

Still Selling Suits at Ridiculous Prices

Another big rack of Women's and Misses' Suits---were regularly priced up to $48.50. Special, your choice $10

A general clearance in the Ready-to-Wear section. These are real bargains; every suit desirable, though some of them are a season old. They must move on, so here's a wonderful value for those who will buy. Don't judge by the price---we ask you to see the suits before you decide.

YOUR CHOICE OF ANY SUIT AT

One-half regular price

Every suit must be sold---we want to be rid of them now, and profit is entirely overlooked in our effort to clear the decks for holiday time. The suits are of brocaded wool poplin, serge, ratine, brocades, etc., and are in the popular colors of navy blue, brown, Copenhagen, Russian green, mahogany, terra cotta, taupe, etc. Beautifully made and finished---every one a worthy garment and well worth its regular price. Surely you can afford two suits at these prices. See the suits and you'll be convinced of the unusualness of this offering.

Police Officer Flake Saturday afternoon picked up John B. Barber, a deserter from the United States army. Barber was given a bed in the city jail last Friday and was told to get out of town the next morning, which he failed to do, and the authorities rounded him up. After being questioned by Officer Flake, Barber confessed that he was a deserter from the army and said that he was tired of being chased from place to place by the officers. Officer Flake took Barber to Vancouver and received the usual $50 reward for the return of the deserter.

The wet weather is here. You noticed it yesterday. Probably out without rubbers---wet feet---perhaps a cold today. Why not be on the safe side and use "Wohfoot." A few applications---a waterproof shoe. Ask F. E. Shafer, the saddle and harness man, for a demonstration. See him at 157 South Commercial street.

After visiting for two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Ed. Lafountain, of this city, Frank Lafountain left yesterday for his home in Nassau, Minn.

Circuit Judge Kelly has denied a motion for a new trial by G. B. Traak and J. D. Densmore and William Petzef, administrators of the estate of the late Joe Petzel. The plaintiffs were suing the Oregon Electric Co. for damages.

Lee W. Acheson, the local sewer contractor, reports that he has just completed an extensive contract in the town of Woodburn. With street paving, sewer construction and other work, Mr. Acheson has been busy in Woodburn for the past eight months.
