THE PEACH GROWERS POOL THEIR INTERESTS

The owners of peach orchards met at the Salem Fruit Union yesterday afternoon and decided to pool their interests in disposing of their crops this year. The crop will be shipped in carload lots, the cars to be moved by the Salem Fruit Union under the direction of the North Pacific Distributing company. The reason for the new move on the part of the Salem peach growers is that with the large crop this year and the many new orchards now beginning to bear the local markets will be swamped with the first fruit of the season.

In order to insure stable prices and results, the growers were convinced that the proper method to pursue would be to seek foreign markets and not depend upon those at home. With the present facilities for shipping green fruit as indicated by the loganberry season, the local growers believe they can market their peach crop out of this county to a good advantage.

Contracts were drawn up by the growers, in which they agreed to pool their crop and each man present promised to do all in his power to influence his neighbors to join the pool. Those present at yesterday's meeting were:

A. M. LaFollette, C. LaFollette, W. Martin, G. Weeks, S. Jones, W. Egan, the Farrar & Cutlin representative, Hauser Bros., W. Steg, J. Clark, C. Malbeoff, Inspector Campbell of the distributing concern in Portland, G. W. Gibson, H. Crawford, T. L. Davidson, M. Reedy, J. Imah, M. Martin, P. Magness and S. Sims. Mrs. Louis Luemann appeared in the interest of her husband, who is now in Europe.

SOME BOOKS THAT THE CAMP-FIRE GIRLS LIKE

Camp-Fire Girls are not as well known as Boy Scouts; fewer books are written specially about them. There are books of outdoor life however, that they like. The library already contains the following:

- Baird—American girl's handy book.
- Camp-fire girls, 1913.
- Harper's handy book for girls.
- Thurston—The torch bearer, a story of some camp-fire girls.
- Baldwin—The popular girl.
- Elliott—S. W. F. club.
- Haines—Luck of the Dudley Gramme.
- Hill—Athletics and outdoor sports for women.
- Marks—Vacation camping for girls.
- Montgomery—Anne of Green Gables.
- Rankin—Girls of Gardenville.
- Richards—Florence Nightingale.
- Ward—Gypsy Boynton.
- Wiggin—Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm.

A CLERICAL ERROR ONLY SIX MONTHS FOR ONE

That a clerical error or a legislative oversight is responsible for an apparent contradiction in the tax laws was the opinion of Attorney General Crawford written at the request of the state tax commission today. Chapter 301 of the law of 1907 says that a notice of delinquency shall be published by the tax collector in some weekly paper for four times after the taxes have been delinquent for four months and that after two months more a certificate of delinquency shall be issued and the sheriff shall proceed to collect by the usual means. The other sections of the law read six months, making the dates harmonize.

However, in passing a law making the treasurer of the county the tax collector instead of the sheriff, section 184 of the law passed by the legislature read "any day after the expiration of one month (instead of six months) after the taxes are delinquent the sheriff shall collect, etc." Mr. Crawford holds that the one month is in error and should read six months in order that there should be no discrepancy in the provisions of the rest of the law.

A suit to foreclose a mortgage was brought in the circuit court today by Eugene P. Flynn and Eva R. Flynn against Horace W. Thielsen and others. The complaint alleges that there is $5350 and interest due on a $5000 mortgage. A further sum of $500 for attorney's fees and costs of suit is asked.

The dog days begun yesterday and today a number of peevish canines were to be seen on the street trying to look pleasant through the bars of a wire muzzle. Most of them had given up the idea of attempting to scratch it off though occasionally one took advantage of a projecting corner to try to rub the offending bark basket from his nose.

The Southern Pacific company has just finished a well at the depot grounds 200 feet and 12 inches in diameter. The well was drilled through 100 feet of bedrock before water was struck, which came within a few feet of the top of the ground. An iron casing was driven through the soil down to the top of the bed rock shutting out all surface water. The well will furnish water for all purposes around the depot grounds. A gasoline pump throwing 450 gallons per minute was tried out on the well but was unable to reduce the water level more than a few feet. It is said that five such wells would supply plenty of water for the entire city of Salem.

Graber Brothers have an interesting tropical plant growing in their plumbing shop on Liberty street. The plant comes from South America, and has the euphonious title "Philodendron," which is called "Broad Plant" for short. It has reached a height of 4 feet, not as high as it would have grown in its native Africa, but it presents the idea of immensity. Oddly enough it grows up into the air and then back again into its pot of earth, strange looking round roots spring from the branches high and low and then bend back regrowing in the pot of earth. The leaves are as large as elephant ears and remain a pretty solid green color. Salem may well be proud of a number of plants and gardens which are of interest to the botanist.

WHITE SLAVERS ARRESTED.
Ontario, Cal., July 16.—A. E. Hensen and H. R. Horn, of Toronto, Ont., were arrested here today by representatives of the United States district attorney's office and will be taken to Los Angeles tonight, where warrants will be issued charging them with violating the Mann white slave law.

The men came here recently with Mrs. Harriet Willets, who had disappeared from her home at Toronto, and whose husband, Alfred Willets, canceled the arrests. According to the police, Mrs. Willets admitted that she had run away with Hensen but denied any guilt on the part of Horn.

NOTHING IN BOALT STORY.
Washington, July 16.—The navy board of inquiry which investigated the charge by Correspondent Frederick L. Boat of the Newspaper Enterprise association, that Essig William Richardson, U. S. N., had practiced the "law of flight" at the capture of Vera Cruz, has found the accusation unfounded, according to a message received at the navy department today from Admiral Badger.

HOW TO MAKE FIRELESS COOKERS FOR 10 CENTS

In the August Woman's Home Companion appears a part of a page containing descriptions of homemade fireless cookers. Those foods which can best be prepared in fireless cookers are soups, cereals and stewed fruits. A New York City woman describes, as follows, a homemade fireless cooker which can be made at an expense of 10 cents:

"It consists of a twofoot deep tin flour canister—bought at a sale in a five-and-ten cent store—lined with seventy thicknesses of common newspaper, and provided with two clean old wooden blanket ends which are used to wrap around vessels containing the food to be cooked.

"First I cut the newspapers the exact height of the canister, leaving them at their ordinary width; then I lined the canister as smoothly as if the paper has been plaster, putting in one sheet at a time and lapping the ends closely, but not all in the same place, for so much coupling would have made an awkward lump. The last few sheets I braided top and bottom with paper fasteners.

"Then a seventy-fold newspaper mat was made for the bottom of the canister, made to fit accurately, so that the edges left not the tiniest air spaces between them and the linings of the sides. The cover of the canister was fitted in the same way, with the addition of a heavy circle of blotting paper pasted over the newspaper pan and its turned-in-edges glued to the tin rim of the cover. Now the cooker was ready for use.

"I used three small enameled pails for cooking vessels. While washing the breakfast dishes, I set the pails with their prepared contents on the lighted gas range to give them five minutes' start. When placing food in the cooker, one end of a woolen cloth went around the first bucket very snugly, so that it had to be crowded down with force; the other end wrapped the middle bucket just as tightly. The second cloth both wrapped and covered the last bucket."

IOWA REPUBLICANS REFUSE TO INDORE PROHIBITION
Des Moines, July 16.—Prohibition forces lost their battle for the insertion of the prohibition question to a vote of the people at the republican state convention here yesterday. The convention did adopt a plank endorsing the present liquor laws and commending their enforcement.

The "drys" were defeated after a long battle in the resolutions committee, which finally voted unanimously against putting such a plank in the platform. There was no opposition in the convention and the committee report went through without a hitch. No attempt was made to revive the question on the floor of the convention.

A considerable percentage of those who attend church can't tell an hour later what the minister's text was.

REV. PAUL MARION KILLED AT MT. ANGEL

Thrown from his horse last night, Rev. Paul Marion, O. S. B., of Mt. Angel, received injuries from which he died five hours later. He was an excellent horseman and the accident is unaccountable. The news came from Mount Angel this morning where Father Paul held a professor's chair in the Mt. Angel academy. He was ordained four years ago. The young priest leaves many friends in Salem, as he has frequently assisted Rev. A. Moore at St. Joseph. Awaiting the arrival of relatives, the funeral will not be held until Monday from the monastery at Mt. Angel.

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES.

Little Mary had just returned from an afternoon party. "Oh, mamma," she exclaimed, "just think, I had ice cream three times in congregation!"

Small Harold wanted an excuse to remain away from school. "Mamma," he queried, "is there any kind of illness that a fellow doesn't have to take any medicine for?"

"What kind of a present shall I bring you for your birthday?" asked a father of his five-year-old daughter. "Oh," she replied, "bring me some holes for my ears so I can wear earrings."

Little Jack—Mamma, please give me another lump of sugar for my coffee. I dropped the other one.
Mamma—Well, here's another, but where did you drop the first one?
Little Jack—In my coffee.

"Mamma," said small Sadie, one evening, "I know what the stars in the sky are for."
"Well, dear," responded her mother, "what are they for?"
"They are little holes to let the rain through in the daytime and the glory through at night."

GETTING READY TO TRY WOMAN FOR MURDER
Paris, July 16.—Preliminary steps were taken today for the trial of Madame Henriette Caillaux for the murder of Edouard Gaston Calmette of the "Figaro," whom she killed because of attacks on her husband, then minister of finance of France.

President Alban of the Seine assizes ordered that a jury be drawn for the trial. Thirty-seven veniremen responded.

SHOT FROM AMBUSH.

Klamath Falls, Ore., July 16.—Claiming that he was shot from ambush, Rudolph Goetz, aged 12, was in the hospital here today with a finger and thumb torn away and his body and face peppered with shot.
