand," the Oregon prison paper:

There is a class of laborers who never strike and seldom complain. They are up at 5 o'clock in the morning and never go to bed until 10 at night.

THE ROUND-UP.

John Anderson Stanton, a pioneer of 1852 died at Mount Angel, August 30, aged 80. He and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary the day before his death.

THE STATE FOOD COMMISSIONER HAS DECLARED WAR ON "THE DIRTY BACK ROOM" and will begin his campaign in Portland.

WEDNESDAY 70,000 YOUNG STEELHEAD AND RAINBOW TROUT WERE TURNED LOOSE BY THE STATE IN THE WATERS AT THE FOOT OF Mt. Hood, in the Hood River section.

Condon is rushing the work on a lot of new buildings for the county fair to be held there Oct. 1, 2, and 3.

N. E. TURNBULL DIED AT VALE MONDAY NIGHT FROM SELF INFLICTED WOUNDS.

He had slashed his throat at his home in Benham, and was taken to Vale for medical attention but nothing could be done for him.

THE BIG SAWMILL RECENTLY DESTROYED BY FIRE AT DEE, IN HOOD RIVER VALLEY IS ABOUT REBUILT AND WILL SOON BE TURNING OUT LUMBER AGAIN.

THE MORNING DEMOCRAT OF BAKER HANDS THE FOLLOWING BOUTIQUE TO A FORTUNATE COMMUNITY: "EAGLE VALLEY IS CERTAINLY THE LAND OF FINE FRUIT, VEGETABLES, ALFALFA AND SLEEK CATTLE. ITS PEOPLE ARE OPEN HANDED, GENEROUS AND HOSPITABLE, AND A VISIT THERE IS THE JOY OF ONE'S LIFE."

WE ARE TOLD BY THE FOSSIL JOURNAL THAT MASON MYERS WAS OUT HUNTING IN A PASTURE ON THIRTYMILE WHEN HE SAW WHAT HE TOOK TO BE THE HEAD OF AN OWL, HALF WAY UP A BIG PINE TREE.

HE WAS SPRAYED WITH HIS SHOT GUN, AND WAS BLAZED TO SEE A YOUNG COUGAR, ABOUT FIVE FEET LONG, COME TUMBLING DOWN AND DROP DEAD AT HIS FEET.
