G. G. Brown, secretary of the state land board, has been notified by District Attorney Stewart that the obnoxious signs on "Jump Off Joe," a rock in the ocean at Newport, will be removed. Mr. Stewart wrote that he had conferred with the agent who placed the signs on the rock and that he had promised to take them down and not put up any more. Complaints were made to the state land board that the advertisements were obnoxious to the residents of the city, and Attorney General Crawford held that the agent had no right to plaster the projection with them. He said the rock belonged to the state and advised that the district attorney proceed against the advertising agent.

In reply to a query of State Insurance Commissioner Ferguson, Attorney General Crawford today said that the law passed at the last session of the legislature providing an appropriation of three-tenths of a mill of the annual proceeds of the University of Oregon repealed the old law giving the university $125,000 annually. He said if any of the appropriation of $125,000 for this year was not used it could be used by the university next year when it begins receiving the appropriation under the new law. The act of 1913 does not repeal an act which appropriates $50,000 annually for the medical department of the university.

Funeral services over the late Rev. Thomas J. Woodcock were held this afternoon from the Central Congregational church, Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock and Rev. George E. Paddock officiating. "Just for Today" was sung by Miss Margaret Hojce, accompanied by Mrs. W. T. East. The pallbearers, members of the clergy, were: Rev. F. C. Butler, of Hubbard; Rev. T. E. Sherman, of Corvallis; Rev. F. Hall Reeves, Howell Prairie; Rev. W. G. Lienkaemper, Prof. E. S. Hammond, Rev. E. T. Porter.

Interment, as requested by the deceased, was in Jason Lee cemetery.

The funeral services of Florence McCall McIntire, wife of Dr. Ross T. McIntire of Independence, were held this morning at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. R. N. Avison officiating. The services were deeply impressive and the floral offerings magnificent. Interment was in City View cemetery.

Sparks falling from the chimney to the roof caused an alarm to be turned in from the residence of J. W. Harber at 1527 Asylum avenue at a little after 11 o'clock this morning. The firemen arrived at the scene and extinguished the blaze on the roof with the chemical. The damage will amount to not more than $5. The signaling whistle blew the alarm as the second division of the fifth ward, but the house happened to be in the sixth ward. The firemen who received the alarm over the phone, however, lost no time in reaching the right place.

The funeral services of Anna B. McAfee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McAfee who live near Chemawa, will be held at the family residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Lawrence of Portland will officiate. Interment will be in the City View cemetery. The death of Miss Anna McAfee came July 22, 1914. She was twenty-two years old. She had been ill since Easter time. Before her illness she worked as head milliner at the Chicago store. Popular among her young friends her death brings sadness to the hearts of the many who knew her.

The Salem commercial club has secured a price of 16 cents each for sign boards and will order a hundred to be placed on the county roads around this city. The sign boards will be well painted and substantial signs in gothic lettering each to bear some appropriate inscription urging tourists to visit the cherry city. A blank will be left for the insertion of the number of miles to Salem. The direction will be given also. Autoists of this city will put up the signboards and each blank will be filled in with the exact mileage to this city according to reliable speedometers. It is the belief of the governors of the commercial club that the sign boards will not only be a good advertisement for the city but will be of great assistance to autoists and others not familiar with the county roads near the city.

SUIT OVER RENT IN THE MARION HOTEL

Trouble Started when Archway Was Closed Because the Town Went Dry--Jury Has the Case.

The action to settle the problem of rent and a lease between the Hotel Marion company and George Waters occupied the greater part of the day in the circuit court. The defense rested at a little after one o'clock this afternoon and the arguments before the jury began. The verdict of the jury is expected at a late hour this afternoon.

This case arose through a controversy over the rent of a pool room in the building. George Waters conducted a poolroom and billiard hall in the room adjacent to the bar room of the hotel. One of the terms of the lease was that an archway between the bar room of the hotel and the pool room should remain open. When the town was voted dry the bar room was closed and as all of the fixtures remained pending the decision of the courts regarding the validity of the election the archway was closed for about three weeks.

When the fixtures were removed the archway was opened but Mr. Waters refused to pay further rent according to the hotel company, and the suit was instituted to collect the rent by the hotel company. The lease was to run until January 1916 and called for $70 monthly.

ASHLAND MAKES STUDY OF WORLD'S HEALTH RESORTS

University of Oregon, Eugene, July 24.--The possibility of creating in the state of Oregon a popular watering place and health resort is being studied by the commercial interests of Ashland, with the help and advice of the Industrial Survey Department of the University of Oregon School of Commerce. The help of the consular service of the United States has been enlisted through the efforts of Directors H. B. Miller, of the School of Commerce, and data, financial statements, analyses of business and advertising policies, and of medical and sanitation attractions are being collected from all the famous watering places in both hemispheres.

"Oregon has no resort of just this kind," says Director Miller, "but it seems that at least one municipality in the state, which has the appropriate natural advantages, should turn its efforts in this direction. What the Ashland people hope to do with the help of this world wide information when it is once gathered, is to go straight toward their purpose with the least hesitation and the least unnecessary expense, the fewest mistakes and the greatest possible celerity and effectiveness. It is to supply this element of certain and exact knowledge that the School of Commerce is cooperating with the City of Ashland."

ROADBED TO MARSHFIELD DONE JANUARY FIRST

Eugene, Ore., July 24.--A completed railroad grade between Eugene and Marshfield will be ready by January 1, according to A. R. Porter, member of the firm of Porter Bros., railroad contractors, who are building the Willamette-Pacific between Eugene and Marshfield. This does not mean that the rails will be laid to Marshfield within this time, but that the roadbed will be ready for rails, and that trains to Coos Bay probably will be running late next year.

Weather and labor conditions have been favorable to pushing the construction this summer. Between 1600 and 2000 men are employed between Coos Bay and the Siuslaw.

BIG MINES BURNING LOSS WILL BE HEAVY

Bisbee, Ariz., July 24.--The enormous Capote and Oversight mines of the Anaconda Copper company in Sonora are burning fiercely today, and heavy financial loss is certain. They took with them rescue apparatus for use in any emergency that might arise. The mines are among the most important of the extensive Greene interests.

Pendleton, Ore., July 24.--A 10-day campaign against alleged sellers of liquor to Indians was completed today by government detectives co-operating with Indian Agent Swartzlander and the local officers. Others are out on bonds, while still others are either in the city or county jail.

CLAFLIN COMPANY MAY PAY IN FULL

New York, July 24.--Creditors of the H. B. Claflin company conferred here today. Prior to their meeting Receiver Martindale and Juillard, in a preliminary statement, estimated the assets of the controlled companies at $52,876,354 and the liabilities at $44,853,253.

"The excess of assets is arrived at before charging the capital stock liability of $9,000,000," the statement said. "Allowing for this liability, there is a deficit of $965,899. In addition to the liability shown on the balance sheet, there is a continuing liability on account of goods valued at $702,183, purchased and laid aside in mills.

"There are other continuing liabilities on account of other goods ordered for future delivery, leases and various other obligations undertaken in the ordinary course of business."

Five hundred Claflin creditors decided to continue the receivership indefinitely. They also congratulated the receivers for untangling matters so quickly.

It was reported this afternoon that more than a million dollars in cash had been turned over to the receivers. The creditors also voted that if a third receiver is necessary to assist the others, he should be appointed immediately. The receivers expressed the belief that it would be unnecessary to borrow money to continue operation of the business.

Attorney O'Brien, Claflin's personal lawyer, read a statement by Claflin today, in which the latter said it was his "paramount wish" that the creditors be paid in full.

"To that end," Mr. O'Brien added, "Mr. Claflin stands ready to transfer all his personal property to the receivers."

In his statement, Claflin said he was not only willing but anxious to take charge of the work of re-organization without salary, and thought his long experience would make him of great value to the concern's creditors. Up to late this afternoon, however, the creditors had not considered his offer.

HUMPHREY STILL HUMPS.

Washington, July 24.--Discussing the Colombian treaty in the house this afternoon, Congressman Humphrey of Washington declared that "the banner of our foreign policy--pay, apologize and surrender"--ought to be stretched from the White House to the state department.

WHOLE FAMILY KILLED.

San Diego, Cal., July 24.--Three persons, supposed to be J. W. Whitney, his wife and their six months old baby of Imperial Valley, were killed this afternoon when their automobile overturned near Lakeside, San Diego county.
